Must Show On Ackert Dismissal

Deckleman Signs Order for Friday

Saugerties Village Board was served Monday with a show cause order returnable at Albany Friday, seeking to nullify the dismissal of the petitioner Ernest R. Ackert, as village clerk and registrar, and the appointment of Shirley Maines as deputy clerk.

The order was signed by Supreme Court Judge William Deckleman and is returnable at Albany Court House at 10 a. m. Friday.

Seeks Nullification

The legal paper in part states the Village Board of Trustees must show cause why an order should not be entered herein nullifying the dismissal of the petitioner, Ernest R. Ackert as registrar and nullifying the appointment of Shirley Maines as deputy clerk of said village, and why the petitioner should not have such other and further relief as may be just, proper and equitable.

The order was served on Mayor William Ziegler yesterday.

The petition for the order states in part that on April 6 the Village Board appointed Shirley Maines as deputy, and that said board has authorized the continuance of William McCormack as deputy registrar, and that the appointment by the Village Board of a deputy village clerk and a deputy registrar is illegal, irregular and a violation of Paragraph 1, Section 43 of the Village Law.

No Reason at First

The petition also states that all acts committed and duties discharged by the alleged deputy village clerk are illegal, null, void and of no effect.

Ackert was not reappointed to the village clerk-treasurer post at the April 6 organizational meeting of the Village Board, and at that time no reason for the board's action was announced.

At the April 27 meeting of the board, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar of vital statistics by unanimous action of the Village Board.

State Audit Quoted

At that time the board issued a statement quoting a 1963 State Board of Audit and Control report indicating a bookkeeping shortage of $1,381.06 over a three-year period.

Ackert on two occasions has asked the state audit bureau for a reevaluation of the audit and each time submitted further information to justify bookkeeping differences between the state audit and his clerk-treasurer's report.

In one of his letters to the chief examiner, Ackert noted that cash recipts in the general fund on the audit report at the end of May 31, were not the same as the village clerk-treasurer's report, and he asked the department to justify the amount posted as total cash receipts.

Prior to the April 27 village

Lipton Hearing Set On Permanent Buses

The Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing here in two weeks on an application by the Urban Transit Corp. for a permanent certificate of public convenience and necessity, it was learned today.

Richard W. Griggs, attorney for Julius Lipton, operator of UTC, which took over the bus franchise serving the city last November, told The Freeman that the hearing was scheduled for Tuesday, May 19 in the Municipal Auditorium. He said the hearing would probably be before PSC Examiner Isadore E. Crade, who also heard the recent application by Urban Transit for extension of its service from the city to the Town of Ulster.

To Stay in Business

Griggs confirmed that the UTC application for a "permanent" certificate means that the company plans to maintain the franchise and provide bus service to the city, and possibly the Town of Ulster, "indefinitely." Shortly after the Kingston City Transportation Corp. requested and was granted dissolution of its bus service franchise, Urban Transit filed an application with the PSC for a temporary certificate to maintain the franchise.

Griggs said the certificate, which was granted on a six-month basis, expired on May 1 and it was necessary to apply for an extension. However, instead of applying for another six-month extension, the firm applied for a permanent certificate.

Awaiting Answer

Meanwhile, Griggs said, UTC was awaiting a ruling from Examiner Crade on Urban Transit's hearing last April 7 on the bus firm's application to extend its service from the city limits to a new route along Albany Avenue Extension into the Town of Ulster at Boice's Lane.

Crade reserved decision pending the filing of Urban Transit's financial records for 1963 and a map showing existing bus routes and the proposed route to be used by UTC. Griggs said those papers have been filed and he expected to receive a ruling shortly from the PSC.

Other Line Opposes

Officials of Mountain View Coach Lines Inc., which maintains service on a portion of the proposed extended route into the Town of Ulster, appeared at the April 7 hearing to oppose the application of Urban Transit for the route extension. However, Mountain View did not request a second hearing on the application, to which it was entitled under law.

Lipton also operates Lipton's Bee Line, which provides service to points between Kingston and Saugerties.

Griggs said that if the extension route is granted into Ulster, the company will provide transfers to and from any routes between the city and the township. Central Broadway will be the focal point in the extended route operation, he said.

French Are Blocking Tariff Cut

Fear 50 PC Slash And Competition

GENEVA (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's France today was blocking a move to declare a 50 per cent cut in tariffs as the official goal of the Kennedy Round negotiations to break down international trade barriers.

This is the maximum cut that can be made under the U.S. Trade Expansion Act put through by President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

France is unwilling to pledge itself to this figure even though it is a goal that the 75 nations in the talks are unlikely to achieve.

Fear Competition

Some French industrialists fear a sharp lowering of tariffs will expose them to competition they can't meet.

Preliminary work on the Kennedy Round has been in progress for more than a year. The talks opened officially Monday with speeches by representatives of the leading countries involved including former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, President Johnson's chief negotiator.

Valery Giscard d'Estaing, De Gaulle's minister of finance and economics, also was present. Authoritative sources said he was the key figure in meetings of the representatives of the European Common Market, which includes West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg as well as France.

The Two Giants

The Common Market and the United States are the two giants of the Kennedy Round. Its success depends on agreement between them.

Leading figures at the session agreed that little or nothing could be done in the two or three days of top-level meetings this week.

It will be at least a year, and probably more, before the Kennedy Round produces any binding agreements.

But there is strong hope that this meeting will result in at least a statement of the 50 per cent goal. There also is expectation that Sept. 10 will be set as the deadline for submitting lists of exceptions—items on which participating countries will not accept across-the-board tariff cuts but will insist on negotiating separately.

At closed meetings of the Common Market countries that lasted late into the night, authoritative sources said the French held out against both these points.

Decision Is Reserved On God Out of Pledge

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals has reserved decision on a request that it eliminate the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag which is recited daily in public schools throughout the state.

Representatives of the Freethinkers of America argued before the state's highest court Monday that the presence of the words "under God" in a public school exercise violated the U. S. Constitution's mandate for separation of church and state.

The Education Department said the pledge was a patriotic exercise and its basic character was not altered by the addition of the two words in 1954.

Joseph Lewis, president, and Alfred Klein, a member of the Freethinkers of America, argued that recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court against religious activity in public schools required the court to grant their request.

The case grew out of a 1954 act of Congress in which the disputed words were inserted to make the pledge read "...one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

The Education Department then revised the recommended pledge for New York's public schools and made it conform with the federal pledge.

Lewis and Klein opened their court battle in 1956. They lost in both State Supreme Court and in the Appellate Division for the Third Judicial Department.

They held that the phrase "under God" violated the federal and state constitutions "by infringing on the fundamental principle of separation of church and state through teachings that constitute the inculcation of a purely religious concept."

Insertion of the challenged words, they contended, was interference with "the freedom of those children and their parents who deem it proper not to believe in or worship any God."

John P. Jehu, representing the Education Department, said the Freethinkers were "asking for the impossible" — trying to keep their children from all contact with the fact that most people believe in God and religion.

Transport Explodes On Takeoff

Rule Out Enemy Fire as Cause

TAN HIEP, South Viet Nam (AP)—A big U.S. Army Caribou transport plane burst into flames a few seconds after taking off today and crashed south of Saigon. It was the worst American military air disaster in Viet Nam.

All 15 persons aboard — nine Americans and six Vietnamese military personnel—were killled.

The crash occurred 25 miles southwest of Saigon. The plane had taken off from the Tan Hiep military airfield bound for the South Viet Nam capital.

Two American helicopters arrived at the scene two minutes after the crash. Others from Tan Hiep followed quickly. It was too late to help those aboard the plane.

Eight Thrown From Wreckage

Eight bodies were thrown from the blazing wreckage into the rock-hard rice field beside a Vietnamese village. The helicopter crews sprayed the bodies with fire extinguishers and dragged them to the edge of the field.

The other bodies were pulled from the charred wreckage. One of the pilots had to be cut from his seat.

Witnesses at Tan Hiep said the twin-engine Caribou's left engine was smoking as it took off and the smoke thickened as the plane rose. The control tower told the pilot the engine was on fire.

"He seemed to get control of the fire for a moment," a witness said, "and appeared to have feathered his engines, probably with his carbon dioxide containers. The plane seemed to wheel around, got up to about 100 feet and then plunged down over the treeline two miles away with the engine blazing again."

Another American at the field commented: "When you're at that height and trouble happens there is nothing much you can do."

Mechanical Failure Blamed

Viet Cong snipers have shot at planes landing and taking off at Tan Hiep, but American officers at the field said there was no reason to believe Communist bullets had hit the Caribou.

"Apparently it was a mechanical failure," one officer said.

Five American visitors from Clark Air Force Base, in the Philippines, would have been aboard the plane if the pilot had not been impatient to take off.

M. Sgt. James Tucker of Gainesville, Ga., said he and the other four soldiers were racing across the airstrip to get the plane for Saigon. They nearly reached it, but the pilot impatiently waved them away.

The Caribou is a twin-engine, Canadian - made aircraft designed to provide rapid mobility for troops, equipment and supplies in forward battle areas. It can carry 32 fully equipped soldiers.

In Saigon, meanwhile, Vietnamese taxi drivers threatened a "drive on" against the U.S. Embassy because of the fatal shooting of two Vietnamese taxi

Asian Book Fanning China-Peking Fight

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A Chinese-inspired book circulating in Asia levels sensational charges against Soviet Premier Khrushchev and illuminates the monumental Moscow - Peking battle for domination of revolutionary movements in the underdeveloped world.

Bursting with anti-Khrushchev fury, the book accuses the Soviet leader of such things as plotting against Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba and advocating abandonment of the Communist struggle to take over South Viet Nam and Laos in Southeast Asia.

Real Peking Marks

The charges and documentation could have come only from Peking. With Moscow's latest lament that the Chinese are trying to freeze the Soviet Union out of Asia, indications are that the dispute has gone past the point of no return and that the breaking point is near.

The book was published in Ceylon late last year. It was written in English by Theja Gunaward Hana, a Ceylonese Communist leader who is active in the "Afro-Asian solidarity" movement. Its text indicates it was virtually dictated by the Chinese. The title of the book is Khrushchevism."

Some Accusations

Here are a few of the accusations against Khrushchev:

—That he made a deal with President John F. Kennedy for "20 years of peace" and pledged not to support violent revolutions.

—That he deliberately built up the October 1962 missile crisis to humiliate Fidel Castro so that the Cuban regime would be overthrown in favor of Moscow-trained Communists.

—That he sent agents to Peking to foment trouble between Chinese and Africans, particularly in the university.

—That he plotted the Hungarian uprising in 1956 in a deal with Yugoslav President Tito, only to have it backfire into full-blown revolution.

Revolution Cited

—That he bludgeoned Communist-ruled nations with threats of economic reprisals so they would toe his line. The book said he threatened to boycott the sugar of one nation (obviously Cuba) and that he threatened to expel others from the Communist family, hinting that those threatened were Romania and North Viet Nam or North Korea.

Stirs Central Asia

—That his policies caused rebellion against his rule in Soviet central Asia.

—That the Romanian party accused him of advocating abandonment of collectivization.

—That Khrushchev had to purge Czechoslovak and East German Communist leaders for opposing his line.

—That he bled Red China for repayment of every ruble loaned for the prosecution of the Korean war.

The book, citing little-known documents which must have been supplied by the Red Chinese, goes far back in the history of the Moscow-Peking dispute to portray "flea-bitten Khrushchev" as an "adventurist, opportunist, traitor, manipulator, stage manager — all of which produce the modern revisionist."

Prediction on Romania

The author, once again seeming to echo Peking, predicts that Romania will be the next European Communist nation to

Rumors Fly Again On Cuba Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors are flying once again among Cuban exiles that new efforts will be made soon to topple Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

These reports, increasingly persistent both in Washington and in Miami, say the Castro Communist regime soon may find itself under terrorist and sabotage attacks both from within Cuba and from without.

The exiles say the outside groups will come from areas other than the United States.

Such a move, they explain, would avoid international complications for Washington as well as interference by U.S planes and ships with such raiding parties.

Officials Surprised

U.S. officials appeared surprised when asked about the rumors. They indicated they had no information whatever about any such plans by the exiles, although they said they had read recently a statement by one Cuban exile leader, Manolo Ray, now living in Puerto Rico, that he and other leaders will be fighting inside Cuba by May 20.

Failure in 1961

The only major organized effort to overthrow the Castro government came in April 1961, when Cuban exiles, with U.S. help, failed in a sea and land attack gainst the Castro forces at the Bay of Pigs.

The exiles say a different type operation — much smaller than the Bay of Pigs in some ways, and much larger in others—is being planned.

They indicated the new attempt against Castro would be in the form of persistent sabotage, terrorist and subversion tactics, with no one large group in action, but as many smaller groups functioning as can be organized.

Exile forces have been claiming that despite intensive anti-subversive activity by the Castro government, opposition forces are finding it increasingly possible to infiltrate Cuba.

The anti-Castro groups appar-

Labor Is Urged To Help Hold Wage-Price Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, concerned lest a prosperous economy breed inflation, has urged labor leaders to help hold the wage-price line by adhering to "sensible and fair" government guideposts for wage settlements.

Speaking to 139 union chiefs and their wives at a White House dinner Monday night, Johnson—as he did at a similar gathering of industrialists last week — dangled the carrot of "another tax cut in a few years" if the economy keeps expanding.

Fears Inflation

But he warned: "We surely do not want this promise of progress to be threatened by inflation."

Some of the union leaders already have announced they would ignore the guideposts in negotiations this year and Johnson lectured them on the possible hazards in a growing economy.

"As demand increases and unemployment falls, managers will be tempted to raise prices —in spite of the already high profits and continuing excess capacity — and unions will be tempted to force wages up faster than productivity, in spite of already high wages and continuing excessive unemployment" Johnson said.

He said he knew one side is inclined to blame the other for irresponsibility but he declared: "I do not believe labor or business wants a renewed wage-price spiral any more than Barry Goldwater wants to run on the same ticket with Nelson Rockefeller.

"For such a spiral steals savings—eats away at real wages —bleeds the meager income of our older citizens—gives orders and jobs to foreign competitors —and undermines the soundness of the dollar."

Johnson faced a difficult task

Early Voting Slow, Expected To Get Better

Morning voting in today's elections of the Board of Education, Kingston Consolidated School System, was reported to be "very slow."

A spokesman at School No. 3 said it was typical of past trends and was expected to "pick up" this afternoon and this evening. Another spokesman at Brigham said early voting there also was scattered.

The polls opened at 9 a. m. and will remain open to 9 p. m. in the school system's 18 voting districts. A large turnout of the 3,200 eligible district voters was anticipated.

Four Candidates

Four candidates are seeking three seats on the Board of Education. They are Richard P. Boice and Harold E. Keator, both of Lake Katrine, and Francis Stern-Montagny, of Hurley, who have been endorsed by the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee; and Everette Hodge, Kingston mortician, president of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who has been endorsed by the Ulster County Ministerial and Laymen's Alliance.

Aldermen Meet Tonight

Requests by various local organizations for favorable action in the near future on downtown urban renewal will be filed with the Common Council at its regular May meeting tonight. The meeting starts at 7:30 p. m., and to encourage public attendance, the council began this year with elimination of the long recess of committees. A public hearing on the Broadway East urban renewal project is slated for May 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the council chamber, City Hall, and council action on it is expected to come soon after the hearing.

Big Names Feature 6-State Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—A foray into Indiana by segregationist Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and the presence on Ohio's ballot of the famous names Taft and Glenn headlined primary elections today in six states and the District of Columbia.

In Indiana, Gov. Matthew E. Welsh—a stand-in for President Johnson—sought to blunt the impact of Wallace, who polled 33 per cent of Democratic primary votes in his first Northern bid in Wisconsin last month.

Wallace based his appeal on states rights and opposition to the Johnson administration's civil rights bill. But home-state opposition to a sales tax enacted during Welsh's administration was also expected to play a part in boosting Wallace's total.

In Ohio, Rep. Robert Taft Jr. —son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft—was favored over conservative Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for the Republican senatorial nomination. Taft's House vote for the civil rights measure was strongly opposed by Brown.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Stephen M. Young, 75, faced an uncertain challenge from supporters of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, withdrew last month because of a head injury.

But his name remained on the ballot, and some of his backers, convinced he is the only Democrat who can win in November, hoped to propel him back into the race by surprising Young.

Chief interest in other states centered on a Democratic gubernatorial fight in Florida, a sharp battle for Senate nominations in Oklahoma and the issue of unpledged presidential electors in Alabama.

No contests of national significance were on the ballot in either New Mexico or the District of Columbia.

College Center to Include County as Part of Survey

Public attitudes toward the tax cut, poverty, and world politics will be among topics discussed in the next national survey by The University of Michigan's Survey Research Center (SRC).

Between May 1 and June 8, some 1,500 interviews will be conducted in 350 United States communities. These are located in 36 of the 50 states, plus Washington, D. C. Ulster County will be one of the counties in which the survey will be conducted.

Local interviewers in the survey will be Mrs. Walter Herring and Mrs. Edmund Bower. Both will carry credentials from the university to identify them as duly authorized persons.

The study, one of a series of well-known SRC quarterly surveys, is designed to project an accurate picture of how the American people are getting along and how they feel about current topics.

The Center, a division of the Institute for Social Research, has been conducting such research for 18 years. It maintains a national field staff trained to conduct the interviews.

Among interview topics have been much in the news lately will be: People's attitudes

Negotiations Talk Given Area Teachers

Randolph Siegel, president of the Kingston Teachers Association, met with members and interested persons Monday afternoon at the George Washington School to listen to guest speaker H. David Van Dyck.

Mr. Van Dyck, a field representative of the New York State Teacher's Association, gave an informal presentation on the topic, "Professional Negotiations."

It is interesting to note that the term "collective bargaining" in its most common connotation is not applicable to school systems since labor laws that justify it in industry do not pertain to school employes.

Van Dyck also pointed out that many written agreements to negotiate school policies have been adopted by boards of education in the past few years. However, all agreements are subject to the approval of the board involved under education law.

"The New York State Teachers Association believes that procedures must be established within the education law which promote harmonious and cooperative relationships and provide an orderly method for teachers and boards of education to reach mutually satisfactory agreements" he said.

"To implement this policy we (New York State Teachers Association) have submitted legislation to the 1964 legislature to require school authorities to provide their teachers not alone the right but also the specific opportunity to meet with school authorities, to be heard, and to make recommendations concerning school district policies, and to do this if they wish, through representatives of their own choice."

Van Dyck urged local organ-

Nikita Asks End Of Outside Action In Cyprus Rift

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev called Monday for an end to foreign intervention in Cyprus, saying he was confident the warring Greek and Turkish communities could find ways to live in peace in an independent Cyprus republic.

In an interview with the government paper Izvestia, Khrushchev said:

"We, the Soviet people, sympathize with those who are fighting for independence and sovereignty of the republic of Cyprus. The Soviet government has been and is firmly and consistently opposing all attempts from outside to impose on the Cypriots the terms of the solution of the internal problems of this republic."

Khrushchev made no mention of the U.N. peacekeeping force the U.N. Security Council vote on Cyprus or whether he considered it "foreign interference." The Soviet Union abstained in creating the international force.

14,000 Cubans Flee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—About 14,000 Cubans have fled Fidel Castro's Communist regime in small boats and 1,000 others who took this risky escape route died in the attempt, the Cuban Human Rights Commission says.

Miguel A. Olba Benito, secretary of the commission, told the Cuban Lions Club in exile Sunday that 10,000 refugees have reached freedom since 1962.

Soldiers Beheaded

LONDON (AP)—Two British soldiers killed in a skirmish with Yemeni tribesmen were later beheaded, and their heads were displayed on Poles in the dsert town of Taiz, the Defense Ministry says.

Time Is Seen Running Out For Major Dairy Legislation

by JOSEPH R. COYNE
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time may be running out for passage this year of major dairy legislation designed to bring the milk supply in closer harmony with demand.

Some of the pressure for passage of the so-called two-price plan requested by several New York dairy groups last year definitely has eased, despite President Johnson's call for its approval. The measure is designed to encourage production for fluid consumption and discourage marketing for other purposes.

A bill incorporating the dual pricing structure passed the Senate last Oct. 10. It has been hanging fire since in the House Agriculture Committee. Hearings might be held next month, but two other farm programs—food for peace and sugar—have priority.

A committee aide said there was little pressure on the group for passage of the plan, which would affect the New York-New Jersey and other federal milk marketing areas.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., who represents a large number of dairy farmers, said he had found no indictions that Congress was willing to approve this year the plan he sponsored after conferring with the state's major dairy groups last spring.

He said pressure for the legislation, heavy last year, hasn't been as pronounced this year because milk surpluses aren't as great. This is confirmed by Agriculture Department figures.

Despite any hearings the House committee might hold in June, if Congress adjourns as scheduled before the Republican National Convention in July, the prospects for last-minute passage of such a complex proposal could be slim.

Its chances could brighten, however, if Congress—as it did in 1960—should decide to return to work after one or both of the political conventions.

The proposed legislation would give farmers a comparatively high price for milk they send to market for fluid consumption. A lesser price would be paid for milk sent to market in excess of a dairyman's fluid milk allotment. This excess would be used, as it is now, to manufacture ice cream, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Dairymen now receive what is known as a blend price—an average between the price received by their marketing pool for fluid and manufacturing milk.

The two-price plan, if approved by Congress, could not become effective in any of the federal milk marketing areas unless it was approved by producers in a referendum.

Defeat of the plan in a referendum would not mean defeat of the entire milk marketing order under the Senate-passed bill.

Hollywood News and Views

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The thing about interviewing Michael Parks is that you're not sure whether he's going to answer you or slug you.

That's the impression he gives at first. Later you realize this is an earnest young man who might have something to say.

Who is Michael Parks?

Michael Parks is by his own description "a 10-year overnight success." His looks and talent have convinced the Universal City moguls to give him an all-out push to stardom. He has just finished two starring roles: "Daffy" and "Bus Riley's Back in Town." He's Bus Riley in the latter, playing opposite Ann-Margret and Janet Margolin in a William Inge script.

Mike was born in Corona, Calif., 26 years ago, one of five children of a truck driver. He left home at 15 and did everything from picking peas to upholstering caskets, managing to put in three years of college.

He also picked up seven years of stage experience in theaters from Long Bach to Saeramento.

"These casting guys don't even know those theaters exist," says Mike. "They have better actors than these Sunset Boulevard characters with the fancy haircuts, tight pants, straight noses and capped teeth. They are the only kind the casting people look at."

He speaks from bitter experience. For many months his agent tried to peddle him to the studios with no takers. Parks didn't fit the leading man formula. His hair is blond and wild; his wide-jawed face is freckled. His nose is full and slightly off-center. His teeth are all his own.

Parks managed to land some television roles, but nothing really sparked until he did a part on "Channing" this season. Some important studio people championed his cause. The result: The two starring features and the star-making campaign.

His feelings about the fuss that is being made over him are mixed.

"I like doing features," he said. "I like the attention you can give to a role. It's like doing a play, whereas a television show is like doing a scene, it's over so fast."

What he doesn't like is some of the publicity, especially when stories come out comparing him to his predecessors among the movies' angry young men.

"That's stupidity," he said. "If that's all the better some reporters can come up with, I don't want to see them the second time."

His ambition soars high. "I'd like to do a play in New York, and Inge says he wants to write for me," he says. "I'd like to do a play in London. I'd like to have a repertory company, not only for stage but films, too."

Self-Approval Is Very Essential For Real Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Self-approval is one of the greatest keys to successful living.

To enjoy life more, learn to pat yourself on the back when you deserve it. The chances are you deserve it more often than you realize.

We are all familiar with the big bore who can talk only of his own aims, activities and achievements. If something did not happen to him, he feels it's a waste of time to bring it up. Conversation for him is usually just one long session of bragging.

Such a person is an example of egotism become rampant. He therefore assumes a comic quality, as most exaggerated things do, and we tell ourselves when not in his presence, "I'm glad I'm not like that one. He's really in love with himself."

But there is this to say on his behalf: He may bore others to death, but he won't bore himself to death. He probably will live to a ripe old age, because he has found a sure source of enthusiasm and excitement — himself. And it is through enthusiasm and excitement that we stay young.

There is a worse fate in this world than boring others — and that is to bore ourselves.

Too many of us as we grow older tend to lose our good opinion of ourselves. We let our goals grow rusty, permit our jobs to become ruts, and abandon in ourselves the faith that alone can sustain us.

For others to like us we must first learn self-approbation — to find some basic satisfaction in who we are and what we are trying to do with our lives. It is surprising how many people lose this essential satisfaction and wind up with an actual sense of self-dislike.

Most of the mental and emotional troubles that beset middle-aged or elderly people arise from a loss in them of a feeling that they are worthwhile members of worthwhile groups engaged in worthwhile enterprises.

Time erodes their sense of personal value. Their pursuits come to seem meaningless.

HUMANE SLAUGHTERING

The Freeman has received letters from residents in this area requesting that we remind readers that in Washington and in Albany there are several bills bottled up in committees which are designed to protect animals from the cruelty of man's hand or neglect. Animals that are to be slaughtered, or used in medical experiments, or in science laboratories or in classrooms can be saved from unspeakable pain and torture through proposed Federal and state law.

None of these bills is anti-vivisection legislation. Thousands of people living today would either be dead or suffering intensely from an incurable malady if it were not for our friends—the animals.

The unsung hero of our age has been the animal of science. The phenomenal advances made in surgery and the quality of medical care we are receiving today are in large measure due to the contribution of the animals serving in the army of medicine.

Medical and scientific research must continue for man's health and benefit.

But is it necessary to use cruel practices such as whacking conscious animals on the head, shackling, hoisting and knifing them?

The Citizens League for Animal Welfare of the Capital District, an organization devoted to investigation of all forms of cruelty to animals is seeking passage of legislation to protect science-laboratory animals from neglect, cruelty and abuse.

Saturday members of the League will conduct a march in Albany in the hope they will bring attention to the bills now in committee which would bring a halt to the unnecessary cruelty to laboratory animals.

It is high time that we stopped the needless torture of all animals.

The Defense Department will buy an additional 14 million pounds of American beef for use at overseas bases. That may help to quiet the beefs about beef imports.

Well, shirtsleeve weather's finally coming. Those fellows with theirs already rolled up are doing hot work in the political vineyards.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Homeowners should use the annual spring clean-up, which gets underway about this time every year, to throw out the trash that has accumulated in basements and attics. They also should make repairs that cut the danger of fire.

Three-quarters of all home fires are due to carelessness or forgetfulness on the part of householders who leave old papers, saturated clothing or other trash in cellars and attics.

In the clean-up drive, yards and driveways should not be neglected. This will not only make the property safer but more attractive.

Placing properly packaged rubbish on the sidewalk to be picked up by the city workers will reduce the litter on the streets and generally improve the appearance of the city.

Cooperation by all property owners and tenants is required in an all out clean-up campaign.

Republican leaders urge building a new, sea-level canal across Panama within 25 years. That should provide time for a couple more last-ditch crises.

A SYMBOL OF IDEALS

Echoes of prophecy were in the air the other day at Fulton, Mo., where former President Truman and others broke ground for an imaginative memorial to Sir Winston Churchill. It was at Fulton, early in March 1946, that the great wartime leader of the British made his celebrated "Iron Curtain" speech which has widely come to be considered the opening gun in the cold war.

As is fitting, there are echoes of World War II in the memorial that will rise to honor Sir Winston. The blitz-destroyed remains of London's little church of St. Mary Aldermanbury will be transported to Fulton, and there a reconstruction of the church will become a non-sectarian chapel on the campus of Westminster College.

The project "may symbolize in the eyes of the English-speaking peoples," Churchill has said, "The ideals of Anglo-American association on which rest, now as before, so many of our hopes for peace and the future of mankind." It was well said.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE REPUBLICANS COULD MAKE A CASE

LBJ, it is becoming obvious, is developing a golden touch. Aside from his misadventure with the beagle's ears, which will undoubtedly be served up to him during the campaign by unrelenting dog lovers, everything has been breaking right for him of late. This is particularly true in foreign affairs. Zanzibar, it appears, has not yet become a Red Chinese Cuba off the east coast of Africa. The Brazilians have forehandedly nipped a Castroite take-over of their country that was scheduled for May 1. True enough, all is not well in South Vietnam, but all is not lost, either, and the favorite of the Republican rank and file, Henry Cabot Lodge, is LBJ's captive in Saigon. Finally, the news, from several sources, is that food shortages in Iron Curtain countries will certainly last through another year. This should keep Khrushchev from being too blatantly adventurist.

If the LBJ luck continues to hold on the foreign front, the Republicans may be forced to desert their present campaign strategy, which is to stress overseas reverses, and look for some domestic issues. The trouble here is that the man in the White House has his ways of pouring a mellow golden haze over everything of a domestic nature. He settles the rail strike. He kids the business men—and, with General Motors setting a new three-months' profit record, the busines men lap it up. He tours the poverty belt of Appalachia by air—and who can be against a man who can say such heart-plucking things about the need to eliminate suffering in mountain cabins?

To strike at LBJ, the Republicans must find a way of proving that the blanket concern of the White House for poor folks in general is not going to help any poor person for very long in particular. Or that a Washington broadside about covering the scars caused by strip-mining is not going to fill in any holes in the ground.

The truth, as the Republicans will find it almost impossible to set forth in the six short months that lie ahead, is that many of our localities, whether in Appalachia or elsewhere, have been gaining a great deal of yardage in the battle against poverty and ugliness without asking Washington for the sort of help that must end in higher taxes or in monetary inflation.

Last fall I saw what the State of Ohio was doing to wipe out the defacements caused by strip-mining—and since them I have learned that Ohio is not alone in its efforts along this line. The Peabody Coal Company in Illinois cleans up its own industrial litter by turning stripped areas into beautiful recreation areas. And this coming week-end, in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, they will celebrate the transformation of some strip-mined acres into a golf course.

President Johnson has called for the development of new power projects in Appalachia, reminding the voters that his political experience goes back to the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's TVA. But private industry has already taken the lead in pioneering some mighty power projects in the very regions for which LBJ has shed his most copious tears. The great new 1,600,000-kilowatt Keystone Electric Generating Station, which will be located by a consortium of 18 investor-owned utilities in Indiana, Pennsylvania, will burn some 4,700,000 tons of bituminous coal annually. Almost half of this coal will be supplied by three new mines which are to be opened close to the site. This particular news about new mines didn't have to wait on a Washington campaign against poverty.

The truth is that Appalachia, which does need new industries to bring payrolls to the forks of the creek in West Virginia and East Kentucky, does not lack for electric power anywhere. In the 342 counties studied by the Presidents Appalachian Regional Commission, there are located 11 per cent of total U. S. electric power capacity. This same area accounts for eight per cent of the U. S. labor force. What is needed, obviously, are local industries to tap their share of the electric power that is already at hand.

How to build those industries? This is a complicated matter, involving a thousand things from labor union policies to roads and freight rate, and it won't be done between now and election day. And, in the nature of things, the localities, the states and the individual citizens will have to do most of it for themselves.

Q—Is leukemia a form of cancer? If a person with leukemia were cured would this prevent his getting cancer?

A—Leukemia is considered to be cancer of the blood. In the victims, tumors of the spleen are almost always present. There may also be tumors of the lymph nodes and bone marrow. The newer drugs used to treat this disease may control the growth of the tumors for several years but cannot be considered permanent cures. Whether successful or not, such treatment would have no bearing on the victim's susceptibility to a different form of cancer.

Q—Three years ago at the age of 30 I had a hysterectomy. Since then I have times when I feel crampy and moody just as I used to when I expected my periods. Would the operation have anything to do with these symptoms? Where does the blood go that I normally would have lost with my periods?

A—You have undergone a surgical menopause. This may be partially responsible for your symptoms. The blood you would normally have lost doesn't go anywhere. Menstrual bleeding is a part of the preparation for the renewal of the uterine wall to receive a fertilized ovum. With the uterus removed this is no longer possible.

Q—What are the symptoms of hardening of the arteries of the brain? What can be done about it?

A—Cerebral arteriosclerosis may cause a wide vvariety of symptoms depending on the part of the brain that is damaged. One of the commonest results is what is known as a little stroke. The victim undergoes a change of personality—becomes untidy, noisy or profane where he was formerly neat, quiet and respectful. There is no cure for damage that has already been done but steps can sometimes be taken to check the process. These would include getting more rest, drugs to reduce the abnormally high blood pressure, diet to reduce overweight, cutting out smoking and in carefully selected cases the use of a tranquilizer or drugs to enlarge the smaller blood vessels.

Q—It is harmful to drink coffee that has been reheated? I have heard that this develops some chemical that constricts the blood vessels.

A—Coffee beans are roasted before you buy them so when you make fresh coffee the grounds are reheated. Reheating does no harm but the caffeine in coffee, fresh or reheated, is a mild blood vessel constrictor.

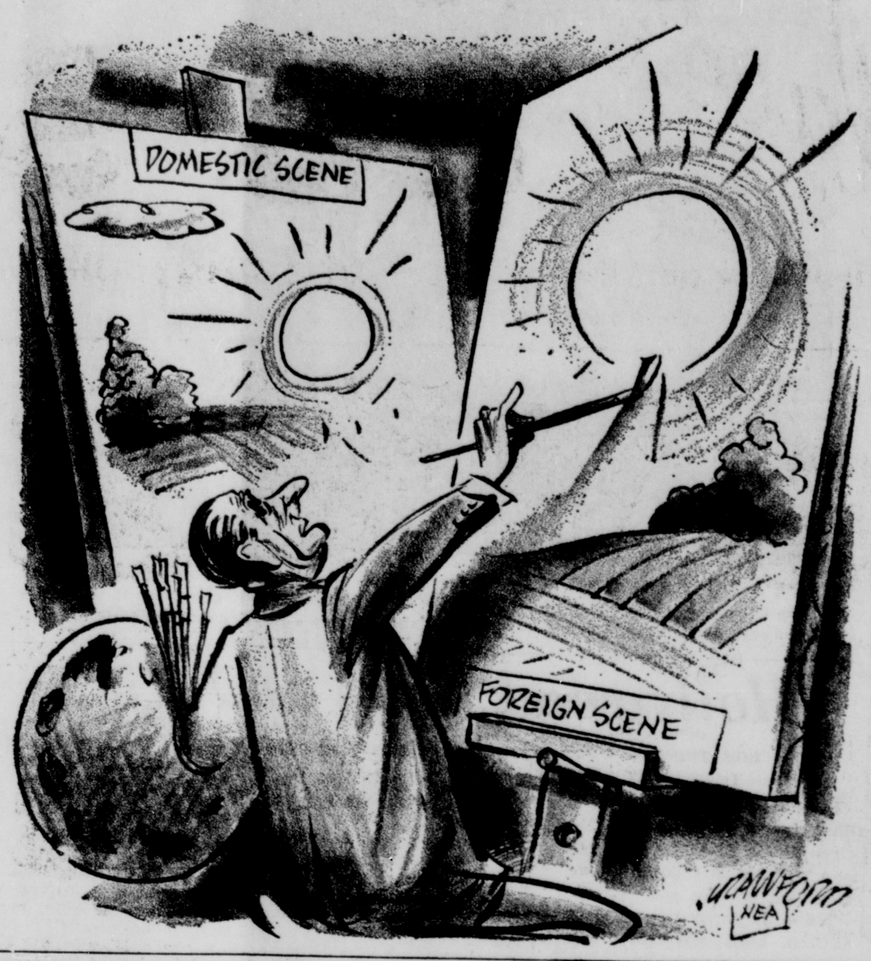
Preparations for the Fall Show



Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin's statement that Bobby Baker had signed his accountant's name to his 1961 income tax return raises the question of how the nation's 150 handwriting experts operate.

"The secret," says a Post Office expert, "is to catch a man in those little idiosyncrasies he doesn't know he has. I don't even know my own after 23 years in the business."

It's where you dot your "i," high above or close, to the right or left, whether your dot is like a dot or like a comma, or whether you dot it at all. It may be the way you cross your "t" with a long dash or short, straight or curved, up or down, high or low.

It's whether you end a word with a sweep, a downstroke or a neat, clipped-off curve. Or it may be how your different letters vary in height. How is the "h" in "have" compared with the "ave"? How high is the "a" compared with the "v" and the "e"?

Does the lower loop of your capital "J" swing into the upper loop or not? Does the bottom circle of your capital "B" meet the vertical line or stop short with a jerk or curl back? How big are the loops in your "l's," "k's," and "b's"?

WHEN YOU WRITE, are your words spaced far apart or crowded close together? Are your "r's" narrow and pointed, flat-topped or topheavy?

How do your letters slant. Do your "a's" look like "a's" or "o's"? Are they open or closed, fat at the bottom or narrow, straight up and down or slanted right or left, looped at the top or precisely drawn? Do your "vs" look like "u's"?

Most of these characteristics stay with a man until he dies. His writing will change temporarily when he's ill. It will change more if he shifts from right-handed writing to left. It will change some with natural aging. But many of his writing quirks will remain.

Experts have successfully checked out right-handed men who tried to disguise their writing by using crude left-handed scrawls. They have identified men from handwriting samples taken 20 years apart.

POST OFFICE ANALYSIS SAY they know no way to tell a man's character from his writing. But they feel pretty confident that given a reasonable amount of a man's handwriting they can tell whether he wrote another man's name on a series of checks.

In actual practice, the Post Office men find they're stumped about 20 per cent of the time. Usually, it's because they can't get enough samples. Sometimes it's because a clever writer is able to disguise his writing.

SO FAR, THE GOVERNMENT MEN have been unable to find two people who write precisely alike. The Post Office Department has been making a study of the writing of 600 twins on the theory that twins are more likely to write alike than any other people. In every case, the experts have been able to tell the writing of one twin from the other.

I was shown photographs of the teen-age writing of each of the Dionne quintuplets. There was no problem in distinguishing between them.

In one famous New York kidnaping case, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents went through approximately 2 million handwriting samples from the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau, federal and state probation offices, schools, aircraft plants and municipal records for writing similar to that in the ransom notes. They found the right man.

A major problem for the experts: juries are sometimes quite suspicious of handwriting testimony.

Smart Politico Knows When To Change Levity to Dignity

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will soon have to decide whether he had better reach out for more of the folksy" vote or try to regain some of the "dignity" vote he may recently have lost. Both Gov. Rockefeller and Sen Goldwater tried "folksy" tactics in the New Hampshire primary, but the dignified and silent Ambassador Lodge far away in Viet Nam won over both of them. Promptly the Arizona Senator announced that he wasn't going to pursue such tactics thereafter and would endeavor to present a different image appealing to the thoughtful citizens.

Many a politician has made the mistake of assuming that the best way to win votes is to do a lot of hand shaking and baby kissing. But this hardly swings the majority. What mainly influences the votes of the people are policies, national or international, that touch them in vital spots, including the pocketbook.

News items on political personalities affect the sensitivity of individual voters differently. It came as a surprise, for instance, to many people the other day that there was such an outcry from dog lovers when the President pulled the ears of his two beagles. The inclination of some was to regard this as a joke, while others said it was the act of a cruel man.

It was very wise of Mr. Johnson, on the other hand, to make his tour in the Appalachian region and to manifest publicly his sympathy with the poverty-stricken. This was not only good politics but the act of a man who is humane and sympathetic.

So it all depends on what "gimmicks" are tried and what maneuvers are likely to be emphasized by the press, despite the casual manner in which they are originally carried out.

Basically however, a vast number of voters, especially women, like to see their President act always in a dignified manner. The late President Kennedy was, almost without exception, dignified in his public appearances, but he, too, perhaps unwittingly, made at least one slip. He was photographed by the press as he appeared in bathing trunks on the sands of a California beach while a lot of young women crowded around him to shake hands. This led to a good deal of critical comment, not because it was in any sense an improper scene but because many people do not like to see the President of the United States in such informal garb and surroundings.

President Johnson can be dignified when he wishes to be. In almost all of his speeches, he has been shown delivering his remarks in a mood of sedate and quiet dignity. But when people also see in the newspapers photographs of a President pulling the ears of a dog or strolling around among tourists on the White House grounds, an impression is created among some voters that the President isn't as dignified as he ought to be or that he is sacrificing time he should be spending on the all-important tasks of the Presidency.

Indeed, there are persons who used to disapprove when President Eisenhower played golf. They didn't object to the exercise itself. But they wondered if he shouldn't have been more at his desk, pondering matters of state. There was a tendency at the time, even in the press, to imply that Gen. Eisenhower wasn't working as seriously at his job as he should mave been doing. The impression was largely built up because of frequent references in the press together with pictures of Gen. Eisenhower on golf courses. Reiteration of an unfavorable point sometimes produces a lasting prejudice.

In some respects it seems unfair that Presidents can't "do what comes naturally," but somehow not all of the voters are as fully informed as they ought to be. They didn't know, for example, the Mr. Eisenhower sometimes worked late and regularly got to his office around 7:30 in the morning to study his paper[illegible]nd documents and messa[illegible]n abroad. Nor do the vo[illegible] may be critical realize President Johnson also wo[illegible]ate and gets up early in the morning to spend a lot of time at his desk or on the telephone. He is really a hard-working President.

But much of this concept of a President's fidelity to his job can suddenly be erased if an image is created that he is perhaps lacking in dignity. The American people are instinctively monarchical—perhaps it is a throwback to ancestral days. They like to see their President functioning almost with a kind of royal demeanor. They are delighted, of course, to see every now and then evidences of his compassion and humaneness, but it's the repeated adventures in what appear to be "folksy" stunts — practiced just a few months before an election —that do not go over so well. A smart politician is one who knows when to turn off the levity and turn on the dignity.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The trend of 1964 is all for the new shopping centers, with the little private stores bowing out. Years ago, folks shopped in their neighborhood stores, and did their special shopping in the main shopping block, which was usually reached by a trolley car. Today the automobile has changed everything, came the parking meters to which most drivers do not take to kindly, and from which somehow grew the tremendous shopping centers, with large free parking areas. What the trend will be tomorrow no one knows, but presently on a nice day, you can meet your friends at the shopping centers I meet school friends, I have not seen for years, folks from all parts of Ulster County are seen at these centers, where one can buy most everything, from freshly baked pies before your eyes, or meats and chickens browning in glass broilers. You can dip for large pickles, to suit your taste, or have sliced all sorts of meats the way you like it.

Riding through the uptown section of Kingston and on Broadway, one realizes how many empty stores there are, and somehow also the many for rent signs on houses, and the for sale signs. Housing projects are being created near and around Kingston, and it seems they are being taken as soon as completed, where the car can go, there the folks go. I see folks stopping to buy rose bushes and little trees, showing they have a piece of land and want to have a garden and some shade. Perhaps for some it means the first time they had a little land of their own, for others, who have spent their childhood and early life in an apartment it means getting outdoors. I wonder what this will all mean to Kingston proper, with folks all looking for a little place in the country.

I met Frank and Grace Bartroff of 18 East St. James Street at the Kingston Plaza Shopping area, and they told me how nice it was since the traffic circle was built and they have such a fine view and open spaces toward the circle. Mrs. Bartroff told me about her grandfather, Alexander Schaeffer who had a harness shop on North Front Street many years ago. I found F. A. Schaeffer, harnessmaker in my 1872-3 Kingston City Directory, given to me by Tom Walsh of the Boulevard. In 1872, Mr. Schaeffer lived on John Street near Wall Street. Alexander Schaeffer was also Mary A. Schaeffer's grandfather. Mary or Molly as many call her, was our Kingston City Librarian for many years. I was always happy to visit with Miss Schaeffer at the library, and she was always very helpful, if I was looking for some book. We have often talked over the phone, and when we meet uptown, we have many views in common about Kingston and life in general.

I met Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frohlich and their daughter. For many years Mr. Frohlich was behind the post office window uptown. Everyone knew him and he knew everyone. His hobby was photography. Strange as it may seem, meeting in these most modern buildings, what do we talk about when we meet, why the good old days in Kingston. The mention of Kingston Point Park, with its summer trolley cars, and the beautiful kept park, flowers and flowering trees, the Dayline boats, and the Sunday picnics. The excursion boats up or down the river, which carried several thousand people, and we met as we do today to talk about old times. People do go there for bargains, but also to go some place, and the meeting of friends is accidental but very enjoyable, and so every season and every year brings new trends to our little Colonial city of Kingston.

Today's Business Mirror

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The business upturn has entered its 39th month with few if any signs of weakening.

This makes it the longest upturn in American peacetime history.

The average duration of the 26 previous cyclical recoveries since 1854 was 30 months.

At this advanced stage, business men are continuing to raise their sights on investment plans even though the stimulus from the March tax cut is not yet clearly evident, reports the First National City Bank of New York in its current monthly economic analysis.

"Confidence in the outlook has been bolstered by the improving trend of business profits and the unexpectedly peaceful settlement of the thorny railway labor dispute, which added to hopes that moderation and good sense may prevail in other labor negotiations this year," the report said.

Earlier, business firms had been increasing their capital budgets. The latest survey by the publishing firm, McGraw-Hill, indicated that business plans to spend $44 billion this year, a gain of 12 per cent over 1963.

With the tax cut in effect only eight weeks, those who expected a sharp gain in consumer spending have been disappointed.

However, First National points out, economic performance in the first quarter as a whole could scarcely be called disappointing.

The Gross National Product—total of all goods and services—climbed to an annual rate of $608.5 billion, up $8.4 billion from the preceding quarter.

While the GNP rose more than this in the final two quarters of 1963, the bank finds it significant that $8.1 billion of the increase in the first quarter was concentrated in consumer expenditures, reflecting unusually strong demand which probably will characterize the second quarter also.

The first quarter gain in consumer spending was nearly double the average quarterly gain last year.

Area Plant Reopens, Expects Full Operation

Metallurgical Resources Inc., the Orange County industrial plant hit by a disastrous fire in February 1963, has reopened and hopes, within six months to a year, to be producing a full line of zinc chemicals in its New Windsor plant, it was announced this week.

By "re-orienting" some of the machinery salvage from the plant in its previous operation, and with the addition of several thousands of dollars worth of additional equipment, Metallurgical is said to be presently equipped to produce 18 tons of zinc chloride a day.

Russell J. Roberts, plant manager, said that the present force of 17—including office personnel—may be doubled when expansion of the present line is accomplished.

Only highly trained personnel will be utilized, however, and these probably will have to be brought in from outside, the manager said.

Associated with Metallurgical for process design is Chemetals Inc. of New York City. Chemetals' sales division is also handling sales for Metallurgical.

A former tie-in with Techmanix Corp. has been terminated, officials said.

The work of converting the New Windsor installation to carry out its present assignment was accomplished with local labor and contractors, the manager said.

Report on China Debts

LONDON (AP) — Communist China says it will be free of all debt to the Soviet Union by the end of next year.

Chen Yi, deputy premier and foreign minister, made the statement in a talk with British correspondents. He said that all other foreign debts would be repaid by 1967 and all internal government debts the following year.

Florida Paper, Gannett Chain Also Honored

Pulitizers Awarded for Exposes Of Corruption, Coverage of JFK

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1964 Pulitzer Prizes in journalism have been won for newspaper exposes of fraud and corruption, the story of success in solving racial problems, the coverage of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, and the war in South Viet Nam.

For the first time since the prizes were established in 1917, awards Monday were omitted in fiction, drama and music. No work in those three fields was deemed worthy of being honored.

St. Pete Paper Cited

The St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times received the Pulitzer gold medal for public service. The newspaper's year-long investigation of the Florida Turnpike Authority uncovered widespread illegal acts and reckless spending of public funds. The stories resulted in a major reorganization of Florida's road construction program.

Norman C. Miller, 30, of the Wall Street Journal, won the general prize for local reporting for his thorough account of a multimillion - dollar swindle in the bankruptcy of the Allied Crude Vegetable Oil and Refining Corp. in New Jersey.

Three-Man Team

The prize for local investigative reporting was shared by a three-man team on the Philadelphia Bulletin — reporters James V. Magee, 50, Albert V. Gaudiosi, 40, and photographer Frederick A. Meyer, 43. They were cited for their expose of numbers racket operations with police collusion in South Philadelphia. It resulted in 18 dismissals and suspensions from the police department.

The international reporting prize was shared by two American correspondents who reported the war in South Viet Nam and the overthrow of the Diem regime—Malcolm W. Browne, 32, of The Associated Press, and David Halberstam, 29, of the New York Times.

The Times has won 29 prizes and The AP 19 since the awards were established by the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post Dispatch, who died in 1911.

Editorial writing, including attacks on corruption, won a prize for Hazel Brandon Smith of the weekly Lexington (Miss.) Advertiser. The award cited "steadfast adherence to her editorial duty in the face of great pressure and opposition."

UPI Man Honored

Merriman Smith, 51, White House correspondent for United Press International, won the prize for national reporting for his "outstanding coverage of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

The awards are made by Columbia University's board of trustees, upon the recommendations of a 14-member advisory board.

For the first time since the awards started in 1917, a special Pulitzer citation was given this year to a group of newspapers—the Gannett Newspapers, which has 15 dailies—for special coverage of success stories on "the road to integration."

The series, using reportorial, photographic and editorial resources of the Gannett papers, plus its news bureaus in Washington; Albany, N.Y., and Trenton, N.J., stressed case histories of people and communities that are solving problems of integrated housing, employment and education.

The work was acclaimed by the Pulitzer board as a "distinguished example of the use of a newspaper group's resources to complement the work of its individual newspapers."

Paul F. Conrad, 39, won the award for newspaper cartooning for his year's output with the Denver Post, without singling out an individual work. He recently moved to the Los Angeles Times.

Other Awards

The journalism winners received $1,000 each, except Browne and Halberstam who shared one award, and Magee, Gaudiosi and Meyer, who also shared one award.

Award winners in the field of letters, each of whom received $500, were:

HISTORY — Sumner Chilton Powell, 40, for his "Puritan Village: The Formation of a New England Town." He spent 10 years in a search of original source material in Sudbury and Marlboro, Mass., and in the English villages from which the founders of the New England towns emigrated.

BIOGRAPHY — Walter Jackson Bate, 46, for "John Keats." He is chairman of the English Department at Harvard University.

GENERAL NON-FICTION — Richard Hofstadter, 48, professor of American history of Columbia, for "Anti-Intellectualism in American Life." He won the 1956 Pulitzer Prize in history for "The Age of Reform," a study of populism and progressivism.

POETRY—Louis Simpson, 41, a native of Jamaica, for "At the End of the Open Road." He is an assistant professor of English at the University of California at Berkeley, once worked as a copyboy for the New York Herald Tribune.

Recognition Is Asked by Javits On U. S. Culture

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is "the only major power in the world that has not given national governmental recognition to development of its cultural resources," says Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Javits, a New York Republican, called Monday night for House approval of legislation that could provide this recognition. A bill, which has been passed by the Senate and reported favorably from a subcommittee of the House Committee on Labor and Education, would establish an Advisory Council on Arts and a National Arts Foundation.

The foundation would have a $5-million appropriation the first year and $10 million annually thereafter.

Javits' comments were made in a speech at a dinner honoring Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music for 40 years. He will retire next month.

He'd Do It Same Way Again

Truman Rated High as U. S. President by Historians

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry S. Truman, as brisk and cocky as when he left the White House in 1953, will be 80 Friday and if over the years he has sounded self-satisfied, and still does, it's no wonder.

He doesn't have to worry about his place in history. It will be high up.

In 1952, not long before Truman turned over the presidency to Dwight D. Eisenhower, the American historian, Henry Steele Commager, said in 50 years historians would regard Truman's administration as one of unparalleled successes."

Ten years later the New York Times reported a survey of 75 American historians showed they listed Truman among the near-great presidents. They may plant him among the great in the years to come, by Commager's reckoning.

The Lists

They named the great ones this way: Lincoln, Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Wilson, Jefferson. This was their near-great list: Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt, Polk, Truman, John Adams, Cleveland.

Just before he retired, Truman, in interviews with newsmen who had covered his White House years, was asked: If he had it to do all over again, would he change anything?

No, he said, and added: "If a president makes decisions that are right, and for the welfare of the people, it does not make any difference what is said about him while he is alive. The presidents who have done things, who were not afraid to act, have been the most abused."

Wouldn't Change Anything

Now, 12 years later, a newsman asked the same question, got the same answer: "I would change nothing." Figuring he did his utmost and willing to be judged on that, he is adjusted to the thought of death.

He put it this way: "I know that when I am carried out feet first it can be said of me: "He did his damndest."

No president in history ever had dumped on him a load more terrible than the one inherited when he stepped into the White House April 12, 1945: war to be finished in Europe and the Pacific; a country to be reconverted to peace, and, still undreamed of then, a cold war to be fought.

Except that he had been a hard-working senator, he was an unknown quantity when he became president. He was overwhelmed. He said he felt the moon and stars had fallen on him. "Pray for me," he said.

Had the Iron

But what he had was iron and the ability to make decisions. What he needed was good advice. He sought it. His first test: deciding to end the war with Japan by dropping atomic bombs on its cities.

By the fall of 1945 the cold war was taking shape. So was his thinking about it. In a speech on Oct. 27, 1945, he announced the United States would keep the secret of the atomic bomb, to be safe and preserve peace, and he called for a large armed force. Things piled up on him but he handled them all like iron.

In early 1946 he forced Stalin to pull his troops out of Iran. Early in 1947 he took America, once and for all, out of its ancient tradition of peacetime isolation.

Greece, Turkey Saved

With Greece overrun by Communist guerrillas and Turkey pressured by the Soviet Union, he proclaimed the Truman Doctrine: American help for nations struggling to survive. Greece and Turkey were saved.

The same year he launched the Marshall Plan of aid to shattered countries. Western Europe was put back on its feet, the rest of the non-Red world was helped. Since then the aid bill has reached $100 billion.

In 1948 and 1949, with the airlift he broke Stalin's Berlin blockade. In 1950 he decided to fight the Korean war. He was abused, denounced and tormented by people like Sen. Joseph McCarthy who never got off his back.

Set Foreign Policy

But the foreign policy he laid down in those years—as early as 1947—has been followed ever since by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson with variations. The main point of it was: stop communism in its tracks.

What was the most tremendous decision of his presidency? He said it was not dropping the bombs on Japan but going into Korea.

He was asked once what was the high point of his White House years. He laughed and said it was his election to a full four-year term in 1948.

RED, RED, RED IS THE TROLLEY—When they're not riding in Moscow's sumptuous subways, Muscovites do their commuting in trolley buses, first introduced some 30 years ago. A new wrinkle is the tandem trolley with an accordion bellows coupling. This bus can carry 180 passengers.

Drifter May Be TriedforBrooklyn Murder Case First

NEW YORK (AP) — George Whitmore Jr., 19, has been arraigned in Manhattan for the brutal slaying of career girls Janice Wylie and Emily Hoffert—but he still may be tried for a Brooklyn murder first.

Whitmore, a Negro who quit school after the eighth grade and has been drifting since, was arraigned Monday before Criminal Court Judge Frederick L. Strong on a homicide charge. He was ordered held without bond pending a hearing Friday.

He was taken back to Brooklyn, where he has been held without bail on a homicide charge in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Minnie Demonds, 46, last month.

Police say Whitmore has admitted all three slayings, but his court - appointed attorney said he recants any alleged confessions.

Chester Battling for 5 Months

No End in Sight to Racial Rifts in Penn's Oldest City

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — For five months Negroes in this old industrial city have demonstrated in the streets, protesting that their children attend segregated and unequal schools.

Dozens have been hurt, many heads bloodied, hundreds more jailed.

The end is not in sight.

"Chester is the Birmingham of the North," says James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

"When they block the streets, when they are disorderly, when they riot instead of march, they are breaking the law," says Mayor James T. Gorbey, a 42-year-old lawyer who took office in the midst of the turmoil.

"The law is the same for everybody, and will be administered for everybody," he says.

Penn's Oldest City

Chester, chartered in 1701 by William Penn, is the oldest city in Pennsylvania. It has 63,000 residents, including 27,000 Negroes.

It is 15 miles south of Philadelphia, and a few miles north of the Mason-Dixon line.

Demonstrators in Chester also are demanding better jobs and more jobs, better housing and more housing. But it's the noisy, fist-swinging, rock-throwing battle to integrate all the schools—a civil rights issue that faces many other Northern cities—that has filled the jails.

This is the question: "Is a neighborhood school a segregated school?"

Demand End of Schools

Negroes say de facto segregation is segregation by design; that it means inferior, unequal education. They demand an immediate end to all-Negro schools—four of the 16 here.

The school board insists it operates an integrated system. It says any segregation is unintentional, and results because children of one race live in the same neighborhood and go to the same school.

Frances P. Donahoo, president of the school board, which has one Negro member, says, "To talk about de facto segregation is not to talk about segregation, but about a condition over which we have no control."

She insists that the Negro leadership really wants busing, which cannot be done without the consent of parents — and white parents are staunchly opposed.

Must Come From Board

Stanley Branche, 30-year-old chairman of the Committee for Freedom Now, says he isn't advocating busing, the transfer of pupils to create a racial balance in all schools.

"But we want the school board to do something and do it now," he adds.

What does he suggest?

"Nothing," Branche replies calmly. "The program must come from the board. We'll sit down with them. We'll talk with them. I met three times with them, but they won't budge. They just won't budge."

Charles Long, superintendent of schools, says, "We definitely are integrated. Every school in our system has Negro children."

"Token, token, token," shouts Branche. "What are 10 or 20 or 30 out of 500 or more. That's not equal."

Quotes Figures

Long acknowledges that four schools are all - Negro and a fifth has 10 whites among 1,000 pupils. The schools have 11,150 pupils, of whom 6,725 are Negro.

Philip Savage, tri-state secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, sometimes has worked with Branche, sometimes ignored him—and sometimes been ignored. He is considered more moderate but, like Branche, was arrested for demonstrating.

Savage looks favorably to efforts of the State Human Relations Commission, or the courts, to settle the dispute.

Best Fiction This Spring From Foreign Authors

The following release from Ann E. Prentice, director of the Kingston City Library, states that the best fiction of the spring of 1964 has come from foreign authors. They have presented for the enjoyment of the reader a wide variety of well written thought-provoking tales.

Kingsley Amis, the angry young man of post-war English letters has written an angry novel about American society, One Fat Englishman.

Walker, another English writer, has written a tale of high humor and high adventure set in Scottish highlands — Winter of Madness.

Carolyn Glyn, the granddaughter of noted authoress Elinor Glyn, has documented the life and high life of the English school girls in her first novel, Don't Knock the Corners Off. It has been highly acclaimed by critics in both the United States and England.

Nicholas Monsarrat, adventure writer, places his latest novel, A Fair Day's Work, in the setting of the modern merchant marine fleet.

Two French authors are represented in the library's collection of new books. Romaine Gary, Goncourt Prize winner, has written a series of short stories, Hissing Tales, which tell of the strange and horrible ways in which man victimizes his fellow man.

Georges Simeon, writer of mystery stories, has followed a man through illness and self evaluation in Bells of Bicetre with the same care that he uses in solving a crime.

For those who enjoyed Irving Stone's Agony and the Ecstasy, Mr. Weiss has written a novel about the life of August Rodin, the famed French sculptor of The Thinker, and many other figures of note. Naked Came I tells, in the form of a novel, the story of Rodin's life and his work.

The library is open daily from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. and on Saturdays from 1 to 5 p. m. for all professional services, book selection and browsing.

Collect $10,501 InUnderpayments For County's 318

ALBANY—More than $265,000 was collected in minimum wage underpayments in the first three months of 1964 by the State Labor Department.

State Industrial Commissioner M. P. Catherwood said today that $265,726 was received from 1,963 establishments, involving 6,308 employes.

In Ulster County, a total of $10,501, was collected from 10 establishments for 318 workers involved, according to Assistant Industrial Commissioner Edward J. Ray.

The Labor Department's Division of Labor Standards, the agency responsible for enforcement of the State's minimum wage regulations, makes regular visits to establishments throughout New York State. Where an employee is found to be receiving less than the minimum wage required by law, the difference is computed as an underpayment. The Department has the authority to collect the underpayement from the employer and turns it over to the worker.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Hagood Clarke III, defensive backfield specialist for the University of Florida, has signed with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, it was announced today.

Flames Peril Mobile Docks After Crash

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — An outbound freighter collided with an oil barge in Mobile harbor early today and the barge burst into flames. The Mobile waterfront was under critical threat for hours.

A spokesman at the Pure Oil Co. terminal at the state docks said the barge contained 735,000 gallons of high test gasoline.

The bow and forward hold of the 447-foot ore carrier Prospector also caught fire. That blaze was extinguished in about an hour.

The barge was beached by a Coast Guard cutter but the fire continued for hours.

The Coast Guard said no injuries were reported.

The barge burst into flames that leaped as high as 100 feet at times and lighted up the mobile water front near the downtown business section.

The collision tore a gash about 40 feet long and 8 to 10 feet wide in the bow of the prospector, which flies the Liberian flag.

The vessel was able to reach a berth at the docks under its own power. City firemen extinguished the fire in the bow and hold.

The Prospector had completed unloading a cargo early today.

Probe Considers Bribes, Reprisals In Liquor Fight

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A legislative committee is trying to determine whether direct or indirect bribe offers or threats of political reprisals arose in the battle over Gov. Rockefeller's liquor-reform program.

The committee chairman said Monday his group would study lobbying activity to determine "whether there were any improper or undesirable attempts to influence the Legislature."

Sen. John J. Marchi, R-Staten Island, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, said he had no direct information of any improper practice but "there were allegations."

The liquor - reform program was voted down in the closing hours of the 1964 Legislature's regular session but gained approval in a modified form last month at a special session called by Rockefeller.

The Republican governor had incensed lawmakers at the regular session by suggesting in a sharply worded message that they were yielding under pressure from liquor lobbyists.

Asked about charges of bribery, Marchi said he had heard "some loose talk but nothing I would care to dignify" without further investigation.

Marchi said his committee also was concerned about alleged "threats of reprisals or threats to reward or punish depending on the position a person takes on legislation."

Marchi said pressure had come from both sides. In response to a question, however, he said, "I honestly don't know of any" pressure from Rockefeller's office."

DR Junta Seeks To Quell Disorder

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic's exbattled civilian junta sought today to quell a spreading strike and mounting disorder with troop action, a court order and radio appeals. Jose Salvador Velazquez president of the Dominican Court of Appeals, ordered striking taxi and bus drivers to return to work within 48 hours. The newspaper Prensa Liore said the transit services would be "militarized" if the strikers did not comply.

Helmeted troops with bayonets patroled the capital's streets after three days of rioting in which two persons have been killed and dozens injured.

Donald Reid Cabral, president of the ruling triumvirate, said in a radio-television address that 548 persons had been arrested and property damage was estimated at $100,000.

Reid Cabral said some politicians "in and out of the country" are seeking to take advantage of the situation by supporting "anarchic" aims of the strikers. The junta leader cast blame on Cuba's Fidel Castro regime when he said Havana radio has announced some acts of agitation "several hours in advance."

University students declared solidarity with the striking transport workers, and dock workers walked off the job in support of the drivers' four-day-old strike.

Still Refuse to Work

NEW YORK (AP)—White union plumbers refused to work again today at a $25 million city project where the contractor has hired four nonunion men—three Puerto Ricans and a Negro.

It was the fourth day of the strike. The white plumbers say they are refusing to work with nonunion men. The City Commission on Human Rights says it's a case of racial discrimination.

About 20 white members of Local 2, Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, showed up today at the job site, the New York City Terminal Market project in The Bronx.

STRIKE THREATENS RULING JUNTA—Policeman wearing gas mask and holding a riot gun helps others pull an auto frame off street in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, during demonstration in strike of taxi and bus drivers. Police failed to halt the demonstrations by strikers that pose a threat to the ruling junta that ousted President Juan Bosch seven months ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Veterans Should Use Their Policy Number

Delay or possible error in the handling of their GI insurance accounts by the Veterans Administration is risked each month by hundreds of veterans who fail to use their GI insurance policy number to identify themselves, announced Frank J. Kilcullen Jr., manager of the Albany Regional Office.

With over five million veterans holding GI policies and with thousands of cases of identical or similar names, the individual number assigned to each policy is the only way of assuring speedy, positive identification.

Veterans writing the Veterans Administration regarding their GI insurance are urged to use their policy number including the prefix letter H, K, V, RH, RS or W to identify immediately their own account so that the Veterans Administration can quickly take the action they desire.

In the event that the veteran has mislaid his policy number, he should furnish his service serial number and his date of birth to enable the VA to identify his account Kilcullen stated.

Many Spellman Tributes

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman had the tributes of thousands of friends today on passing a double milestone—his 75th birthday and 25th anniversary as Roman Catholic archbishop of New York.

The two anniversaries opened with the Cardinal saying Mass Monday in St. Patrick's Cathedral and closed with a dinner attended by 4,000 persons in four halls of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The hotel said it was the largest dinner ever held there. Gov. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner were among those attending.

Still Dry in Vermont

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—Vermont entered its 12th day without rain Tuesday as state and local authorities continued to worry about the growing fire danger.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Burlington said no rain was in sight for Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said an official designation of "dry spell" will be made if no rain has fallen by Thursday.

A ban on issuance of fire permits extends through May 10 unless it rains before then.

Grass and woods fires have been breaking out throughout the state in the past several days.

SFC Edward Malenski, Central Post Office, Kingston, may be contacted for further information.

Data Processing Course Set for Central Schools

It was announced today by Henry Hopper, director of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services that the board will institute a new vocational course in the field of data processing and computer programming to begin in September.

Building Underway

For the past three years the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services has been operating a data processing center for the purpose of maintaining school records for the county's central schools. Because of the success of this center, and the need for trained workers in the field of data processing, plans are underway for the establishment of a vocational program to train high school students in the operation and programming of this type of equipment.

Construction of a building to house equipment and classrooms for the course has already been started adjacent to the existing vocational school in New Paltz which offers courses in cosmetology and auto mechanics. Like these two programs, the data processing, machine operation and computer programming program will be a two-year course with students attending three hours each school day.

The first year course will deal with the operation and wiring of unit record equipment. Students will have actual experience operating the kinds of machines which are presently being used in the processing center, and learning the wide variety of functions these machines can perform. This course will be offered to both 11th and 12th year high school students, and may either be terminal or lead to one or two second year courses.

Interest Is Keen

Those students wishing more experience with data processing equipment at actual installations will be enrolled in a Vocational Industrial Cooperative program during their second year, which will offer them the opportunity to spend part of each school day working at one of the data processing centers in the area, in addition to continuing their regular academic classes.

Other students will study computer operation and programming during the second year. In this course, students will learn how to "communicate" with computers using a symbolic "language" especially created for this purpose. This will also be open to a few seniors who, although they have not taken the first year course, have the interest and ability for admission.

Interest in the program has been so high that it will be impossible to accomodate all those wishing to enroll. The first year course is scheduled to begin this September and the second year courses in September 1965.

One-Room School Still Big Part of W. Virginia System

By TOM MILLER
Huntington Advertiser Reporter
Written For Associated Press

KENTUCKY FORK, W. VA. (AP)—The day begins at 8:30 a.m. at Kentuck Fork School with 10 minutes of exercise for the 14 pupils, most of whom walked a mile or more to get there.

Before the day is finished, the schoolmaster, P. J. Williamson, will attempt to dole out to five grades a smattering of reading, writing, arithmetic, history, geography, civics, science—and on Fridays, art. This year, he has no pupils in the first, fourth or seventh grades.

The one-room school is vanishing, but in West Virginia it remains an important part of the educational system. This is particularly true in predominantly rural Lincoln County, where half the county's 54 schools are one-room schools.

Kentuck Fork is one of the 27 all-purpose classrooms in Lincoln County, and one of 381 remaining in West Virgina.

Williamson explains to his students the presence of a reporter and then begins classes.

This day was signficant, because the enrollment had jumped from 12 to 14 with the arrival in Kentuck Fork of a new family. Six families are now represented in the school.

The first order of business is to determine the mathmetical abilities of the new students, Kathy and Kate Turley.

Williamson calls them to his desk to question them.

At recess, the pupils clear a table of books and papers and get out a ball and jacks for a game. A few go outside on the "playground," and play on a rock formation.

The toilets are outside privies. The "drinking fountain" is a bucket and dipper. Water is carried from the well of a nearby house.

"They tried to drill a well here once, but the water wasn't fit to drink," Williamson explained.

A shake of a bell brings the students together again.

Williamson has been a teacher 42 years. He retires at the end of this term.

He's taught at larger schools and has been a principal. Why did he spend his last year at Kentuck Fork?

One reason is that he lives nearby. For another, no one else seemed to want the job.

When the present, whitepainted, cinder block structure was built, 30 children were enrolled.

The drop to 14 in eight years has been brought about by a migration of Kentuck Fork families to industrial cities in the North.

The families remaining tend small farms, perhaps work in a coal mine.

Children who continue their education after the eighth grade will have to walk three miles to a paved road to get the school bus.

AWOL Private Gets 4-6 Years For Auto Theft

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An AWOL Army private, described by federal officials as "on his way to being a superior confidence man," has been sentenced to 4-6 years in prison for automobile theft.

John F. Brooks, 21, of Lancaster, N.H., drew the sentence Monday from Judge James T. Foley of U.S. District Court, who said, "probation would be too risky."

Foley said parole investigators had reported that Brooks had tried to pass a worthless $50,000 check in Canada as a down payment on purchase of a restaurant and had tried to pass a $10,000 check toward payment for a $97,000 yacht.

Brooks was arrested in Montreal on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile. Federal authorities said he was an Army private, absent without leave from Ft. Benning, Ga.

It's Tradition

Traditional weddings require that the attendants wear shortie gloves this spring. A headdress of fresh flowers—a dainty tiara or circlet of blossoms identical to her bouquet—is a pretty and proper look.

FEATHERED SERPENTS, WATERMELON, AND CANVAS WORTH $100 PER INCH!

Mexicans have surrounded themselves with vital modern art. The works of the Mexican masters and the flourishing newer schools fill their galleries, decorate the walls of their fine buildings, and bring high prices in the world market.

Little wonder, for this art inherits the best of two traditions.

From Western Europe, out of the Renaissance by way of the Spain that gave us Velasquez and Goya, it has a great heritage . . . one that survives in its original form in Mexico's churches.

And from the ancient frescoes and sculpture of the Maya, Toltec and Aztec comes a massive simplicity, and traditional themes like the god-king Quetzelcoatl, the "feathered serpent."

Rufino Tamayo, for instance—one of the great Mexican moderns—has based paintings now in many of the world's great museums, on simple variations of the watermelon theme.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

Two Are Ordered To Grand Jury In Police Court

Ciy Judge Joseph D. Saccoman ordered two Kingston men held for grand jury action today when they waived preliminary action on separate felony charges.

They were George Joe, 46, of 11 Meadow Street, who was charged with third-degree burglary, and John E. Murray, 29, of 208 Broadway, charged with second-degree assault.

Joe was arrested last night by Patrolmen Charles Diers, Louis Keator and Gerald Tierney after he allegedly entered a vacant house on Broadway.

Murray was arrested by Patrolmen Otto Short and Oscar Gray on a warrant preferred by his wife, Annie Mae. Both Murray and Joe were committed to the County Jail.

Driver Fined $50

In other court cases:

Jack Taylor, 62, of the YMCA, paid a $50 fine when he admitted a charge of driving while his ability was impaired. Judge Saccoman also suspended his driver's license. Taylor was arrested last April 4 by Patrolmen Kenneth Radel and Albert P. Johnson.

Jurgen E. Weber, 29, of the Iron Forge Inn, Bellvale, and Wayne Cusher, 21, of 720 Broadway, paid fines of $15 each when they admitted speeding charges.

A charge of speeding at 60 miles an hour on Andrew Street against Michael J. Gallagher Jr., 18, of East Chester Street Extension, was adjourned to Saturday. Norman Goldstein, 22, of 1453 Walton Avenue, Bronx, failed to appear to answer a speeding charge.

Big Names

owed a GOP primary race between Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen and two minor candidates. Goldwater, leading the GOP delegate race with 209 of the 655 needed for the presidential nomination, was rated a cinch to pick up Indiana's 32 national convention votes.

Democratic and Republican leaders forecast record half-million voter turnouts for each primary. Welsh supporters prepared to challenge known Republicans who tried to vote in the Democratic primary. Under Indiana law, primary voters are required to pledge support to the party in the general election.

Wallace wound up his campaign, in which he faced jeering pickets and hecklers but also drew applause, with an appeal Monday to the Indianapolis Service Club. He repeated his belief that "if I get any significant vote we're going to knock the eye teeth out of the liberals in both parties."

In a news conference, Welsh accused Wallace of "begging for a crossover vote (from Republicans)" and said the Alabaman "solicits support even from the John Birch Society." Welsh declined to predict the primary results.

No Prediction

In Indiana four years ago, two little-known candidates — also entered today — drew some 20 per cent of the vote against the late John F. Kennedy.

The civil rights issue also hung over the Taft-Brown contest in Ohio. Some Ohio politicians reportedly felt white voters would give a strong protest vote to Brown, a veteran state office-holder whose backers include many supporters of Goldwater for president.

Sen. Young, who celebrated his 75th birthday Monday, remained confident he would be renominated. If he scores an upset, Glenn, who is recovering slowly from the injury suffered in a bathroom fall, would have until Aug. 14 to withdraw.

Ohio Republicans also vote on an unopposed 58-member convention delegation. Pledged on the first ballot to the party's favorite son, Gov. James A. Rhodes, it was heavily weighted with Goldwater supporters.

In Florida, the mayors of Jacksonville and Miami, and four present or past state legislators were competing for the Democratic nod to succeed retiring Gov. Farris Bryant, a Democrat who can't succeed himself. Democratic Sen. Spessard L. Holland, seeking a fourth term, had primary opposition from Brailey Odham, a self-styled Kennedy - Johnson supporter.

If no Democratic gubernatorial candidate receives a majority, the two high men will meet in a May 26 runoff. Three Republicans seek the GOP designation for governor. Republican voters are also choosing between two pro-Goldwater slates of national convention delegates.

First for Wilkinson

The Oklahoma contest featured the first bid for elective office by former University of Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson, running for the GOP senatorial nomination against former State Chairman Forrest Beal and Thomas J. Harris, staunch supporter of a right-to-work proposal also being voted on.

Among the Democrats, incumbent J. Howard Edmondson, seeking the remainder of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr's term, was in a tough fight with State Sen. Fred Harris and former Gov. Raymond Gary. All three oppose the right-to-work measure.

Alabama Democrats decide whether the slate of electors to be listed in November in the Democratic column will be pledged to the party's presidential nominee. Wallace backs an unpledged state.

Budget-Trustee Vote Wednesday In OCS District

Onteora Central Schools District voters will decide on a $2,696,435 budget and elect three thrustees at the annual district meeting Wednesday.

The gross budget is $426,199 higher than last year's figures. The net amount to be raised by taxation is $1,768,763, up $308,804 over 1963-64.

Three candidates for the Board of Education are unopposed. Trustee Herbert Epstein of Phoenicia is unopposed for a three-year tearm, as are Dr. Sherman Masten of West Hurley and Richard O. Langham of Woodstock for five-year terms.

A fourth candidate, James Hogan of West Hurley, has withdrawn from the race against Dr. Masten.

The voting will be from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. at the schools in Boiceville, West Hurley and Woodstock and the Shandaken town hall.

Voters will also determine the fate of one resolution which would make school buildings available for political meetings.

Outline Philosophies

Although the election of the three trustees is automatic, all three outlined their educational philosophy at the Candidates Night.

Dr. Masten, who is Dean of the Ulster County Community College, said his philosophy embraces a curriculum which would take every student as far as he is able to go and believes in providing sound education for young people is one of the prime responsibilities. He supported recent bond issue for additional construction on the secondary level.

In answer to a question, Dr. Masten suggested that the Glenford section, while not geographically centered, might be nearer the population center of the disapproach to the various activities of the Board of Education such as for transportation, budget, curriculum and personnel.

Trustee Epstein assured voters that when the bond issue for secondary construction is re-submitted he will re-examine the proposal in detail with an eye to any modification which may seem to be justified. He would like to see greater independent reporting of board meetings and school activities.

Langham said he favored a committee system on the board and would scrutinize closely non-educational items in the budget. He strongly urges greater participation by the citizens in school affairs, and recommends more attendance at board meetings fuller discussion of bond issues and budgets before submission in final form.

Paul E. Ottoson New Commander For Legion Post

Jack Chalmers was elected post adjutant and John Grote was re-elected finance officer. Robert Nussbaum was designated chaplain and Schuyler Schultz was named a trustee.

The Legion post will participate in the annual Memorial Day parade in Woodstock, which is expected to have three bands in the line of march.

Bennett Banner Is Acclaimed For Excellency

Jessie Wolf, student editor, and Mrs. Emma Argulewicz, faculty advisor of the Bennett Banner, the school newspaper of the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Boiceville, have recently been informed by E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, that their school's paper has been awarded state and national honors in the school press project sponsored by his association.

The December issue of the Banner featuring articles on health education, health careers, and tuberculosis prevention was submitted to the County TB and Health Association for their consideration. It was one of three newspapers, and the only elementary school publication, to be selected to represent Ulster County in the state competition.

The state judges noted that the series of interviews with school health officials including Dr. Norman Burg, MD, school doctor, Mrs. Mary Caughey, speech therapist, Mr. Henry Lampl, school psychologist, Mrs. Ruth Bark, RN, school nurse and Miss Sara Kettell, dental hygienist were "especially good." They selected the Bennett Banner as the "best entry" in the state competition.

Awards on May 14

The panel of national judges representing the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National Tuberculosis Association selected the Banner as one of the national honor certificate winners.

Mrs. Argulewicz and Jessie Wolf have been invited to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County T. B. and Health Association where they will be presented with the award certificates. The dinner meeting will be held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, on Thursday, May 14 at 7 p. m.

Other members of the Bennett Bannerstaff include Daniel Estes, assistant editor; Elizabeth Carlson, news chief; Ellen Schwarz, special features chief; Keith Keator, science news chief; Michael Bernard, book reviews chief; Patty Schallert, chief of circulation; Laura Nuchow, chief of publicity; Eddie Kahil, sports editor.

The Bennett Banner was founded in September 1962 under Mrs. Argulewicz's direction. It is published by-monthly by and for the students of the Bennett Elementary School.

Po'keepsie City Manager Resigns, Keeps BPW Post

Kenneth Pearce, Poughkeepsie city manager, resigned his position at Monday night's meeting of the Common Council and appointed himself head of the Board of Public Works to succeed the late Harold R. Dean, who died last year.

The resignation was unexpected but was accepted by unanimous consent of the seven Democrats and one Republican on the Council.

Pearce, who was appointed city manager when John J. Desmond resigned, said his health did not permit him to handle the dual job of city manager and head of the Public Works Dept.

The city manager agreed to remain on the job until the Common Council can hire a replacement. The post pays $15,000 a year while the Board of Public Works head receives $12,000 a year.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.05 at 820.78. The decline was exaggerated, however, by the fact that several component stocks sold ex dividend and lowered the average by 1.83.

American Motors, down nearly a point, was the worst loser among the leading auto stocks.

Pan American World Airways fell a point. Eastern Air Lines took a similar loss. Fractional gains and losses prevailed among other airlines.

Losses exceeding a point were taken by Caterpillar and Control Data.

corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed few changes.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Construction accidents at the Aswan dam project have taken 227 lives, including six Russians, the newspaper Al Akhbar reported.

Ulster Lists 2,300

More than 4,300 On Petition for Bush Nomination

More than 4,300 signatures were listed on designating petitions filed recently with the Secretary of State for GOP incumbent Sen. E. Ogden Bush of DeLancey.

The figure includes more than 2,300 signers from Ulster County, as compared with an approximate figure of 250 on the petition of his opponent, Lloyd A. Newcombe, Catskill businessman.

SEN. E. OGDEN BUSH

Sen. Bush said today he appreciated the support these figures showed and would serve his constituents to the utmost, if nominated, to warrant this confidence in his continued representation of their interests in Albany.

Sen. Bush's total represented signatures from every county in the district. The 34th Senatorial District includes Ulster, Greene, Delaware and Sullivan Counties.

The senator said that the figures further show that the "Party Bosses" referred to by his opponent are not trying to dump the "Old Man," as stated in his opponent's publicity releases.

Newcombe announced last week that more than 2,000 signatures were on his nominating petition.

The petitions are required for a place on the ballot for the Republican primary contests on June 2.

It was learned today that Senator Bush has accepted an invitation to attend the annual spring dance of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, to be held Saturady evening, at Angels Restaurant, East Chester Street By-Pass.

This is an annual event of the Club and many county officials are expected to attend.

Among these will be Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Jesse McHugh, vice chairman of Ulster County Republican Committee; Assistant Distrtict Attorney Joseph Torraca, County Treasurer Fred DuBois, Corner Arthur Chipp, Bernhardt Kramer, representative of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, and Edward W. Snyder, executive secretary to Assemblyman Wilson.

President Anthony Cicoria and Chairman Jack Smith have announced that Supervisor Alexander Banyo is to be master of ceremonies. Music will be furnished by the Tuxedo Four. There will also be entertainment during the evening and a Buffet supper.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, one of Monday night's guests, has served notice the labor federation will not be bound by the administration's guideposts.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, signaled he will ignore them in his contract negotiations beginning in June with the Big Three automakers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Johnson called the wage-price guideposts sensible and fair and added: "They are in the public interest and while I cannot — and will not — force anyone to follow them, I can call them to your attention and ask for your cooperation."

Key to Debentures Is Soundess of Issues

Q) "Sometime ago you wrote about debentures, but you didn't comment on their soundness. Also what is meant by 'subordinated' debentures and 'unsubordinated' debentures?" M. K.

A) Looking back, I think you're entirely right—and I will gladly elaborate.

A debenture is simply a note issue put out by a corporation. It has no security beyond the promise of the company to pay interest and principal when due. Its soundness rests entirely on the solvency and credit standing of the issuing company and the strength of the interest coverage on its funded debt.

A subordinated debenture is subordinate—so far as payment of interest and principal are concerned—to certain senior indebtedness which may also be unsecured. An unsubordinated debenture ranks equally with other unsecured issues but may be subject to mortgage debt if that exists.

However, I would forget these distinctions and look solely at the strength and standing of the borrower, and the number of times debenture interest is earned.

Q) "Can you please comment on the recent poor performance of Standard Oil of California, which I have been accumulating for years as a backlog of a conservative list that otherwise includes such stocks as Telephone, General Electric, Crown Zellerbach, Southern California Edison, etc.?" F. F.

A) You appear to have an excellent list of stocks—including Standard Oil of California, although it admittedly has not shown as good technical action this year as some of its competitors.

The reason is that this company's earnings in 1963 showed a gain of only 2.6 per cent over the previous year, which compares with an increase of 13.3 per cent for Texaco and 20.7 per cent for Jersey Standard.

I believe the main cause of California Standard's poorer showing was its heavy dependence on marketing in California, where competition has been intense in many areas. The company is strengthening its position in the Mid-West and East, and overseas marketing through Caltex is expanding.

I advise you to hold your shares.

Army Will Test Seniors in May

SPC Edward Malenski, Army Recruiter for Ulster County, announced that the Albany Recruiting Main Station will be open Saturday, May 9 and May 23 for the purpose of testing seniors both male and female.

All schools are reserved on a first come, first qualified basis. Although there is no obligation to enlist, applicants must first qualify both physically and aptitude wise, to reserve the school of their choice.

It has been noted other parts of the United States have a much earlier graduation and the popular and highly desirable technical schools are reserved by them. To meet this challenge and enable seniors to get their fair share of the Modern Army Technical Schools, the Saturday processing dates were established.

Interested seniors planning Army enlistment this summer should contact SFC Malenski at the Central Post Office, Kingston.

toward the tax cut, and whether they consider that the cut in personal income taxes makes any difference in their paychecks; The governments anti-poverty program, people's preception of poverty and the unemployment problem in the U. The survey as usual will sample consumers' views of recent economic trends in the nation and their plans to purchase—attitudes which have given the surveys great predictive values.

Addresses for the interviews are selected scientifically to present a cross-section of metropolitan, suburban and rural areas. Results of the interviews, never identified with any person or address, are coded, combined and published in a statistical report for the country as a whole. The results have proven helpful to government officials, businessmen, economists and educators who seek better understanding of the conditions and ideas existing in the nation today.

The annual event is a combination of banquet, business and entertainment and all members and friends interested in the outdoors are invited to attend. Ken Wich, District Fisheries Supervisor of the New York State Conservation Department and Chris Chrystie, Department Biologist will talk and answer questions about the Department's fish census program currently under way on the Esopus Creek and its tributaries. Also scheduled as part of the evening's entertainment program are films on selected outdoor subjects. The business part of the meeting is primarily concerned with the election of officers and directors for the coming year and a summary report on the past year's activities.

drivers. The shootings were blamed on Americans.

There have been no arrests.

The second driver was shot with a pistol on a Saigon street shortly after midnight.

A Vietnamese policeman and a civilian claimed they saw the shooting and that an English-speaking man, probably an American, was involved.

U.S. sources said that following the second killing, the drivers' union met and decided to launch a massive "drive on" around the American Embassy.

Increased police patrols were moved into the area.

Calls for Safety Pins

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Education Association wants its 7,200 members to wear safety pins on their lapels or blouses until the end of the next legislative session in 1965.

Executive Secretary Elmer S. Crowley said Monday the pins symbolize inadequacy of public school financing in Idaho. "School financing is figuratively pinned together, not cut out of whole cloth," he said.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Outer Limits" is an early evening show apparently designed to scare deliciously an audience that is too old for Godzilla but too unsophisticated for "Twilight Zone."

There obviously is a big audience for this nonsense — monsters from outer space and mad scientists with time machines—because ABC has renewed it for another season.

Monday night's tale was typical of the silly series. It started with two frightened girls serving a poisoned cocktail to a handsome blackmailer standing for some unexplained reason, in swimming trunks in a lake in the middle of a dark forest. Then one of those Hollywood studio storms started as the girls fled through the woods to an eerie house where they found a grim blind man—played by, of all people, Sir Cedric Hardwicke—and a strange young man who had invented a machine that could "tilt time."

Well, sir, that poisoned fellow kept popping up, alive and dead, for most of an hour as the machine kept shuffling the past and the present. And all the time the braver of the girls kept running in the forest with a shovel trying to bury him.

This sort of stuff was grade D movie fodder before World War II. Maybe ABC needs a time tilting machine of its own.

The odds—for the next seven days of television only — are just about even that any evening network program is a rerun of a program seen earlier this season—or in a movie house long ago. There will be 42 repeats; 45 new shows.

"The Danny Kaye Show" will be replaced in early July by a variety-type show starring Rudy Vallee and featuring young performers. "The Garry Moore Show" will disappear — forever —at the end of June and re-runs of hour-long specials from other seasons will be substituted.

NBC, whose summer schedule contains not a single new entertainment program, will replace "That Was the Week That Was" in July with a series of variety shows shown originally to Canadian television viewers, to be called "On Parade."

Won't Review Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to review a decision that negro pupils have the right to entire school systems operated on a nonracial basis, including the assignment of teachers, principals, supervisory and supporting personnel.

The decision was given by a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La. It was appealed to the Supreme Court by the Board of Public Instruction of Duval County, Fla., of which Jacksonville is the county seat.

About 200 Attend Scout Council's Recognition Night

Nearly 200 Scouters and their wives, representing all six districts of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, attended the 1964 Council Scouters Recognition Dinner last week at Saugerties High School.

Preceding the dinner the Scouters and their ladies enjoyed a colorful series of exhibits. The activities of Cub Scouting were portrayed in a display prepared by Pack 36, Saugerties. Troop 32 of Saugerties featured an exhibit on Boy Scouting, and Explorer Post 12, Kingston, displayed program materials highlighting their phase of the Scouting program.

The Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow, provided a colored filmstrip presentation which depicted various outdoor activities conducted by the lodge.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. George Wood, pastor of Flatbush Reformed Church. Council President Clifford A. Henze of Hurley served as toastmaster.

An impressive patriotic opening ceremony was narrated by Herbert Shein, program director of radio station WGHQ.

A brief message of welcome was given by Robert DeLozier, district chairman and member of the council executive board.

The man-miles trophy, awarded annually to the district whose scouters traveled the highest aggregate of man-miles to attend the dinner, was presented to Clement Angstrom, chairman of the Kingston District by Henze.

A ceremony recognizing the valuable service to boyhood and community life given by the volunteer scout leaders in Ulster and Greene Counties was conducted by Dinner Committee Chairman Raymond Quackenbush of Saugerties.

Special recognition certificates were given to those Scouters whose service in the Scouting movement exceeded 30 years. Scouters recognized included: the Rev. Harry Christiana and Gordon Craig Jr., Port Ewen; George B. Matthews and Lester E. Decker, Kingston; and George Woodworth, East Jewett.

Scout Executive Alex Macdonald of Hurley spoke briefly on the council's accomplishments during the past year, and the intangible dividends which come to those who serve boyhood through the program of Scouting.

Veteran Scouter Robert Tremper of Ulster Park was the recipient of the Wood Badge, the highest national leadership training award. In charge of the Wood Badge presentation ceremony was Council Commissioner Kenneth Magyar of Saugerties, who was a previous recipient of this national training award.

The main address of the evening was given by Harry Rigby Jr., well-known Hudson Valley historian, who spoke on the subject, "Our American Heritage." Rigby recently accepted the chairmanship of the council's "Strengthen Our American Hetritage Program," which will be promoted throughout the nation this summer in cooperation with Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

Highlighting the program was the presentation of two Silver Beaver awards. These awards are presented annually to Scouters who, over a period of years, have rendered distinguished service to youth in the Council area. The Silver Beaver Award is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a scouter by a local Council. The Rip Van Winkle Council is authorized by the National Council to make two such awards annually.

This traditional feature was conducted by Silver Beaver Committee Chairman Johan Aalto of Gardiner. Assisting Aalto as members of the Silver Beaver Committee were Carlson, Saugerties; Anthony Zinnanti, Catskill; Elwood Hitchcock, East Jewett; Sherwood Lasher and Tremper, Kingston; and Henze, Hurley.

Scouter recipients of the 1964 Silver Beaver Awards were Harry Hoffman, Saugerties, and Richard Waltman, Kingston.

Waltman, a veteran Scouter, has over the years filled a number of key Scouting posts in the Kingston District, including those af assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, explorer advisor, advisor to the Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow, and neighborhood commissioner. Currently Waltman is serving as Commissioner of Kingston District. He has also been selected to serve as a member of the Region 2 sectional staff at the 6th National Jamboree to be held in July at Valley Forge, Pa.

Hoffman, another veteran Scouter, has held a number of positions on a council, district and unit level. Before moving to the Saugerties area Hoffman served in Bucks County, where he was an Assistant Scoutmaster, district organization and Extension chairman, explorer advisor and assistant district commissioner.

In the Saugerties District Hoffman has served as district vice chairman, chairman, and chairman of the district organization and Extension Committee. He has also actively served on the council executive board for several years. In addition Hoffman has served two terms on the Saugerties Board of Education. Unable to attend the recognition ceremony due to illness, Hoffman's Silver Beaver Award was accepted by his father, who is a previous recipient of the Silver Beaver Award in the Bucks County Council area.

South Must Be Wary of East

BY OSWALD JACOBY

I am not going to show the East-West hands today because it is up to you to find the proper line of play at three no-trump against a seven of spades opening.

Of course, in the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, North and South had to reach three no-trump with South as declarer as a preliminary to collecting their par. Then South had to play the hand correctly.

Actually there is very little to the play if you remember to use the code word "Arch."

You Analyze the lead as the fourth best of a suit headed by ace-queen-ten and you confirm this when East plays low and your nine spot wins the trick.

Your Review of the bidding just tells you that East hasn't much of anything and your Count of winners and losers shows that you will surely make your contract if you can just gather in four heart tricks.

How do you get those four heart tricks? You go after the suit. Is there any danger? Yes! If East gets the lead he can shoot a spade through you and it will cost you four spade tricks.

East is not likely to hold the queen of hearts, but he may. Therefore, you play him for that card. You enter dummy with a club and lead the jack of hearts. If East holds the queen, you will make all the heart tricks. If West holds the queen, you will lose one heart trick but your contract will not be in any jeopardy.

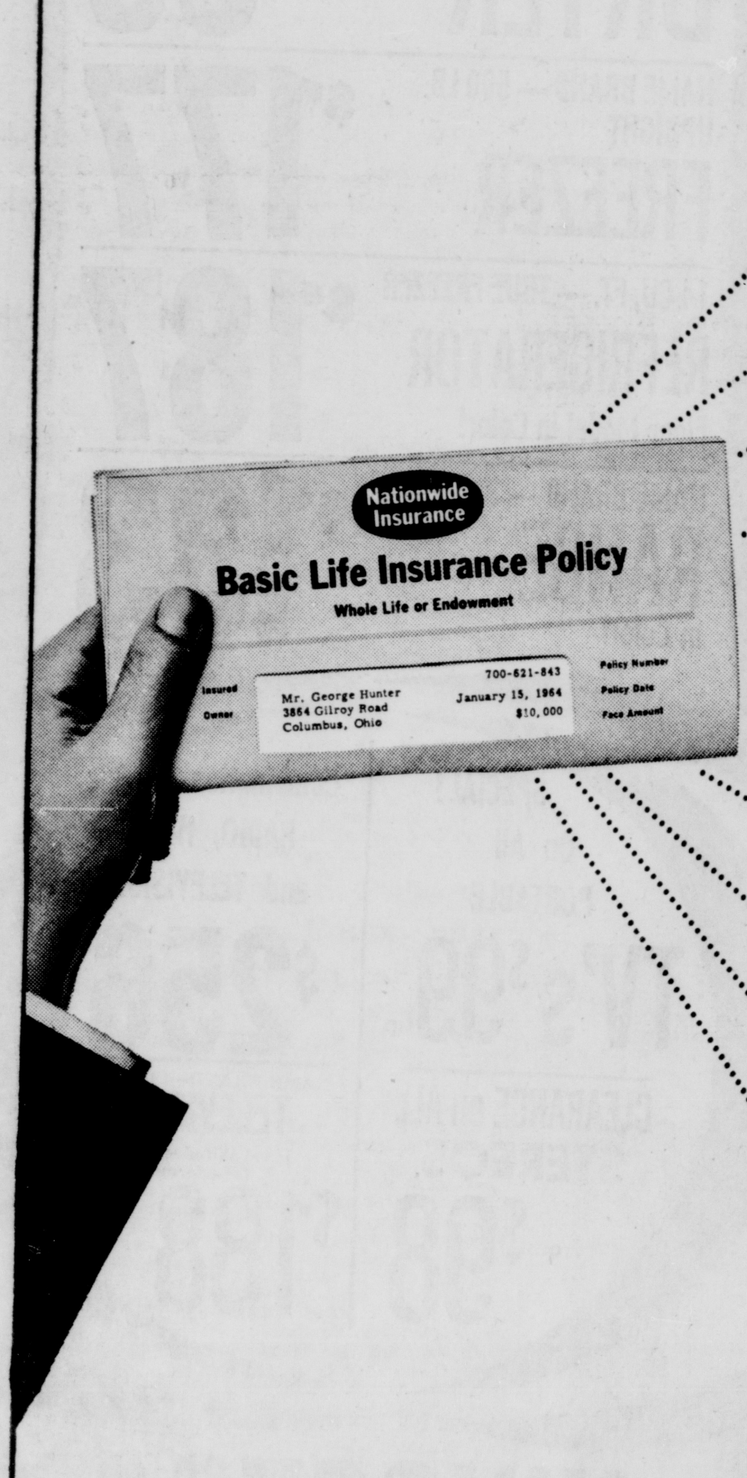
New idea in life insurance! Nationwide's "Adjustable Plan" lets one policy do the work of four

You buy one policy, then add or subtract other kinds of protection as often as your needs change. It is the most flexible plan ever.

Include any of these "Benefits" in one Nationwide policy. Add or subtract them as your needs change.



These 4 "Benefits" required separate policies until now

Wife and Children Benefit: Provides insurance for wife and each child. All children born after the "Benefit" starts are insured automatically after 15 days at no extra cost. This "Benefit" also guarantees your children can get more life insurance of their own when they reach age 22—regardless of their health at the time.

College Savings Benefit: Provides money to pay for your children's college education. You pay as much as 15 percent less for this plan than for all other college endowment-type plans. Nationwide guarantees the money you pay in will earn substantial interest. NOTE: The sooner you start, the lower your payments.

Family Security Benefit: Low-cost, extra insurance for father. It provides a large amount of protection for wife and children while children are young. Then it decreases in face value as children grow older. It is called decreasing term insurance. Can be carried by father for a term of 10, 15, 20 years, or to his age 65.

"Level Term" Benefit: Good to have to protect family against large debt. It is term insurance. It runs for a specific term—10 or 15 years. It does not build up cash value. It is pure insurance. That's why it costs less than insurance that builds up cash value. Level term pays full face amount if you die anytime within term.

These 5 "Benefits" can also be added to your one policy

"Dividend Term" Benefit: Insurance that is completely paid for by the dividends from your basic policy. Good to have if you borrow money from your policy—makes sure your wife will receive full amount of policy if you die before repaying money you borrowed.

Guaranteed Insurability Benefit: Lets you buy more insurance—as much as $60,000 more—as you get older regardless of health. You'd be surprised how many men find it difficult and costly to get more insurance as they grow older because their health changes.

Accidental Death Benefit: Can provide as much as two and three times the face amount of your basic life insurance policy if death is due to an accident. A "must" if you travel a lot. Nationwide now offers this "Benefit" to age 70 instead of just age 65.

Waiver of Premium Benefit: Self-completing "Benefit." If you become totally and permanently disabled and can't work, Nationwide will make all your premium payments for you. This "Benefit" lets you keep your full insurance protection no matter what happens.

Retirement Benefit: Guarantees your right to buy retirement income anytime in the future at today's low prices. Can save you quite a bit. Cost of retirement insurance is steadily going up as people live longer, but your low premium will always stay the same.

Until today, if you had a life insurance policy on yourself, you had to buy a new policy to insure your wife. Another for your mortgage. And so on. Complicated. And you paid extra to have the new policies written.

Today, Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan" ends all this. It lets you custom-tailor a single policy to fit your needs, and change it as your needs change. Simple. And it gets rid of those extra costs. Here's how it works:

LET'S SAY you already have a policy on yourself, and you now want to insure your wife and new baby.

Until now, you had to buy a brand-new policy to insure them both.

There were drawbacks to this. You had to pay extra to cover the paper work involved in writing a new policy. You also had to take more insurance on yourself.

Eliminates paying extra costs

Now with Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan," you can insure your wife and child without buying a brand-new policy and without buying more insurance on yourself.

You select Nationwide's "Wife and Children Benefit" and add it to your basic Nationwide policy. It's as simple as that.

Add or subtract 9 "Benefits"

You can do the same thing with four different "Benefits" that used to require buying separate policies—the top four described at the left. Besides that, you can add the five described below at the left. Nine "Benefits" in all.

With these nine "Benefits," you can custom-tailor a single policy to fit your needs. Add the "Benefits" as you need them. Subtract them as your needs change.

If you'd like to learn more about this amazingly flexible plan, call your local Nationwide representative today. He can lend you a hand with all your insurance needs—life, health, home and auto. He's listed in the Yellow Pages.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR NATIONWIDE POLICYHOLDERS

If you now own a basic Nationwide Life Insurance policy (Whole Life or Endowment), and you bought it since 1948, you can go back and revise it with any of these nine "Benefits."

Carnival Marksman Going On Show With Garry Moore

By CHARLES M. McCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

"I've Got a Secret' — I can shoot you with 200 rounds of ammunition and you'll never feel a thing. In fact, you might even feel and look better than ever."

Now what kind of a statement is that?

Ask Paul La Cross, a rugged, slender gunslinging ace who is going to prove just that next week on television. After he leaves Kingston.

The handsome La Cross, who is general agent for the Continental Shows playing this week at Route 9W north and Neighborhood Road under sponsorship of the Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, is scheduled to appear Monday, May 11 on the "I've Got a Secret" show featuring Garry Moore.

His secret of course is out — "shoot out," that is. He's going to draw a charicature of Garry on an aluminum sheet by firing 200 rounds of ammo in two minutes or less, using four Winchester rifles alternately.

A Real Star

And "draw" he can. Publicity flyers on La Cross say he's the "World's Fastest, Fanciest Gunslinger, Knife and Tomahawk Thrower," and you'd better believe it. He's been a feature or star attraction on nationwide TV, shows, sport shows, fairs, rodeos, circuses, wild west shows, military bases, shopping centers, theaters and night clubs throughout the U. S. and in foreign countries. And he has "doubled" for authenitic shooting and knife throwing scenes in numerous movies.

Obviously a graduate of the "they said it couldn't be done" school, La Cross looks very little like a soft-spoken Vermonter with a wife and grown daughter. A quick study of his grey, wavy hair, sharp end even eyes and firm jaw makes one look rather for the star on the left pocket of his shirt. He looks like he just stepped out of the west after a showdown at high noon in OK Corrall where he either consigned a couple hundred injuns to the happy hunting ground or set up a week's work for the gravediggers at Boot Hill — you know—a sort of Wyatt Earp and Jim Bowie packed into one.

La Cross' unusual occupation department includes "human" targets; his wife and daughter, Paula, and any volunteer with nerves of steel, and he hasn't lost a customer yet. His act includes a safe portable gallery and he does all his shooting with legitimate live ammo.

Three at a Time

To say his act is diversified is to say his shooting is somewhat rapid. He can handle three revolvers and shoot in opposite directions simultaneously; split playing cards—edgeways pardner—with a rifle and upside down at that; fire through the hole in a 78 RPM playing record; light a match with a revolver at 25 feet; shoot without a gunsight; hit a target by squeezing the trigger with his teeth, and shoot the tobacco out a cigarette from one end to the other, without cutting the paper. That alone is enough to make one give up smoking.

La Cross has developed a .45 caliber "indoor bullet" that is accurate up to 25 feet but loses all velocity and disintegrates within 50 feet. The shell has show appeal with a loud "45" report and plenty of smoke, and enables the trickster to do super-speed draws, accurate and high aerial shooting without the use of any bullet backstop.

"Uncanny" is a frequently used word to describe such feats with gun or blade. Decide for yourself on the latter two.

Knives, Tomahawks

La Cross throws 16-inch stainless steel knives and tomahawks from up to 30 feet. He throws two knives simultaneously, tossing six times, his assistant winding up etched in 12 knives. He outlines his assistant's body with flaming knives while in a complete blackout. His assistant is placed in a curtain which completely conceals her body and the knife board. La Cross then proceeds to throw 12 knives through the curtain, outlining both sides of her body.

If you need further proof, ask the lightning-quick handyman to zip a round through a half-inch hole in a washer thrown into the air or to splatter an aspirin tablet also in space.

And if you're anxious to play "showdown" with him, keep in mind that his record timed draw accuracy is seven one-hundredths of a second using single action Colt 45s. An he can outline both sides of his daughter's body while she is spinning approximately 120 RPM on a mounted disc.

Yes, Gare', he's got a secret.

TOP GUNSLINGER—Displaying latest thing in etchings is Paul La Cross, reputedly world' "fastest, fanciest gunslinger, knife and tomahawk thrower." He's holding drawing of Garry Moore etched by firing 200 rounds of live ammunition on an aluminum sheet in two minutes or less, using four Winchester rifles alternately. La Cross, who is general agent for the Continental Shows playing through Saturday for benefit of Ulster Hose No. 5 near Lake Katrine, will reveal his secret to host Moore on "I've Got a Secret" show next Monday. Below sharpshooter are similar "drawings" of Abe Lincoln and big chief All-Shot-Up. (Freeman photo)

Cabbie, Sunning Self, Apparent Drowning Case

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A 50-year-old taxi driver, sunning himself on rocks along the bank of the Genesee River, slipped from the rocks and apparently drowned Monday, police said.

The body of Daniel P. Healy, of Rochester, was recovered 100 feet from where he disappeared, police reported.

Police said a companion, Helen Land, 52, of Rochester, told them she and Healy were sitting on rocks along the river in Genesee Valley Park when Healy suddenly slipped, feet first, into the water.

She told police she tried to pull him from the river, found he was too heavy and went for help. When she returned, Healy had disappeared, she told police.

The medical examiner's office withheld a death certificate, pending investigation.

One of 5 Mine Victims

Gitmo Sailor Lost Life on Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the five American sailors killed last Saturday in a mine field explosion on the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, was 19 years old that day.

He was Richard Garrett of Oceanside, N.Y., who enlisted in the Navy soon after he turned 17.

All Five on Liberty

And Mrs. Charles C. Knight whose son, Steven, was another victim of the fatal blast, said sadly: "He was a normal boy who just liked to live."

All five seamen were on liberty from the Boxer, an amphibious assault vessel.

Steven, who would have been 20 years old in August, had been in the Navy since September last year. He was a native of Providence, R.I., but had lived with his parents, three brothers and one sister in Cranston, R.I., for 10 years.

Another victim, Arthur H. Orr, 21, is survived by his widow, Wanda, also 21, and their 2-year-old son, Reggie. Both live in Greenville, S.C. with Mrs. Orr's parents.

Orr, whose parents live in Hendersonville, N.C., would have completed his four-year enlistment in late July. He had been home on leave a week ago.

Henry J. Pazdan Jr., 19, also killed, lived in Trenton, N.J.

Young Pazdan decided to join the Navy when he was not yet 18, and his parents had to consent.

Looked Forward to Discharge

Before his ship sailed for Guantanamo Bay, Henry told his parents in a telephone conversation he looked forward to being discharged early next year.

A fourth victim, David N. Pyle, 19, lived with his parents in Crofton, Ky.

Forrest Pyle, 60, the youth's father who has a 117-acre tobacco farm, said: "He called us last Monday night and told us he was leaving (for Guantanamo) the next day.

"He wanted to talk to me but I was plowing and didn't get to talk to him. I told my wife when he called that I didn't feel like he would ever come back."

Pyle had been in the Navy 27 months. Mrs. Pyle said he was engaged to Linda Willis of Morehead City, N.C.

Young Pyle also leaves three sisters and a brother.

Garrett's family—his mother, stepfather and four young half-sisters—knew he was heading for Guantanamo Bay. Until they got word of his death they had not known he had arrived there.

The Navy said the sailors wandered into the mine field apparently while headed in darkness for a swim. The five mates "strayed into the w marked area," the Navy s

Dear Abby . . .
On the Birds!
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: "Knows My Birds" doesn't know much. The male of the species is handsomely bedecked with colorful plumage in order to lure the female during the mating season. The female is drab and plain so she'll not attract too much attention, thereby diverting her from her maternal responsibilities. It is just the opposite with the human animal, however. The female does the strutting, preening, chasing and ultimately the capturing. Although Nature originally made her plain and drab, she soon learned the tricks of padding, girdling, painting and trapping like no other animal on earth. But no amount of trickery could alter the biological laws. And the female must continue to endure the pregnancies and bear the young. Ho ho ho!

MALE

• • • •

AMAZED

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Several weeks ago, a bird-watcher said in effect that the females were prettier than the males, but that they were useless. And you let him get away with it. Having given him one barrel about who laid the eggs, you should have let him have the other barrel and asked him if he had ever seen a pair of ring-necked pheasants, or wood cocks, or Kentucky cardinals, or ruby-throated hummingbirds, or indigo buntings. The males are marvelously colorful. The females are not. Nature colored the females protectively, to help perpetuate the species. Of course, male and female doves, chickadees, bluejays and many others are similarly marked. But I can think of no bird hereabouts among which the female is more attractive than the male.

BILL THE BIRD MAN

DEAR ABBY: No, no, no! You are wrong, wrong, wrong! The female of the feathered family is NOT more beautiful! The peacock is the gorgeous one. The peahen fades in with the background. The male cardinal is brilliant red, while the female is brownish with only slight tinges of red. The reason: The male must divert attention of a predator away from the nest, so the female can stay on the eggs, unnoticed. Now as for the female being more vocal: That is the prevailing manifestation of all females.

Really, Abby, you write a wonderful column, and when you wish, you can make strong men quail (hah!), but you deserve 60 lashes with an ostrich plume. It won't hurt, but you'll be tickled to death.

Final Settlement Made in Deaths Of Six Infants

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—The court books are closed in the tragic salt-sugar mixup that brought death to six babies at Binghamton General Hospital two years ago.

The State Supreme Court recently made the final awards of $7,000 each to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bealo and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Binghamton.

Parents of four other babies who died received $7,000 settlements earlier this year.

The money is to be paid by the hospital and Crotty Brothers Eastern Shores Inc., which had the hospital's food service contract.

Salt and sugar had been stored in identical cans in the hospital kitchen at the time of the mixup. Salt was accidentally poured into the babies' formulas. Five infants died before the illness was diagnosed as salt poisoning, and one died afterwards.

The hospital now has a new food management firm. Formulas are in individually packaged feedings and each is tested before being fed to a baby.

Extra Day Gets Credit for 12,000 More Feb. Births

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's extra February day has been credited by the Public Health Service for an increase of about 12,000 in the number of babies born in February as compared with February 1963.

An estimated 326,000 live babies were born in February this year, the service said, compared with 314,000 in the 1963 month.

"The excess over the same month of last year was largely due to the extra day in February of 1964, a Leap Year," the service said.

"The rate of childbearing continued the decline that has prevailed for over two years. In February, the crude birth rate was 21.6 live births per 1,000 population, and the general fertility rate was 107.8 births per 1,000 women aged 15-44 years; both rates, unaffected by the varying number of days in the month, were about one per cent below those of February 1963.

The service also pointed out that the extra February day this year was a Saturday, "the most popular day of the week for performance of marriages." There were 121,000 marriages during February, about 16,000 more than a year earlier.

The marriage rate was 8.0 per 1,000 population, nearly 10 per cent higher than the 7.3 rate in the 1963 month, continuing an upward trend which began more than a year ago.

The number of deaths decreased by 13,000, despite the extra day this year, and the February death rate was 9.8 per 1,000 population, down from 11.2 in February 1963.

Agree on Boom, But Not on Type

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Officials agree that an ice boom at the head of the Niagara River to check the flow of heavy Lake Erie ice is necessary, but disagree on the type of boom to use.

A member of the International Joint Commission proposed Monday that a partial boom be constructed. Others at the hearing held by the commission favored a shore-to-shore boom.

Dr. Rene DuPuis of Montreal, a commission member, said: "For sake of safety, let's put in a partial boom. . .then some ice could flow around it."

A hydraulic engineer said that a shore-to-shore boom would submerge under heavy ice loads, allowing some of the ice to flow into the river, relieving the possibility of heavy ice pressure build-ups behind the boom.

Representatives of Niagara Falls and Buffalo gave qualified support to the shore-to-shore ice boom proposal.

Aid for Post Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Post Office was offered temporary financial aid by a San Francisco city official Monday.

Informed that the downtown Rincon Annex post office branch would no longer be open until midnight weekdays, supervisor George Moscone suggested that the city pay for staffing the post office at nights for a month—or until the federal government straightens out its financial problems.

Court's Refusal Not Affecting New York Greatly

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Cases pending in New York State apparently will be affected only slightly, if at all, by the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to consider overturning a decision that school district boundaries need not be changed to force integration.

"I think we will have to settle this principle piece by piece, John P. Jehu, head of the State Education Department's Law Division, said Monday.

"All that refusal means," Jehu said, "is that four judges did not think it raised a question they wanted to consider at this time."

Jehu also said that none of the cases pending in New York was truly similar to the Gary, Ind., case the court declined to consider.

The high court's action left intact a lower court decision that there was no justification for Negro arguments that the Gary school board had a duty to "recast or realign school districts or areas for the purpose of mixing or blanding Negroes and whites in a particular school."

Now in the New York courts is a case in which Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the state education commissioner, ordered pairing of schools in the Malverne-Lakeview District on Long Island and assignment of pupils by grade, rather than place of residence.

Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court has overruled Allen's order on the ground that the state law barring segregation also bars such action to force integration. An appeal from Bookstein's decision is scheduled for argument at the current term of the Appellate Division.

Park Patrolmen Will Use Motor Scooters

NEW YORK (AP) — The police department will use motor scooters this summer as a means of combatting crime in parks.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said Monday that 25 scooters would be tested in Manhattan's Central Park and Prospect Park, Brooklyn, during the 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift.

Arm said scooters can move much faster than a foot patrolman or mounted policeman and can get into areas not accessible to cars.

Concession to Indians

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—An Indian custom is responsible for the Oklahoma Wildlife Conservation Commission bending a law.

Richard Gibson, spokesman for the Shawnee Indian tribe, explained to commission members Monday that it was the custom of tribesmen to hunt 100 squirrels during a tribal ceremony near Little Axe, south of here, when trees leaf and the first full moon of the season appears.

The problem was that all this takes place before squirrel hunting season opens May 15. The commission consented to the hunt.

Fulbright, Home Discuss Cyprus Dispute Dangers

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Sen. J. W. Fulbright and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home discussed the intricacies and dangers of the Cyprus dispute today.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called at No. 10 Downing St. at the start of a Cyprus fact-finding mission for President Johnson. He also will visit Greece and Turkey but said he does not have time to go to Cyprus.

Britain, Greece and Turkey are the guarantors of the Cyprus constitution, which is threatened by the fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities. British forces have been trying to keep peace on the east Mediterranean island since the communal fighting broke out last Christmas and now are the largest contingent in the U.N. peace force there.

Fulbright on his arrival Monday night said he brought no new U.S. proposals but was touring to learn. He attended a briefing session at the U.S. Embassy before meeting Douglas-Home.

Slater Case Is Off Until 19th

A postponment for further study of the facts was taken this morning in County Court when the case of The People vs Mrs. Josephine Jeanette Slater came up before County Judge Raymond J. Mino for sentence.

Mrs. Slater has entered a plea of guilty to a charge of setting fire to lands owned by the Village of Saugerties in the town of Saugerties.

A second indictment charging setting fires was dismissed on consent of the district attorney's office.

Judge Mino adjourned the matter until May 19 at 10 a. m.

Court was recessed until 2 p. m. at which time sentence is scheduled to be pronounced in the Warren Dawson case. Dawson was found guilty of possession of a narcotic drug but disagreed on a second count of sale.

Centerville Vols Respond to House, Brush Fire Today

Centerville and Cedar Grove firemen of Centerville Fire Department responded to a house fire at High Woods and barely returned to station before another alarm called them to Quarryville to extinguish a brush fire near the Hanser Motel.

Both trucks of Centerville and Cedar Grove answered an alarm 8 a. m. today at High Woods on the Church Road where an unoccupied two-story frame dwelling was on fire.

The house is owned by Thomas Worthman of Saxton.

Assistant Chief Granville Scotty Myer reported considerable smoke and heat damage throughout the house, but the flames were contained to the kitchen and a small utility room on the main floor. Very little water damage was reported.

Chief Tobert Thein was in charge of the equipment at the scene. Myer said the fire apparently started in the kitchen. The cause was undetermined.

Shortly after their return to station, about 10:45, an alarm was relayed from Saugerties Police Department who reported a house fire on the Quarryville hill, Route 32.

Both Centerville trucks and one Cedar Grove pumper responded. When firemen arrived they discovered brush near the Hanser Motel was burning. The fire was extinguished with no damage to the buildings on the property, fire officials reported.

London Beefs Up Aden's Defenses

LONDON (AP) — Britain ordered more troops to Aden today in preparation for stronger action to defend its base guarding British oil investments in the Middle East.

Defense sources said 600 men of the Lancashire Fusiliers plus a tactical headquarters from Northern Ireland would be airlifted immediately to the big port and base at the southwest tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

They will bring British strength in Aden to about 3,000 men, backed by jets of Royal Air Force.

Their immediate task informed sources said, would be a punitive expedition against tribesmen fighting a guerrilla war against the British-protected South Arabian Federation, which joins the Aden crown colony with the 14 sheikhdoms of the former Aden protectorate stretching along the south coast of the peninsula.

The long-term objective is to convince the guerrillas, Yemen's republican regime and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic that Britain will not be driven out of its Aden base. The base is considered essential to the protection of Western oil interests in the peninsula as well as a staging post on the Commonwealth defense line to the Far East.

Saugerties Board Names James Gage As Village Clerk

James V. Gage of Clermont Street, Saugerties, a teller with Saugerties Savings Bank for the past three years, was appointed village clerk at the Monday night meeting of Saugerties Village Board.

Gage replaces Ernest R. Ackert, who was not reappointed at the April 6 organizational meeting of the board. Police Commissioner Robert Moser has been taking the minutes of the board meetings since that time. Gage will start in his new position on May 25.

A 1952 graduate of Saugerties High School, Gage served in the U. S. Navy from 1952 to 1955, attended Albany Business College from 1955 to 1956 and was employed as a bookkeeper by Styles Express Inc., Kingston from 1956 to 1961.

Police Commissioner Moser publicly commended Acting Sgt. Donald Sullivan for his apprehension of two U. S. Army deserters from Fort Eustis, Va., on April 14. Sullivan said the men acted suspicious and when picked up were in possession of a homemade blackjack, three knives and pornographic pictures. They were turned over to the custody of the Military Police from the Virginia base.

A delegation from Lighthouse Drive asked about the progress of the project to widen and repave that thoroughfare. They were advised that the village is negotiating for additional land along the road in order to proceed with the widening project. Difficulty in securing the land has been encountered, it was reported.

Mrs. Herbert Gertner of Kingston Elected President of Hadassah; Donor Day June 14

Mrs. Herbert Gertner, 61 Wilson Avenue, was elected president of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah at the April meeting held recently at Temple Emanuel.

Serving with Mrs. Gertner will be the Mmes. Sidney Halpern, Walter Suskind and Alvin Motzkin, vice presidents; Sidney Treinkman, treasurer; Manuel Lipton, financial secretary; Alfred Zamm, recording secretary; William Buchbinder, corresponding secretary; Irving Josephson, secretary to the board; and Stewart Ritchie, president's secretary. Mrs. George Starkman, nominations chairman, presented the slate. Installation of new Hadassah officers is set for June 1.

Mrs. Arthur Landesman presided over the meeting; Mrs. Gertner gave the invocation. Mrs. Alvin Motzkin reported on plans for "Eye Bank Day" May 20, when Hadassah members will solicit funds from the community for the fight against trachoma, a dread eye disease, as part of the organization's work for Hadassah Medical Organization. Additional workers are needed; those who can aid should contact Mrs. Motzkin.

Mrs. Alfred Horowitz reported on the successful HMO ad page, published in The Freeman April 25, while Mrs. Joseph Horowitz gave a report on the special HMO benefit, with a trip to Puerto Rico to be awarded May 6. The organization's thanks were given to the chairmen and their workers who were responsible for the two most successful projects.

Hadassah culminates its work for HMO with its "Donor Day" set June 14 at the Nevele. Reservations may be made with the Mmes. Alvin Motzkin, George Starkman or Arthur London.

Mrs. William Buchbinder, co-chairman with Mrs. Murray Weiss of the Jewish National Fund drive, asked workers to complete their lists immediately. Mrs. N. B. Gross, tourism chairman, told the members that three of the group, the Mmes. Oscar London, Ben Suskind and Sidney Wolff, were soon to tour Israel.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Leon Freedman of Nanuet, who will be installed next month as president of the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah. A member of the national Hadassah Medical Organization committee, she spoke on the life-giving work that HMO carries on in Israel and other countries. She reminded the members that in the 21-building medical center outside Jerusalem, "yau care for the sick in mind and body, bring new Sabras (native-born Israelis) into the world and carry on research for all Israel."

She noted that the hospital staff practices the most advanced eye surgery methods in the world as part of the fight against trachoma, a dread eye disease which leads to blindness. Hadassah medical teams had isolated the trachoma virus and almost curbed incidence of the disease; however vast waves of migration of Jews fleeing from Arab countries has brought back a resurgence. "An old man who can read a newspaper after many years of blindness, three sisters born with congenital eye disease who can now see light—that's what we have accomplished with money raised for HMO," Mrs. Freedman said.

The local chapter of Hadassah will add its efforts to the fight against trachoma with its annual "Eye Bank Day" drive set for Wednesday, May 20.

The speaker told her audience that when the Belgians, including doctors, fled the Congo, leaving the sick without care, the first plane arriving was one filled with Israeli nurses and doctors, who set up clinics, set native staff members to Israel for training, and stayed on until enough personnel were ready to take over all medical installations.

ANNUAL YWCA LUNCHEON—Discussing 40 years of progress at the annual meeting and anniversary luncheon of the Young Women's Christian Association are Miss Winifred Wygal, former national staff member and guest speaker; Miss Frances Maxwell, executive director and Mrs. Fred Burnett, luncheon chairman. Mrs. John Warren is chairman of the 40th anniversary committee. The event was held Saturday at the Fair Street Reformed Church. (Freeman photo)

YWCA Urged to Accept Challenge of Change By Anniversary Luncheon Speaker Saturday

"The YWCA believes in change and accepts the challenge to offer more opportunity for those who feel they are 'second class' citizens!" Miss Winnifred Wygal said Saturday afternoon, as she addressed the 100 members attending the 40th anniversary luncheon and annual meeting of the YWCA.

Miss Wygal, former national staff member, urged the local association to learn to take its place in a world where three-quarters of the people are not white skinned, and to keep the activities available for all who wish to step in the door, no matter what race or religion they might be.

The luncheon meeting held at the Fair Street Reformed Church, was presided over by the outgoing president, Mrs. William Wood, who introduced the staff, and thanked all of the board of directors members for their cooperation during the past year. Mrs. Edwin C. Coon gave the devotions, Mrs. Frank W. Thompson Sr. gave a brief resume of the beginnings of the local association 40 years ago.

Elected to a three-year term on the board at this meeting were Mrs. Fred Burnett, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. John Glennon, Miss Jean Harvey, Miss Louise Luther, Miss Mary Staples, Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge and Mrs. John Warren.

Elected to the nominating committee for a one year term were from the board, Mrs. Henry Millonig, Mrs. Herbert H. Reuner, and Miss Agnes Scott Smith, and from the membership, Mrs. Helen Gill, Miss Frances Osterhoudt, Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer, and Mrs. Marshall Winchell.

Mrs. Fred Port, assistant Y-Teen program director, announced the winners of the YWCA Week poster contest held recently are Late Mates, Lauri Lyke; fifth and sixth grades, Mary Lannen, first, and Kathy Hogan, second.

Miss Frances Maxwell, in her report to the association on the National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio in April, told of the needs and requests from the Y-Teens and of the deep and inspiring messages many of the Y-Teens gave which swayed the thinking of some of the adults on the recommendation from the National Board that the proposed change in holding National Conventions every three years be changed to every four years. Mrs. Harold Davis, the other delegate from the local association, who was unable to be present at the luncheon, sent a message read by Mrs. Donald Snell, in which she said one could not report in words what inspiration was gained by going to convention, but that through a very moving "witness" which some 2000 of the 2,375 delegates gave, in standing for a five-minute silence in the Cleveland Public Square, to express sympathy with those in the civil rights movement, one could sense the togetherness of all those attending.

Mrs. Eleanor Booth, retiring executive director, was presented with a corsage and engraved silver tray, from the clubs of the YWCA, in appreciation of her work during the past five years as the executive director, and wishing her many happy years in her new home in Maine.

Each member attending was given a souvenir booklet depicting the highlights of the past 40 years. The booklet was compiled by the 40th Anniversary Committee, with Miss Agnes Scott Smith as editor. Members not attending the luncheon will be sent a booklet in the mail.

Mrs. Fred Burnett and her committee made the luncheon arrangements and Mrs. John Warren, chairman of the 40th anniversary committee, was in charge of the program.

FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS ON OFFICE DESK

Q: Is it in good taste for a man to display pictures of his wife and children on his desk in a business office?

A: If the desk is one of several in a room, it is not the proper place for photographs of his wife and children, but if he is alone in his own office, it would be quite all right.

Relationship After Death

Q: My son died several years ago. He was married and had two daughters. I have always been very fond of my daughter-in-law and we have remained very close, even now that she has remarried. Her husband is exceedingly kind and attentive when I go to see them. Recently when I visited them, my daughter-in-law introduced me to a guest as "my mother-in-law." The guest informed my daughter-in-law that she was wrong to have introduced me in this way and said that I am no longer her mother-in-law and she no longer my daughter-in-law. What have you to say about this?

A: She is still your daughter-in-law and you are obviously still her mother-in-law in her affections. However, now that she has remarried, introducing you simply as her mother-in-law is very misleading and gives the impression that you are her second husband's mother. To avoid this confusion, she should introduce you as Mrs. John Smith, "my first husband's mother."

Paper for Wedding Invitations

Q: Will you please tell me if deckle-edged wedding invitations are in good taste?

A: For anything as formal as a wedding invitation, good taste dictates conventional paper with clean-cut edges.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

May Fellowship Day Is Well Attended by Local Church Women

May Fellowship Day for 1964, sponsored by the Kingston Council of United Church Women was observed Friday at the First Presbyterian Church with a good attendance.

The Fellowship Service was preceded by a luncheon served by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. William McVey led the devotions. Mrs. George Wert sang, I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say, accompanied by Miss Edna Merrihew, the church organist.

Mrs. Arthur Eymann, president, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Katherine Greenwood, of Middletown. Mrs. Greenwood is area chairman of the Mid-Hudson Council of United Church Women.

As reported in the Church Woman, UCW Magazine, "May Fellowship Day is a God-given moment to think, pray, repent, pray again, join hands, work, love, and creatively learn to minister as One Family Under God." This was brought out in the message of Mrs. Greenwood, who urged all to continue in faith until all people have the rights which belong to them.

UCW projects of YMCA scholarships for summer camp and aid to migrants were explained by Mrs. Eymann.

An area conference of United Church Women will be held at West Point on May 14. An invitation was extended to attend this meeting.

Urge Red China Talks

TOKYO (AP)—The situation of world communism is grave, the North Vietnamese government said in calling on the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and China to patch up their split.

The North Vietnamese Reds suggested Sunday that Peking and the Kremlin resume the talks they broke off in Moscow last July and pledge to strive "for the unity of the Socialist camp and the international Communist movement."

Emergency Lights

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—While a fire engine generated power for lights in a hospital operating room, doctors performed surgery on a victim of the traffic accident which had knocked out the lights.

Firemen rushed to Malibu Emergency Hospital Sunday after a collision sent a car into a power pole, cutting off the hospital's electricity.

Probing Bomb Explosions at Educator's Home

BURNT HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Saratoga County sheriff's deputies are investigating bomb explosions that shattered a front window at the home of the assistant principal of Burnt Hills High School.

Sheriff Lee A. Scherer said Monday that three homemade bombs had been placed at the home of John Olsen, two of them on the sill of the window. The third was stuffed in a mailbox about 20 feet from the house.

The Olsen family was asleep when the explosions occurred early Sunday. No one was injured.

Why We Say--

ADVANCEMENT: This expression started as a joke in a New Orleans newspaper in 1855. It was used as a disparaging remark about a nearby town that was said to have only one horse to do all types of work. Oddly enough, today the lack of horses used for power in a town is considered an advancement.

Hornung Signs With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—It's official: The Golden Boy is back.

Quietly, without fanfare and in a very routine manner, the Green Bay Packers mailed out a short, prepared release today that Paul Hornung, their all-everything halfback, has signed for his seventh season in the National Football League.

Hornung, a three-time N[illegible] scoring leader, sat out all of last year under suspension by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for betting on games. His was the biggest name involved in the NFL scandals of a year ago.

Both he and Alex Karras, Detroit Lion defensive tackle also under suspension, were reinstated last month.

"I don't expect to have any trouble coming back insofar as physical condition is concerned," Hornung said. "The biggest trouble should be in regaining my timing. I'll be working out with Bart Starr (Green Bay quarterback) and with his help I should be able to regain it."

No figures were mentioned in the routine release—which included Hornung's name with those of three other backs—but estimates of Hornung's salary were in the $25,000-$30,000 range about what he was receiving

The 28-year-old back led the league in scoring in 1959, 1960 and 1961, then missed about half of the 1962 season because of military service. He was still able to help the Packers to their second straight NFL championship.

When he was suspended last season, the Packers slipped to second in the Western Division behind league champion Chicago.

Rios Pitches DUSO Verdict In Hilly City

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Some gritty pitching by Gene Rios, a dropped infield pop, a ribbed defense and a quick but effective relief job by Brian Bach combined to give Kingston a 4-1 DUSO victory at Newburgh yesterday and move the Maroon into second place in the circuit standings.

In the other league contest, Port Jervis walloped Middletown, 8-1, behind the pitching of Joe Nolan and remained unbeaten.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Port Jervis	2	0
Kingston	2	1
Newburgh	1	1
Middletown	1	2
Poughkeepsie	0	2

Rios, who lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to Port Jervis last week when he committed a balk, must have been wondering if his mates were ever going to score for him. He was locked in a scoreless duel with lefty Mickey Scott of the Goldies as the locals came to bat in the sixth.

With one out, Paul Gruner singled up the middle, only the third hit off Scott, who baffled the KHS batters with his slow stuff.

The Ball Is Dropped

After Rod DeVeau forced Gruner at second, Joe Amendola hit a pop between first and second. It looked like an easy out, which would have enabled Scott to escape the inning without a run. However, it was dropped and runners were on first and third.

That was the break the visitors needed. Mike Canning followed with his second hit to break the deadlock. Then Neil Bechtold and Bill Egan collected base hits. Egan was cut down at second but by this time four runs were in.

The Goldies, who kept pecking away at Rios all afternoon finally dented the scoring column in the sixth as catcher Kevin Shay walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a hit by Nick Galati.

Summon Bach

Newburgh threatened again in the seventh, when with two outs, Rios walked Dennis Banker and Shay singled. At this point, coach Al Gruner summoned Bach in from the bullpen. He fanned the dangerous Pete Petrillo to insure the verdict.

The defending champions had several opportunities to get at Rios but the sopohomore lefty rose to the occasion each time. His toughest moment came in the third when he lost his control and loaded the bases on walks.

Gene than ran the count to 3 and 2 on Petrillo, the cleanup hitter, before fanning him on a fast ball.

The home side had runners on base in every inning but the second and fifth. Rios was aided by a good defense. Shortstop Mike Canning was particularly impressive with some neat fielding gems. He saved a run in the fourth by picking up a ball which bounced off Rios' glove and threw the runner out at first on a bang-bang play. There was a runner on third at the time.

Kingston, with a 4-2 mark overall, will host Arlington Wednesday afternoon and Poughkeepsie in a DUSO game on Thursday.

KBA Directors Propose Change in Membership

Kingston Bowling Association directors will vote on a proposed amendment which would scrap the present team membership plan to individual membership at the annual meeting, May 12.

Several other changes and options in the current by-laws will be voted on, in addition to the annual election of officers.

The new membership clause recommended by the executive committee would set up individual membership, with combined ABC and KBA dues set at $2 per individual, regardless of the number of leagues he bowls in.

Each individual bowler would make application for membership and pay his dues through his league or any one league, if he competes in more than one. Bowlers competing in more than one league would be issued receipts to establish their eligibility for all leagues.

Create New Post

The executive committee has also proposed the creation of an assistant secretary-treasurer and also set up definite areas of responsiblity for its vice presidents. Fore example, the first vice president is automatically tournament manager for the association tournament. The other proposed designations: second vice president, auditing chairman; third vice president, publicity; fourth vice president, awards chairman and fifth vice president, Rules committee.

The salaries of the secretary-trasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer would be set annually by the executive committee.

The section dealing with life members has also been clarified as follows: "Life Members in this association shall be entitled to vote at meetings of the Board of Directors. The conditions for Life Memberships are as follows: (a) an association member must have served on the executive committee for a minimum of five years, including one term as president or (b) an association member must have served on the executive committee for a minimum of ten years.

Nominees for committeemen are: Raymond Bellows, Norman Bowen, Vincent Carpino, John Frederick, Tracy Jordan, George Kenneda, John Lowe, Lawrence McHugh, Emilio Primo, Joseph Primo. The following committeemen are to be voted on only by representatives of the designated area: Robert Burgher, Boiceville; Henry Meigel, New Paltz; Gerard Michaelis, New Paltz.

Philip Battaglia, incumbent president, has been nominated for life membership.

Association leagues have the right under the by-laws to propose alternate nominations for any place on the ticket.

Colavito Hits Pair To Pace KC Triumph

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Orlando Pena can leave his bubble gum and crayons at home as long as Rocky Colavito keeps the horns tootin'.

The Kansas City hurler, who drew reprimands last week for his habit of blowing bubbles while pitching and marking his glove with crayons, beat the Los Angeles Angels 7-4 Monday night for the A's third straight victory.

Pena didn't have any of his playthings with him but he had Colavito and that was all he needed. The Rock crashed his seventh and eighth homers of the year, each time setting off the complicated system of lights and horns which greet each Athletic homer in Municipal Stadium.

The circuit shots gave Colavito the American League lead and kept the horns tooting overtime. The A's have belted eight homers in the last three games and 24 in their 12 home games.

Colavito's first homer, with the bases empty in the fifth, gave Kansas City a 3-2 edge. He also connected in the eighth with Jim Gentile aboard, and Bill Bryan followed with another home run for the A's.

Near the Yankees

The victory nudged the A's to within one-half game of owner Charles Finley's No. 1 targets, the New York Yankees, who, along with the Detroit Tigers, were idle.

In other American League games, Chicago overcame two Bob Allison homers and beat Minnesota 10-5; Leon Wagner clubbed a grand-slam homer as Cleveland defeated Boston 7-4 and Baltimore exploded for an eight-run inning on just four hits while walloping Washington 11-4.

The Angels bounced back to tie the A's after Colavito's first homer. But Nelson Mathews doubled with one out in the seventh and came home with the go-ahead run when Pena stroked a clutch single.

The eighth-inning homers by Colavito and Bryan iced Pena's third victory in five decisions.

Allison drove in all of Minnesota's runs with his fifth and sixth homers but the White Sox produced a nibbling attack to win it. Three infield hits, a walk, a wild pitch and clutch singles by Al Weis and pitcher Joel Horlen produced a six-run sixth that gave Chicago the lead.

Wagner snapped a 3-3 tie with his seventh-inning shot off rookie Bill Spanswick. The veteran outfielder also singled in another Indian run hiking his league-leading runs batted in total to 19.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Some men never outgrow the need for a wagon

A wagon has a way with men. Always has. Always will. Especially when it's a Dodge Wagon. Case in point: that Polara shown above. As rugged and handsome a carryall as you've ever laid hands on.

Inside—saddle-grained vinyl that resists cracking, scuffing, shrinking, stretching. Hand-fitted carpeting on the floor. A center armrest in front that snaps down solidly under your arm.

And there's room. Big, open room you can cram to the roof. Seating for six or nine passengers. And underhood—a choice of engines ranging from a frisky Six to an optional, ripsnortin' 426 cubic inch V8. It's a tough combination to beat.

Look 'em over at your Dodge Dealer's. The wagons that have a way with men—Dodge Wagons. Mansized. Man-powered. Eight versions to pick from. (And you might as well bring along your better half. Seems the gals prefer the big, strong, silent type, too.)

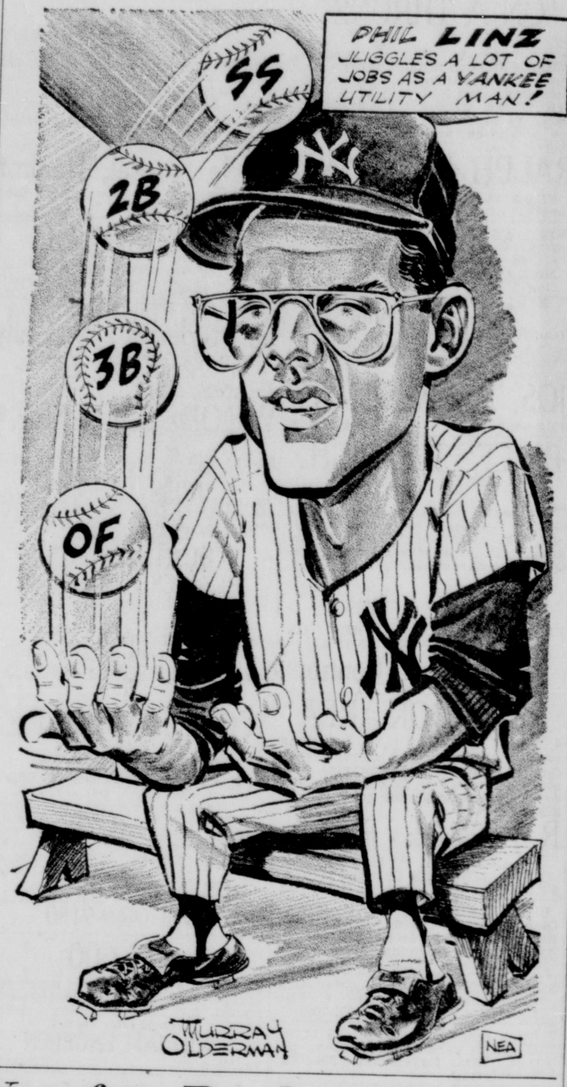
KEEPING BUSY



Koufax Back in Stride, Fans 13 in 2-1 Victory

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax threw 39 strikes. Bob Gibson threw two beanballs and one bat.

Koufax won. Gibson didn't.

Moral: Strikes are more effective — and less expensive.

Koufax, making his first start since injuring his arm April 22, pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-1, 10-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs Monday night, allowing only three hits and striking out 13 in an impressive return.

It was the 52nd time in his major league career that Koufax had struck out 10 or more in a game, leaving him only two 10-strikeout performances away from the record of 54 held by both Rube Waddell and Bob Feller.

Gibson, meanwhile, got involved in the first beanball incident of the season and drew an automatic $50 fine along with Philadelphia's Jack Baldschun. The St. Louis right-hander also left himself open for further action when he was ejected for throwing his bat toward the mound in the fourth inning.

Gibson threw two fast balls at the head of Phillies' pitcher Dennis Bennett in the third inning, apparently in retaliation for Bennett's decking the Cardinals' Julian Javier in the second inning. Gibson drew a warning from plate umpire Doug Harvey —and with it the automatic $50 fine.

Gibson Gets Thumb

Then, in the fourth, with Baldschun on the mound for the Phillies, Gibson was hit in the side by a pitch, and flipped his bat toward the mound. Baldschun immediately drew a warning and the automatic fine while Gibson drew a thumb from Harvey.

Gibson not only lost money—but a victory as well. When he left the Cardinals were leading 5-1 and won 9-2. Gibson, however did not qualify for the triumph because he didn't pitch the required five innings.

Who got the easy victory?

Lucky Roger Craig.

In other National League action, a fight broke out after Milwaukee had edged the New York Mets 2-1 behind Denny Lemaster's two-hit pitching, Willie Mays hit home run No. 10 in San Francisco's 3-2, 12-inning victory over Houston and Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 4-2.

Koufax had a one-hitter going until the eighth when Andre Rodgers tied the score 1-1 with a homer. The Dodgers won in the 10th when Dick Ellsworth, who allowed only eight hits, walked Dick Tracewski, hit Koufax on the foot with a pitch and then was touched for a single up the middle by Maury Wills.

Ken Boyer drove in four runs with a triple and two singles and Curt Flood, Carl Warwick and Tim McCarver collected homers in the Cardinals' victory over the Phillies. Warwick hit his homer, a two-run shot, on the first pitch after Gibson's bat-throwing incident, and Craig had little difficulty holding the 7-1 lead.

At Milwaukee, Lemaster gave up a leadoff homer to Charlie Smith in the first inning, then kept the Mets hitless until the ninth when Ron Hunt poked a one-out single. When Frank Thomas grounded out, Hunt raced around third and tried to score on the play. He was doubled up at home, where catcher Ed Bailey held onto the throw despite being knocked down by Hunt.

Bailey started to go after Hunt, but was restrained. However, Rod Kanehl of the Mets, who wasn't in the game, came off the bench and got involved in two short battles. He was jumped on by Len Gabrielson, then tangled with Gene Oliver before the umpires restored order.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Will Visibility Help the Mets?

NEW YORK (AP)—Will visibility improve the New York Mets?

Probably not, but the Mets are going to try. They will play their first night game in their new Shea Stadium Wednesday night against the Cincinnati Reds—who started the whole business of getting the baseball troops out of the hot sun, back in 1935.

And the Mets are going to have twice as much light, which is not a bad idea since they are back in the cellar again.

The lights in the new park will be turned on in ceremony just before the game starts. Chief button pusher will be Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., now assistant secretary of commerce, whose President father did the job May 24, 1935.

The Cincinnati park was lighted with eight towers containing 616 bulbs, for the 1935 inaugural. The lamps were about 1,500 watts each, for a total of about one million watts.

Shea Stadium has only two light towers. The other lights are hung on the rim of the roof. There are 1,600 bulbs—half of them mercury and half quartz, giving both brilliant and soft light—in the Shea Stadium system, and they provide about two million watts.

That may still not be enough to make the Mets look good.

Calder Trophy To Laperriere

MONTREAL (AP) — Jacques Laperriere, the young defenseman who helped the Montreal Canadiens to a surprise regular season title, today was named winner of the Calder Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's rookie-of-the-year.

Laperriere collected a total of 117 points in the voting by hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the circuit's six cities. The voting was done after the first half of the campaign, based on games through Dec. 31, and again after the close of the season.

Outlook Eases On Low Water Levels in Systems

TORONTO (AP)— Abnormally low water levels on the Great Lakes and upper St. Lawrence River system have been causing harassment to shipping and concern to waterside industry, but the situation appears to be easing.

Lakes Huron and Michigan have hit an all-time low. Levels on the lakes generally are described by one official as at a "once-in-a-life-time low."

Some larger vessels have been unable to load full cargo and navigate certain channels and ports. Pleasure boating has been hit by stranded docks and navigation obstructions in shallow water.

Fears were expressed for the jobs of up to 1,000 men at the shipyards at Collingwood, Ont. The water there was 3 feet below normal and launchings could become impossible.

With the Niagara River between Lakes Ontario and Erie at its lowest on record, an Ontario hydro spokesman said billions of kilowatt hours of electricity could be lost at the Niagara Falls plant. The St. Lawrence Seaway hydro installation near Cornwall is operating at two-thirds of normal.

An encouraging word has come from the U.S. lakes survey at Detroit, however. It forecasts rises of between one and nine inches for this month.

Ulster Kiwanis Pushes Sale of Circus Tickets

Discussion about the 18th annual presentation of the Von Brothers (formerly Hunt Brothers) Three Ring Circus, under sponsorship of the Ulster Kiwanis Club, marked a meeting of the club's board of directors Monday night in Ang-El's Restaurant.

The circus will play in Kingston on July 6.

Orvil E. Norman, chairman of the event, told club directors that, "Our organization is bringing the world's second largest motorized circus here to enable the children of our community to enjoy a traditionally wholesome form of unique entertainment. Profits derived from sponsoring the circus will go towards our scholarship fund."

Norman said, "Our fund will benefit the greatest from the sale of advance tickets by our members. We receive up to 50 per cent of the proceeds from these tickets. In addition," he said, "patrons purchasing tickets in advance of the circus day will save waiting in line. We are certain that the people of Ulster County will back us 100 per cent in our organization's project."

Hailed as "bigger and better than ever," the 1964 circus edition will again feature scores of imported and domestic circus acts, the traditional pageant spectacles, a steel arena of jungle-bred lions, liberty horses, trapeze chimpanzees, llamas, camels and animal-land fantasies climaxed by the world renowned Von Brothers elephant ballet.

Capitol News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CUBA-RADAR: The Soviets have removed from Cuba a sophisticated new radar system that probably would have increased the effectiveness of Fidel Castro's antiaircraft missiles, U.S. sources said Monday night.

The radar system, which sources said had not been seen anywhere else but in Cuba, was reported withdrawn two or three months ago.

PERIPATETIC: More than 2,000 years ago in Athens, the philosopher Aristotle lectured his pupils on morals, art and politics while walking in his garden, thus founding the peripatetic school.

Now President Johnson comes along to found the peripatetic press conference, leading White House newsmen through his garden while discussing politics, poverty, golf, family and dogs.

A seven-lap conference Monday left some of the score of reporters perspiring and a bit winded but Johnson in full stride.

The costars of the show were Him and Her whose yelps were reported around the world last week when the President lifted the two beagles by their ears.

The two dogs were being walked on a chain and Johnson called them over.

Him rolled over to have his belly scratched. Johnson obliged then lifted both dogs by the ears again while the cameramen took pictures. Someone noted that Him had not yelped and the President replied with a grin:

"He doesn't yelp unless an AP photographer gets too close to him."

U.S.-HUNGARY: The United States and Hungary have agreed to start quiet negotiations aimed at improving relations, authoritative sources reported Monday.

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — Ronald P. Bragg, 17, of Batavia, was injured fatally Monday night when the bicycle he and a companion were riding was struck by a truck on Route 5 east of here, police said.

Leaders Confer On Amendments To Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Senate leaders of both parties arranged to confer with Justice Department officials today in an effort to agree on amendments to the House-passed civil rights bill.

"We are going to take a look at the whole package of amendments and see where we can strike an area of agreement," Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said.

With the Senate starting the 48th day of its civil rights debate, Dirksen said the time had come to find out "where we stand."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader and floor manager of the bill, said he was looking for an agreement that would make it possible to get the two-thirds majority necessary to choke off a filibuster by Southern opponents of the bill.

As of now proponents of the bill concede they are short of the required votes—67 if all 100 senators vote.

Work for Reliefers

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A work program for qualified adults who are receiving relief payments from the Binghamton Welfare Department was approved unanimously Monday night by the 13-member City Council.

Under the program, adults on relief could be required — if physically able—to do work for the city, county or state, provided the work already was not being done by government employers.

New Policy on Civil Rights

Methodist Conference Urges Integration at Local Level

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Methodist Church, after spirited debate, has adopted a sweeping policy on civil rights designed to persuade Methodists to abolish racial segregation in their churches and in communities in general.

Delegates to a worldwide General Conference of the Methodist Church approved the policy by a show of hands Monday night.

The policy is embodied in a report by the Committee on Christian Social Concerns. It is now church policy but is not church law.

This means that the policy cannot be enforced by such measures as expulsion or censure.

Highlights of Policy

Some of the highlights of the policy are:

—Pastors and church officials are to open their churches to persons of all races.

—Methodist bodies, organizations and individual Methodists are to use their influence to secure fair employment practices and non-segregated services in the corporations in which they hold investments.

—Equal rights should be provided for voting, law enforcement, education, employment, housing, and public accommodations.

—Elimination of racial segregation, including de facto segregation, in all public and Methodist schools.

The term "civil disobedience" was omitted from a substitute paragraph before the report came to a vote before about 900 delegates.

Substitute Paragraph

The substitute paragraph read in part:

"In some instances, where legal recourse is unavailable or inadequate for redress of grievances from laws or their application that, on their face, are unjust or immoral, the Christian conscience will obey God rather than man."

The chairman of the commission which drafted the report, Harold A. Bosley of New York City, told the conference that the substitute portion was not a weaker version.

"We do not intend to give a single inch in endorsing the principle of civil disobedience."

The adoption of the policy came as the conference entered its second week in Pittsburgh. The conference, which meets very four years, is the supreme policy-making body in the church.

Fall From Bed Fatal

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A 2½ month-old girl died at Binghamton General Hospital Monday night as the result of injuries suffered in a fall from a bed a few hours earlier.

The infant, Pamela Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hill, died of a fractured skull, according to Broome County Coroner Vincent M. Maddi.

Moscoso Resigns From AFP Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teodoro Moscoso, a one-time bright star in the Kennedy administration as key man in the Alliance for Progress but shunted to a lesser task by President Johnson, has turned in his resignation.

Johnson disclosed Moscoso's resignation as U.S. representative on the Alliance's Inter-American Committee with a statement Monday which said Moscoso's counsel will be sorely missed by "all who have worked with him in this vast cooperative undertaking."

Moscoso, a Puerto Rican, is resigning to accept an appointment by Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico as a member of a federal commission to study Puerto Rico's future political status, Johnson said.

No motor vehicles are allowed inside the walls of the city of Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Must Show On Ackert Dismissal

Deckleman Signs Order for Friday

Saugerties Village Board was served Monday with a show cause order returnable at Albany Friday, seeking to nullify the dismissal of the petitioner Ernest R. Ackert, as village clerk and registrar, and the appointment of Shirley Maines as deputy clerk.

The order was signed by Supreme Court Judge William Deckleman and is returnable at Albany Court House at 10 a. m. Friday.

Seeks Nullification

The legal paper in part states the Village Board of Trustees must show cause why an order should not be entered herein nullifying the dismissal of the petitioner, Ernest R. Ackert as registrar and nullifying the appointment of Shirley Maines as deputy clerk of said village, and why the petitioner should not have such other and further relief as may be just, proper and equitable.

The order was served on Mayor William Ziegler yesterday.

The petition for the order states in part that on April 6 the Village Board appointed Shirley Maines as deputy, and that said board has authorized the continuance of William McCormack as deputy registrar, and that the appointment by the Village Board of a deputy village clerk and a deputy registrar is illegal, irregular and a violation of Paragraph 1, Section 43 of the Village Law.

No Reason at First

The petition also states that all acts committed and duties discharged by the alleged deputy village clerk are illegal, null, void and of no effect.

Ackert was not reappointed to the village clerk-treasurer post at the April 6 organizational meeting of the Village Board, and at that time no reason for the board's action was announced.

At the April 27 meeting of the board, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar of vital statistics by unanimous action of the Village Board.

State Audit Quoted

At that time the board issued a statement quoting a 1963 State Board of Audit and Control report indicating a bookkeeping shortage of $1,381.06 over a three-year period.

Ackert on two occasions has asked the state audit bureau for a reevaluation of the audit and each time submitted further information to justify bookkeeping differences between the state audit and his clerk-treasurer's report.

In one of his letters to the chief examiner, Ackert noted that cash recipts in the general fund on the audit report at the end of May 31, were not the same as the village clerk-treasurer's report, and he asked the department to justify the amount posted as total cash receipts.

Prior to the April 27 village

Lipton Hearing Set On Permanent Buses

The Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing here in two weeks on an application by the Urban Transit Corp. for a permanent certificate of public convenience and necessity, it was learned today.

Richard W. Griggs, attorney for Julius Lipton, operator of UTC, which took over the bus franchise serving the city last November, told The Freeman that the hearing was scheduled for Tuesday, May 19 in the Municipal Auditorium. He said the hearing would probably be before PSC Examiner Isadore E. Crade, who also heard the recent application by Urban Transit for extension of its service from the city to the Town of Ulster.

To Stay in Business

Griggs confirmed that the UTC application for a "permanent" certificate means that the company plans to maintain the franchise and provide bus service to the city, and possibly the Town of Ulster, "indefinitely." Shortly after the Kingston City Transportation Corp. requested and was granted dissolution of its bus service franchise, Urban Transit filed an application with the PSC for a temporary certificate to maintain the franchise.

Griggs said the certificate, which was granted on a six-month basis, expired on May 1 and it was necessary to apply for an extension. However, instead of applying for another six-month extension, the firm applied for a permanent certificate.

Awaiting Answer

Meanwhile, Griggs said, UTC was awaiting a ruling from Examiner Crade on Urban Transit's hearing last April 7 on the bus firm's application to extend its service from the city limits to a new route along Albany Avenue Extension into the Town of Ulster at Boice's Lane.

Crade reserved decision pending the filing of Urban Transit's financial records for 1963 and a map showing existing bus routes and the proposed route to be used by UTC. Griggs said those papers have been filed and he expected to receive a ruling shortly from the PSC.

Other Line Opposes

Officials of Mountain View Coach Lines Inc., which maintains service on a portion of the proposed extended route into the Town of Ulster, appeared at the April 7 hearing to oppose the application of Urban Transit for the route extension. However, Mountain View did not request a second hearing on the application, to which it was entitled under law.

Lipton also operates Lipton's Bee Line, which provides service to points between Kingston and Saugerties.

Griggs said that if the extension route is granted into Ulster, the company will provide transfers to and from any routes between the city and the township. Central Broadway will be the focal point in the extended route operation, he said.

9 Yanks Die in Worst Viet Air Tragedy for U.S.

TAN HIEP, South Viet Nam (AP)—A big U.S. Army Caribou transport plane burst into flames a few seconds after taking off today and crashed south of Saigon. It was the worst American military air disaster in Viet Nam.

All 15 persons aboard — nine Americans and six Vietnamese military personnel—were killled.

The crash occurred 25 miles southwest of Saigon. The plane had taken off from the Tan Hiep military airfield bound for the South Viet Nam capital.

Two American helicopters arrived at the scene two minutes after the crash. Others from Tan Hiep followed quickly. It was too late to help those aboard the plane.

Eight Thrown From Wreckage

Eight bodies were thrown from the blazing wreckage into the rock-hard rice field beside a Vietnamese village. The helicopter crews sprayed the bodies with fire extinguishers and dragged them to the edge of the field.

The other bodies were pulled from the charred wreckage. One of the pilots had to be cut from his seat.

Witnesses at Tan Hiep said the twin-engine Caribou's left engine was smoking as it took off and the smoke thickened as the plane rose. The control tower told the pilot the engine was on fire.

"He seemed to get control of the fire for a moment," a witness said, "and appeared to have feathered his engines, probably with his carbon dioxide containers. The plane seemed to wheel around, got up to about 100 feet and then plunged down over the treeline two miles away with the engine blazing again."

Another American at the field commented: "When you're at that height and trouble happens there is nothing much you can do."

Mechanical Failure Blamed

Viet Cong snipers have shot at planes landing and taking off at Tan Hiep, but American officers at the field said there was no reason to believe Communist bullets had hit the Caribou.

"Apparently it was a mechanical failure," one officer said.

Five American visitors from Clark Air Force Base, in the Philippines, would have been aboard the plane if the pilot had not been impatient to take off.

M. Sgt. James Tucker of Gainesville, Ga., said he and the other four soldiers were racing across the airstrip to get the plane for Saigon. They nearly reached it, but the pilot impatiently waved them away.

The Caribou is a twin-engine, Canadian - made aircraft designed to provide rapid mobility for troops, equipment and supplies in forward battle areas. It can carry 32 fully equipped soldiers.

In Saigon, meanwhile, Vietnamese taxi drivers threatened a "drive on" against the U.S. Embassy because of the fatal shooting of two Vietnamese taxi

French Are Blocking Tariff Cut

Fear 50 PC Slash And Competition

GENEVA (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's France today was blocking a move to declare a 50 per cent cut in tariffs as the official goal of the Kennedy Round negotiations to break down international trade barriers.

This is the maximum cut that can be made under the U.S. Trade Expansion Act put through by President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

France is unwilling to pledge itself to this figure even though it is a goal that the 75 nations in the talks are unlikely to achieve.

Fear Competition

Some French industrialists fear a sharp lowering of tariffs will expose them to competition they can't meet.

Preliminary work on the Kennedy Round has been in progress for more than a year. The talks opened officially Monday with speeches by representatives of the leading countries involved including former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, President Johnson's chief negotiator.

Valery Giscard d'Estaing, De Gaulle's minister of finance and economics, also was present. Authoritative sources said he was the key figure in meetings of the representatives of the European Common Market, which includes West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg as well as France.

The Two Giants

The Common Market and the United States are the two giants of the Kennedy Round. Its success depends on agreement between them.

Leading figures at the session agreed that little or nothing could be done in the two or three days of top-level meetings this week.

It will be at least a year, and probably more, before the Kennedy Round produces any binding agreements.

But there is strong hope that this meeting will result in at least a statement of the 50 per cent goal. There also is expectation that Sept. 10 will be set as the deadline for submitting lists of exceptions—items on which participating countries will not accept across-the-board tariff cuts but will insist on negotiating separately.

At closed meetings of the Common Market countries that lasted late into the night, authoritative sources said the French held out against both these points.

Decision Is Reserved On God Out of Pledge

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals has reserved decision on a request that it eliminate the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag which is recited daily in public schools throughout the state.

Representatives of the Freethinkers of America argued before the state's highest court Monday that the presence of the words "under God" in a public school exercise violated the U. S. Constitution's mandate for separation of church and state.

The Education Department said the pledge was a patriotic exercise and its basic character was not altered by the addition of the two words in 1954.

Joseph Lewis, president, and Alfred Klein, a member of the Freethinkers of America, argued that recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court against religious activity in public schools required the court to grant their request.

The case grew out of a 1954 act of Congress in which the disputed words were inserted to make the pledge read "...one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

The Education Department then revised the recommended pledge for New York's public schools and made it conform with the federal pledge.

Lewis and Klein opened their court battle in 1956. They lost in both State Supreme Court and in the Appellate Division for the Third Judicial Department.

They held that the phrase "under God" violated the federal and state constitutions "by infringing on the fundamental principle of separation of church and state through teachings that constitute the inculcation of a purely religious concept."

Insertion of the challenged words, they contended, was interference with "the freedom of those children and their parents who deem it proper not to believe in or worship any God."

John P. Jehu, representing the Education Department, said the Freethinkers were "asking for the impossible" — trying to keep their children from all contact with the fact that most people believe in God and religion.

Another American at the field commented: "When you're at that height and trouble happens there is nothing much you can do."

Mechanical Failure Blamed

Viet Cong snipers have shot at planes landing and taking off at Tan Hiep, but American officers at the field said there was no reason to believe Communist bullets had hit the Caribou.

"Apparently it was a mechanical failure," one officer said.

Five American visitors from Clark Air Force Base, in the Philippines, would have been aboard the plane if the pilot had not been impatient to take off.

M. Sgt. James Tucker of Gainesville, Ga., said he and the other four soldiers were racing across the airstrip to get the plane for Saigon. They nearly reached it, but the pilot impatiently waved them away.

The Caribou is a twin-engine, Canadian - made aircraft designed to provide rapid mobility for troops, equipment and supplies in forward battle areas. It can carry 32 fully equipped soldiers.

In Saigon, meanwhile, Vietnamese taxi drivers threatened a "drive on" against the U.S. Embassy because of the fatal shooting of two Vietnamese taxi

Rumors Fly Again On Cuba Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors are flying once again among Cuban exiles that new efforts will be made soon to topple Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

These reports, increasingly persistent both in Washington and in Miami, say the Castro Communist regime soon may find itself under terrorist and sabotage attacks both from within Cuba and from without.

The exiles say the outside groups will come from areas other than the United States.

Such a move, they explain, would avoid international complications for Washington as well as interference by U.S planes and ships with such raiding parties.

Officials Surprised

U.S. officials appeared surprised when asked about the rumors. They indicated they had no information whatever about any such plans by the exiles, although they said they had read recently a statement by one Cuban exile leader, Manolo Ray, now living in Puerto Rico, that he and other leaders will be fighting inside Cuba by May 20.

Failure in 1961

The only major organized effort to overthrow the Castro government came in April 1961, when Cuban exiles, with U.S. help, failed in a sea and land attack gainst the Castro forces at the Bay of Pigs.

The exiles say a different type operation — much smaller than the Bay of Pigs in some ways, and much larger in others—is being planned.

They indicated the new attempt against Castro would be in the form of persistent sabotage, terrorist and subversion tactics, with no one large group in action, but as many smaller groups functioning as can be organized.

Exile forces have been claiming that despite intensive anti-subversive activity by the Castro government, opposition forces are finding it increasingly possible to infiltrate Cuba.

The anti-Castro groups appar-

Early Voting Slow, Expected To Get Better

Morning voting in today's elections of the Board of Education, Kingston Consolidated School System, was reported to be "very slow."

A spokesman at School No. 3 said it was typical of past trends and was expected to "pick up" this afternoon and this evening. Another spokesman at Brigham said early voting there also was scattered.

The polls opened at 9 a. m. and will remain open to 9 p. m. in the school system's 18 voting districts. A large turnout of the 3,200 eligible district voters was anticipated.

Four Candidates

Four candidates are seeking three seats on the Board of Education. They are Richard P. Boice and Harold E. Keator, both of Lake Katrine, and Francis Stern-Montagny, of Hurley, who have been endorsed by the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee; and Everette Hodge, Kingston mortician, president of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who has been endorsed by the Ulster County Ministerial and Laymen's Alliance.

Labor Is Urged To Help Hold Wage-Price Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, concerned lest a prosperous economy breed inflation, has urged labor leaders to help hold the wage-price line by adhering to "sensible and fair" government guideposts for wage settlements.

Speaking to 139 union chiefs and their wives at a White House dinner Monday night, Johnson—as he did at a similar gathering of industrialists last week — dangled the carrot of "another tax cut in a few years" if the economy keeps expanding.

Fears Inflation

But he warned: "We surely do not want this promise of progress to be threatened by inflation."

Some of the union leaders already have announced they would ignore the guideposts in negotiations this year and Johnson lectured them on the possible hazards in a growing economy.

"As demand increases and unemployment falls, managers will be tempted to raise prices —in spite of the already high profits and continuing excess capacity — and unions will be tempted to force wages up faster than productivity, in spite of already high wages and continuing excessive unemployment" Johnson said.

He said he knew one side is inclined to blame the other for irresponsibility but he declared: "I do not believe labor or business wants a renewed wage-price spiral any more than Barry Goldwater wants to run on the same ticket with Nelson Rockefeller.

"For such a spiral steals savings—eats away at real wages —bleeds the meager income of our older citizens—gives orders and jobs to foreign competitors —and undermines the soundness of the dollar."

Johnson faced a difficult task

A public hearing on the Broadway East urban renewal project is slated for May 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the council chamber, City Hall, and council action on it is expected to come soon after the hearing.

Asian Book Fanning China-Peking Fight

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A Chinese-inspired book circulating in Asia levels sensational charges against Soviet Premier Khrushchev and illuminates the monumental Moscow - Peking battle for domination of revolutionary movements in the underdeveloped world.

Bursting with anti-Khrushchev fury, the book accuses the Soviet leader of such things as plotting against Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba and advocating abandonment of the Communist struggle to take over South Viet Nam and Laos in Southeast Asia.

Real Peking Marks

The charges and documentation could have come only from Peking. With Moscow's latest lament that the Chinese are trying to freeze the Soviet Union out of Asia, indications are that the dispute has gone past the point of no return and that the breaking point is near.

The book was published in Ceylon late last year. It was written in English by Theja Gunaward Hana, a Ceylonese Communist leader who is active in the "Afro-Asian solidarity" movement. Its text indicates it was virtually dictated by the Chinese. The title of the book is Khrushchevism."

Some Accusations

Here are a few of the accusations against Khrushchev:

—That he made a deal with President John F. Kennedy for "20 years of peace" and pledged not to support violent revolutions.

—That he deliberately built up the October 1962 missile crisis to humiliate Fidel Castro so that the Cuban regime would be overthrown in favor of Moscow-trained Communists.

—That he sent agents to Peking to foment trouble between Chinese and Africans, particularly in the university.

—That he plotted the Hungarian uprising in 1956 in a deal with Yugoslav President Tito, only to have it backfire into full-blown revolution.

Revolution Cited

—That he bludgeoned Communist-ruled nations with threats of economic reprisals so they would toe his line. The book said he threatened to boycott the sugar of one nation (obviously Cuba) and that he threatened to expel others from the Communist family, hinting that those threatened were Romania and North Viet Nam or North Korea.

Stirs Central Asia

—That his policies caused rebellion against his rule in Soviet central Asia.

—That the Romanian party accused him of advocating abandonment of collectivization.

—That Khrushchev had to purge Czechoslovak and East German Communist leaders for opposing his line.

—That he bled Red China for repayment of every ruble loaned for the prosecution of the Korean war.

The book, citing little-known documents which must have been supplied by the Red Chinese, goes far back in the history of the Moscow-Peking dispute to portray "flea-bitten Khrushchev" as an "adventurist, opportunist, traitor, manipulator, stage manager — all of which produce the modern revisionist."

Prediction on Romania

The author, once again seeming to echo Peking, predicts that Romania will be the next European Communist nation to

Big Names Feature 6-State Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—A foray into Indiana by segregationist Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and the presence on Ohio's ballot of the famous names Taft and Glenn headlined primary elections today in six states and the District of Columbia.

In Indiana, Gov. Matthew E. Welsh—a stand-in for President Johnson—sought to blunt the impact of Wallace, who polled 33 per cent of Democratic primary votes in his first Northern bid in Wisconsin last month.

Wallace based his appeal on states rights and opposition to the Johnson administration's civil rights bill. But home-state opposition to a sales tax enacted during Welsh's administration was also expected to play a part in boosting Wallace's total.

In Ohio, Rep. Robert Taft Jr. —son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft—was favored over conservative Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for the Republican senatorial nomination. Taft's House vote for the civil rights measure was strongly opposed by Brown.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Stephen M. Young, 75, faced an uncertain challenge from supporters of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, withdrew last month because of a head injury.

But his name remained on the ballot, and some of his backers, convinced he is the only Democrat who can win in November, hoped to propel him back into the race by surprising Young.

Chief interest in other states centered on a Democratic gubernatorial fight in Florida, a sharp battle for Senate nominations in Oklahoma and the issue of unpledged presidential electors in Alabama.

No contests of national significance were on the ballot in either New Mexico or the District of Columbia.

College Center to Include County as Part of Survey

Public attitudes toward the tax cut, poverty, and world politics will be among topics discussed in the next national survey by The University of Michigan's Survey Research Center (SRC).

Between May 1 and June 8, some 1,500 interviews will be conducted in 350 United States communities. These are located in 36 of the 50 states, plus Washington, D. C. Ulster County will be one of the counties in which the survey will be conducted.

Local interviewers in the survey will be Mrs. Walter Herring and Mrs. Edmund Bower. Both will carry credentials from the university to identify them as duly authorized persons.

The study, one of a series of well-known SRC quarterly surveys, is designed to project an accurate picture of how the American people are getting along and how they feel about current topics.

The Center, a division of the Institute for Social Research, has been conducting such research for 18 years. It maintains a national field staff trained to conduct the interviews.

Among interview topics have been much in the news lately will be: People's attitudes

Negotiations Talk Given Area Teachers

Randolph Siegel, president of the Kingston Teachers Association, met with members and interested persons Monday afternoon at the George Washington School to listen to guest speaker H. David Van Dyck.

Mr. Van Dyck, a field representative of the New York State Teacher's Association, gave an informal presentation on the topic, "Professional Negotiations."

It is interesting to note that the term "collective bargaining" in its most common connotation is not applicable to school systems since labor laws that justify it in industry do not pertain to school employes.

Van Dyck also pointed out that many written agreements to negotiate school policies have been adopted by boards of education in the past few years. However, all agreements are subject to the approval of the board involved under education law.

"The New York State Teachers Association believes that procedures must be established within the education law which promote harmonious and cooperative relationships and provide an orderly method for teachers and boards of education to reach mutually satisfactory agreements" he said.

"To implement this policy we (New York State Teachers Association) have submitted legislation to the 1964 legislature to require school authorities to provide their teachers not alone the right but also the specific opportunity to meet with school authorities, to be heard, and to make recommendations concerning school district policies, and to do this if they wish, through representatives of their own choice."

Van Dyck urged local organ-

Nikita Asks End Of Outside Action In Cyprus Rift

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev called Monday for an end to foreign intervention in Cyprus, saying he was confident the warring Greek and Turkish communities could find ways to live in peace in an independent Cyprus republic.

In an interview with the government paper Izvestia, Khrushchev said:

"We, the Soviet people, sympathize with those who are fighting for independence and sovereignty of the republic of Cyprus. The Soviet government has been and is firmly and consistently opposing all attempts from outside to impose on the Cypriots the terms of the solution of the internal problems of this republic."

Khrushchev made no mention of the U.N. peacekeeping force the U.N. Security Council vote on Cyprus or whether he considered it "foreign interference." The Soviet Union abstained in creating the international force.

Time Is Seen Running Out For Major Dairy Legislation

by JOSEPH R. COYNE
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time may be running out for passage this year of major dairy legislation designed to bring the milk supply in closer harmony with demand.

Some of the pressure for passage of the so-called two-price plan requested by several New York dairy groups last year definitely has eased, despite President Johnson's call for its approval. The measure is designed to encourage production for fluid consumption and discourage marketing for other purposes.

A bill incorporating the dual pricing structure passed the Senate last Oct. 10. It has been hanging fire since in the House Agriculture Committee. Hearings might be held next month, but two other farm programs—food for peace and sugar—have priority.

A committee aide said there was little pressure on the group for passage of the plan, which would affect the New York-New Jersey and other federal milk marketing areas.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., who represents a large number of dairy farmers, said he had found no indictions that Congress was willing to approve this year the plan he sponsored after conferring with the state's major dairy groups last spring.

He said pressure for the legislation, heavy last year, hasn't been as pronounced this year because milk surpluses aren't as great. This is confirmed by Agriculture Department figures.

Despite any hearings the House committee might hold in June, if Congress adjourns as scheduled before the Republican National Convention in July, the prospects for last-minute passage of such a complex proposal could be slim.

Its chances could brighten, however, if Congress—as it did in 1960—should decide to return to work after one or both of the political conventions.

The proposed legislation would give farmers a comparatively high price for milk they send to market for fluid consumption. A lesser price would be paid for milk sent to market in excess of a dairyman's fluid milk allotment. This excess would be used, as it is now, to manufacture ice cream, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Dairymen now receive what is known as a blend price—an average between the price received by their marketing pool for fluid and manufacturing milk.

The two-price plan, if approved by Congress, could not become effective in any of the federal milk marketing areas unless it was approved by producers in a referendum.

Defeat of the plan in a referendum would not mean defeat of the entire milk marketing order under the Senate-passed bill.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The thing about interviewing Michael Parks is that you're not sure whether he's going to answer you or slug you.

That's the impression he gives at first. Later you realize this is an earnest young man who might have something to say.

Who is Michael Parks?

Michael Parks is by his own description "a 10-year overnight success." His looks and talent have convinced the Universal City moguls to give him an all-out push to stardom. He has just finished two starring roles: "Daffy" and "Bus Riley's Back in Town." He's Bus Riley in the latter, playing opposite Ann-Margret and Janet Margolin in a William Inge script.

Mike was born in Corona, Calif., 26 years ago, one of five children of a truck driver. He left home at 15 and did everything from picking peas to upholstering caskets, managing to put in three years of college.

He also picked up seven years of stage experience in theaters from Long Bach to Saeramento.

"These casting guys don't even know those theaters exist," says Mike. "They have better actors than these Sunset Boulevard characters with the fancy haircuts, tight pants, straight noses and capped teeth. They are the only kind the casting people look at."

He speaks from bitter experience. For many months his agent tried to peddle him to the studios with no takers. Parks didn't fit the leading man formula. His hair is blond and wild; his wide-jawed face is freckled. His nose is full and slightly off-center. His teeth are all his own.

Parks managed to land some television roles, but nothing really sparked until he did a part on "Channing" this season. Some important studio people championed his cause. The result: The two starring features and the star-making campaign.

His feelings about the fuss that is being made over him are mixed.

"I like doing features," he said. "I like the attention you can give to a role. It's like doing a play, whereas a television show is like doing a scene, it's over so fast."

What he doesn't like is some of the publicity, especially when stories come out comparing him to his predecessors among the movies' angry young men.

"That's stupidity," he said. "If that's all the better some reporters can come up with, I don't want to see them the second time."

His ambition soars high. "I'd like to do a play in New York, and Inge says he wants to write for me," he says. "I'd like to do a play in London. I'd like to have a repertory company, not only for stage but films, too."

Self-Approval Is Very Essential For Real Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Self-approval is one of the greatest keys to successful living.

To enjoy life more, learn to pat yourself on the back when you deserve it. The chances are you deserve it more often than you realize.

We are all familiar with the big bore who can talk only of his own aims, activities and achievements. If something did not happen to him, he feels it's a waste of time to bring it up. Conversation for him is usually just one long session of bragging.

Such a person is an example of egotism become rampant. He therefore assumes a comic quality, as most exaggerated things do, and we tell ourselves when not in his presence, "I'm glad I'm not like that one. He's really in love with himself."

But there is this to say on his behalf: He may bore others to death, but he won't bore himself to death. He probably will live to a ripe old age, because he has found a sure source of enthusiasm and excitement — himself. And it is through enthusiasm and excitement that we stay young.

There is a worse fate in this world than boring others — and that is to bore ourselves.

Too many of us as we grow older tend to lose our good opinion of ourselves. We let our goals grow rusty, permit our jobs to become ruts, and abandon in ourselves the faith that alone can sustain us.

For others to like us we must first learn self-approbation — to find some basic satisfaction in who we are and what we are trying to do with our lives. It is surprising how many people lose this essential satisfaction and wind up with an actual sense of self-dislike.

Most of the mental and emotional troubles that beset middle-aged or elderly people arise from a loss in them of a feeling that they are worthwhile members of worthwhile groups engaged in worthwhile enterprises.

Time erodes their sense of personal value. Their pursuits come to seem meaningless.

HUMANE SLAUGHTERING

The Freeman has received letters from residents in this area requesting that we remind readers that in Washington and in Albany there are several bills bottled up in committees which are designed to protect animals from the cruelty of man's hand or neglect. Animals that are to be slaughtered, or used in medical experiments, or in science laboratories or in classrooms can be saved from unspeakable pain and torture through proposed Federal and state law.

None of these bills is anti-vivisection legislation. Thousands of people living today would either be dead or suffering intensely from an incurable malady if it were not for our friends—the animals.

The unsung hero of our age has been the animal of science. The phenomenal advances made in surgery and the quality of medical care we are receiving today are in large measure due to the contribution of the animals serving in the army of medicine.

Medical and scientific research must continue for man's health and benefit.

But is it necessary to use cruel practices such as whacking conscious animals on the head, shackling, hoisting and knifing them?

The Citizens League for Animal Welfare of the Capital District, an organization devoted to investigation of all forms of cruelty to animals is seeking passage of legislation to protect science-laboratory animals from neglect, cruelty and abuse.

Saturday members of the League will conduct a march in Albany in the hope they will bring attention to the bills now in committee which would bring a halt to the unnecessary cruelty to laboratory animals.

It is high time that we stopped the needless torture of all animals.

The Defense Department will buy an additional 14 million pounds of American beef for use at overseas bases. That may help to quiet the beefs about beef imports.

Well, shirtsleeve weather's finally coming. Those fellows with theirs already rolled up are doing hot work in the political vineyards.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Homeowners should use the annual spring clean-up, which gets underway about this time every year, to throw out the trash that has accumulated in basements and attics. They also should make repairs that cut the danger of fire.

Three-quarters of all home fires are due to carelessness or forgetfulness on the part of householders who leave old papers, saturated clothing or other trash in cellars and attics.

In the clean-up drive, yards and driveways should not be neglected. This will not only make the property safer but more attractive.

Placing properly packaged rubbish on the sidewalk to be picked up by the city workers will reduce the litter on the streets and generally improve the appearance of the city.

Cooperation by all property owners and tenants is required in an all out clean-up campaign.

Republican leaders urge building a new, sea-level canal across Panama within 25 years. That should provide time for a couple more last-ditch crises.

A SYMBOL OF IDEALS

Echoes of prophecy were in the air the other day at Fulton, Mo., where former President Truman and others broke ground for an imaginative memorial to Sir Winston Churchill. It was at Fulton, early in March 1946, that the great wartime leader of the British made his celebrated "Iron Curtain" speech which has widely come to be considered the opening gun in the cold war.

As is fitting, there are echoes of World War II in the memorial that will rise to honor Sir Winston. The blitz-destroyed remains of London's little church of St. Mary Aldermanbury will be transported to Fulton, and there a reconstruction of the church will become a non-sectarian chapel on the campus of Westminster College.

The project "may symbolize in the eyes of the English-speaking peoples," Churchill has said, "The ideals of Anglo-American association on which rest, now as before, so many of our hopes for peace and the future of mankind." It was well said.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE REPUBLICANS COULD MAKE A CASE

LBJ, it is becoming obvious, is developing a golden touch. Aside from his misadventure with the beagle's ears, which will undoubtedly be served up to him during the campaign by unrelenting dog lovers, everything has been breaking right for him of late. This is particularly true in foreign affairs. Zanzibar, it appears, has not yet become a Red Chinese Cuba off the east coast of Africa. The Brazilians have forehandedly nipped a Castroite take-over of their country that was scheduled for May 1. True enough, all is not well in South Vietnam, but all is not lost, either, and the favorite of the Republican rank and file, Henry Cabot Lodge, is LBJ's captive in Saigon. Finally, the news, from several sources, is that food shortages in Iron Curtain countries will certainly last through another year. This should keep Khrushchev from being too blatantly adventurist.

If the LBJ luck continues to hold on the foreign front, the Republicans may be forced to desert their present campaign strategy, which is to stress overseas reverses, and look for some domestic issues. The trouble here is that the man in the White House has his ways of pouring a mellow golden haze over everything of a domestic nature. He settles the rail strike. He kids the business men—and, with General Motors setting a new three-months' profit record, the busines men lap it up. He tours the poverty belt of Appalachia by air—and who can be against a man who can say such heart-plucking things about the need to eliminate suffering in mountain cabins?

To strike at LBJ, the Republicans must find a way of proving that the blanket concern of the White House for poor folks in general is not going to help any poor person for very long in particular. Or that a Washington broadside about covering the scars caused by strip-mining is not going to fill in any holes in the ground.

The truth, as the Republicans will find it almost impossible to set forth in the six short months that lie ahead, is that many of our localities, whether in Appalachia or elsewhere, have been gaining a great deal of yardage in the battle against poverty and ugliness without asking Washington for the sort of help that must end in higher taxes or in monetary inflation.

Last fall I saw what the State of Ohio was doing to wipe out the defacements caused by strip-mining—and since them I have learned that Ohio is not alone in its efforts along this line. The Peabody Coal Company in Illinois cleans up its own industrial litter by turning stripped areas into beautiful recreation areas. And this coming week-end, in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, they will celebrate the transformation of some strip-mined acres into a golf course.

President Johnson has called for the development of new power projects in Appalachia, reminding the voters that his political experience goes back to the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's TVA. But private industry has already taken the lead in pioneering some mighty power projects in the very regions for which LBJ has shed his most copious tears. The great new 1,600,000-kilowatt Keystone Electric Generating Station, which will be located by a consortium of 18 investor-owned utilities in Indiana, Pennsylvania, will burn some 4,700,000 tons of bituminous coal annually. Almost half of this coal will be supplied by three new mines which are to be opened close to the site. This particular news about new mines didn't have to wait on a Washington campaign against poverty.

The truth is that Appalachia, which does need new industries to bring payrolls to the forks of the creek in West Virginia and East Kentucky, does not lack for electric power anywhere. In the 342 counties studied by the Presidents Appalachian Regional Commission, there are located 11 per cent of total U. S. electric power capacity. This same area accounts for eight per cent of the U. S. labor force. What is needed, obviously, are local industries to tap their share of the electric power that is already at hand.

How to build those industries? This is a complicated matter, involving a thousand things from labor union policies to roads and freight rate, and it won't be done between now and election day. And, in the nature of things, the localities, the states and the individual citizens will have to do most of it for themselves.

Q—Is leukemia a form of cancer? If a person with leukemia were cured would this prevent his getting cancer?

A—Leukemia is considered to be cancer of the blood. In the victims, tumors of the spleen are almost always present. There may also be tumors of the lymph nodes and bone marrow. The newer drugs used to treat this disease may control the growth of the tumors for several years but cannot be considered permanent cures. Whether successful or not, such treatment would have no bearing on the victim's susceptibility to a different form of cancer.

Q—Three years ago at the age of 30 I had a hysterectomy. Since then I have times when I feel crampy and moody just as I used to when I expected my periods. Would the operation have anything to do with these symptoms? Where does the blood go that I normally would have lost with my periods?

A—You have undergone a surgical menopause. This may be partially responsible for your symptoms. The blood you would normally have lost doesn't go anywhere. Menstrual bleeding is a part of the preparation for the renewal of the uterine wall to receive a fertilized ovum. With the uterus removed this is no longer possible.

Q—What are the symptoms of hardening of the arteries of the brain? What can be done about it?

A—Cerebral arteriosclerosis may cause a wide vvariety of symptoms depending on the part of the brain that is damaged. One of the commonest results is what is known as a little stroke. The victim undergoes a change of personality—becomes untidy, noisy or profane where he was formerly neat, quiet and respectful. There is no cure for damage that has already been done but steps can sometimes be taken to check the process. These would include getting more rest, drugs to reduce the abnormally high blood pressure, diet to reduce overweight, cutting out smoking and in carefully selected cases the use of a tranquilizer or drugs to enlarge the smaller blood vessels.

Q—It is harmful to drink coffee that has been reheated? I have heard that this develops some chemical that constricts the blood vessels.

A—Coffee beans are roasted before you buy them so when you make fresh coffee the grounds are reheated. Reheating does no harm but the caffeine in coffee, fresh or reheated, is a mild blood vessel constrictor.

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin's statement that Bobby Baker had signed his accountant's name to his 1961 income tax return raises the question of how the nation's 150 handwriting experts operate.

"The secret," says a Post Office expert, "is to catch a man in those little idiosyncrasies he doesn't know he has. I don't even know my own after 23 years in the business."

It's where you dot your "i," high above or close, to the right or left, whether your dot is like a dot or like a comma, or whether you dot it at all. It may be the way you cross your "t" with a long dash or short, straight or curved, up or down, high or low.

It's whether you end a word with a sweep, a downstroke or a neat, clipped-off curve. Or it may be how your different letters vary in height. How is the "h" in "have" compared with the "ave"? How high is the "a" compared with the "v" and the "e"?

Does the lower loop of your capital "J" swing into the upper loop or not? Does the bottom circle of your capital "B" meet the vertical line or stop short with a jerk or curl back? How big are the loops in your "l's," "k's," and "b's"?

WHEN YOU WRITE, are your words spaced far apart or crowded close together? Are your "r's" narrow and pointed, flat-topped or topheavy?

How do your letters slant. Do your "a's" look like "a's" or "o's"? Are they open or closed, fat at the bottom or narrow, straight up and down or slanted right or left, looped at the top or precisely drawn? Do your "vs" look like "u's"?

Most of these characteristics stay with a man until he dies. His writing will change temporarily when he's ill. It will change more if he shifts from right-handed writing to left. It will change some with natural aging. But many of his writing quirks will remain.

Experts have successfully checked out right-handed men who tried to disguise their writing by using crude left-handed scrawls. They have identified men from handwriting samples taken 20 years apart.

POST OFFICE ANALYSIS SAY they know no way to tell a man's character from his writing. But they feel pretty confident that given a reasonable amount of a man's handwriting they can tell whether he wrote another man's name on a series of checks.

In actual practice, the Post Office men find they're stumped about 20 per cent of the time. Usually, it's because they can't get enough samples. Sometimes it's because a clever writer is able to disguise his writing.

SO FAR, THE GOVERNMENT MEN have been unable to find two people who write precisely alike. The Post Office Department has been making a study of the writing of 600 twins on the theory that twins are more likely to write alike than any other people. In every case, the experts have been able to tell the writing of one twin from the other.

I was shown photographs of the teen-age writing of each of the Dionne quintuplets. There was no problem in distinguishing between them.

In one famous New York kidnaping case, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents went through approximately 2 million handwriting samples from the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau, federal and state probation offices, schools, aircraft plants and municipal records for writing similar to that in the ransom notes. They found the right man.

A major problem for the experts: juries are sometimes quite suspicious of handwriting testimony.

Smart Politico Knows When To Change Levity to Dignity

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will soon have to decide whether he had better reach out for more of the folksy" vote or try to regain some of the "dignity" vote he may recently have lost. Both Gov. Rockefeller and Sen Goldwater tried "folksy" tactics in the New Hampshire primary, but the dignified and silent Ambassador Lodge far away in Viet Nam won over both of them. Promptly the Arizona Senator announced that he wasn't going to pursue such tactics thereafter and would endeavor to present a different image appealing to the thoughtful citizens.

Many a politician has made the mistake of assuming that the best way to win votes is to do a lot of hand shaking and baby kissing. But this hardly swings the majority. What mainly influences the votes of the people are policies, national or international, that touch them in vital spots, including the pocketbook.

News items on political personalities affect the sensitivity of individual voters differently. It came as a surprise, for instance, to many people the other day that there was such an outcry from dog lovers when the President pulled the ears of his two beagles. The inclination of some was to regard this as a joke, while others said it was the act of a cruel man.

It was very wise of Mr. Johnson, on the other hand, to make his tour in the Appalachian region and to manifest publicly his sympathy with the poverty-stricken. This was not only good politics but the act of a man who is humane and sympathetic.

So it all depends on what "gimmicks" are tried and what maneuvers are likely to be emphasized by the press, despite the casual manner in which they are originally carried out.

Basically however, a vast number of voters, especially women, like to see their President act always in a dignified manner. The late President Kennedy was, almost without exception, dignified in his public appearances, but he, too, perhaps unwittingly, made at least one slip. He was photographed by the press as he appeared in bathing trunks on the sands of a California beach while a lot of young women crowded around him to shake hands. This led to a good deal of critical comment, not because it was in any sense an improper scene but because many people do not like to see the President of the United States in such informal garb and surroundings.

President Johnson can be dignified when he wishes to be. In almost all of his speeches, he has been shown delivering his remarks in a mood of sedate and quiet dignity. But when people also see in the newspapers photographs of a President pulling the ears of a dog or strolling around among tourists on the White House grounds, an impression is created among some voters that the President isn't as dignified as he ought to be or that he is sacrificing time he should be spending on the all-important tasks of the Presidency.

Indeed, there are persons who used to disapprove when President Eisenhower played golf. They didn't object to the exercise itself. But they wondered if he shouldn't have been more at his desk, pondering matters of state. There was a tendency at the time, even in the press, to imply that Gen. Eisenhower wasn't working as seriously at his job as he should mave been doing. The impression was largely built up because of frequent references in the press together with pictures of Gen. Eisenhower on golf courses. Reiteration of an unfavorable point sometimes produces a lasting prejudice.

In some respects it seems unfair that Presidents can't "do what comes naturally," but somehow not all of the voters are as fully informed as they ought to be. They didn't know, for example, the Mr. Eisenhower sometimes worked late and regularly got to his office around 7:30 in the morning to study his paper and documents and messa[illegible]n abroad. Nor do the v[illegible] may be critical realize President Johnson also wo[illegible]ate and gets up early in the morning to spend a lot of time at his desk or on the telephone. He is really a hard-working President.

But much of this concept of a President's fidelity to his job can suddenly be erased if an image is created that he is perhaps lacking in dignity. The American people are instinctively monarchical—perhaps it is a throwback to ancestral days. They like to see their President functioning almost with a kind of royal demeanor. They are delighted, of course, to see every now and then evidences of his compassion and humaneness, but it's the repeated adventures in what appear to be "folksy" stunts — practiced just a few months before an election —that do not go over so well. A smart politician is one who knows when to turn off the levity and turn on the dignity.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The trend of 1964 is all for the new shopping centers, with the little private stores bowing out. Years ago, folks shopped in their neighborhood stores, and did their special shopping in the main shopping block, which was usually reached by a trolley car. Today the automobile has changed everything, came the parking meters to which most drivers do not take to kindly, and from which somehow grew the tremendous shopping centers, with large free parking areas. What the trend will be tomorrow no one knows, but presently on a nice day, you can meet your friends at the shopping centers I meet school friends, I have not seen for years, folks from all parts of Ulster County are seen at these centers, where one can buy most everything, from freshly baked pies before your eyes, or meats and chickens browning in glass broilers. You can dip for large pickles, to suit your taste, or have sliced all sorts of meats the way you like it.

Riding through the uptown section of Kingston and on Broadway, one realizes how many empty stores there are, and somehow also the many for rent signs on houses, and the for sale signs. Housing projects are being created near and around Kingston, and it seems they are being taken as soon as completed, where the car can go, there the folks go. I see folks stopping to buy rose bushes and little trees, showing they have a piece of land and want to have a garden and some shade. Perhaps for some it means the first time they had a little land of their own, for others, who have spent their childhood and early life in an apartment it means getting outdoors. I wonder what this will all mean to Kingston proper, with folks all looking for a little place in the country.

I met Frank and Grace Bartroff of 18 East St. James Street at the Kingston Plaza Shopping area, and they told me how nice it was since the traffic circle was built and they have such a fine view and open spaces toward the circle. Mrs. Bartroff told me about her grandfather, Alexander Schaeffer who had a harness shop on North Front Street many years ago. I found F. A. Schaeffer, harnessmaker in my 1872-3 Kingston City Directory, given to me by Tom Walsh of the Boulevard. In 1872, Mr. Schaeffer lived on John Street near Wall Street. Alexander Schaeffer was also Mary A. Schaeffer's grandfather. Mary or Molly as many call her, was our Kingston City Librarian for many years. I was always happy to visit with Miss Schaeffer at the library, and she was always very helpful, if I was looking for some book. We have often talked over the phone, and when we meet uptown, we have many views in common about Kingston and life in general.

I met Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frohlich and their daughter. For many years Mr. Frohlich was behind the post office window uptown. Everyone knew him and he knew everyone. His hobby was photography. Strange as it may seem, meeting in these most modern buildings, what do we talk about when we meet, why the good old days in Kingston. The mention of Kingston Point Park, with its summer trolley cars, and the beautiful kept park, flowers and flowering trees, the Dayline boats, and the Sunday picnics. The excursion boats up or down the river, which carried several thousand people, and we met as we do today to talk about old times. People do go there for bargains, but also to go some place, and the meeting of friends is accidental but very enjoyable, and so every season and every year brings new trends to our little Colonial city of Kingston.

Today's Business Mirror

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The business upturn has entered its 39th month with few if any signs of weakening.

This makes it the longest upturn in American peacetime history.

The average duration of the 26 previous cyclical recoveries since 1854 was 30 months.

At this advanced stage, business men are continuing to raise their sights on investment plans even though the stimulus from the March tax cut is not yet clearly evident, reports the First National City Bank of New York in its current monthly economic analysis.

"Confidence in the outlook has been bolstered by the improving trend of business profits and the unexpectedly peaceful settlement of the thorny railway labor dispute, which added to hopes that moderation and good sense may prevail in other labor negotiations this year," the report said.

Earlier, business firms had been increasing their capital budgets. The latest survey by the publishing firm, McGraw-Hill, indicated that business plans to spend $44 billion this year, a gain of 12 per cent over 1963.

With the tax cut in effect only eight weeks, those who expected a sharp gain in consumer spending have been disappointed.

However, First National points out, economic performance in the first quarter as a whole could scarcely be called disappointing.

The Gross National Product—total of all goods and services—climbed to an annual rate of $608.5 billion, up $8.4 billion from the preceding quarter.

While the GNP rose more than this in the final two quarters of 1963, the bank finds it significant that $8.1 billion of the increase in the first quarter was concentrated in consumer expenditures, reflecting unusually strong demand which probably will characterize the second quarter also.

The first quarter gain in consumer spending was nearly double the average quarterly gain last year.

Area Plant Reopens, Expects Full Operation

Metallurgical Resources Inc., the Orange County industrial plant hit by a disastrous fire in February 1963, has reopened and hopes, within six months to a year, to be producing a full line of zinc chemicals in its New Windsor plant, it was announced this week.

By "re-orienting" some of the machinery salvage from the plant in its previous operation, and with the addition of several thousands of dollars worth of additional equipment, Metallurgical is said to be presently equipped to produce 18 tons of zinc chloride a day.

Russell J. Roberts, plant manager, said that the present force of 17—including office personnel—may be doubled when expansion of the present line is accomplished.

Only highly trained personnel will be utilized, however, and these probably will have to be brought in from outside, the manager said.

Associated with Metallurgical for process design is Chemetals Inc. of New York City. Chemetals' sales division is also handling sales for Metallurgical.

A former tie-in with Techmanix Corp. has been terminated, officials said.

The work of converting the New Windsor installation to carry out its present assignment was accomplished with local labor and contractors, the manager said.

Report on China Debts

LONDON (AP) — Communist China says it will be free of all debt to the Soviet Union by the end of next year.

Chen Yi, deputy premier and foreign minister, made the statement in a talk with British correspondents. He said that all other foreign debts would be repaid by 1967 and all internal government debts the following year.

Florida Paper, Gannett Chain Also Honored

Pulitizers Awarded for Exposes Of Corruption, Coverage of JFK

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1964 Pulitzer Prizes in journalism have been won for newspaper exposes of fraud and corruption, the story of success in solving racial problems, the coverage of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, and the war in South Viet Nam.

For the first time since the prizes were established in 1917, awards Monday were omitted in fiction, drama and music. No work in those three fields was deemed worthy of being honored.

St. Pete Paper Cited

The St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times received the Pulitzer gold medal for public service. The newspaper's year-long investigation of the Florida Turnpike Authority uncovered widespread illegal acts and reckless spending of public funds. The stories resulted in a major reorganization of Florida's road construction program.

Norman C. Miller, 30, of the Wall Street Journal, won the general prize for local reporting for his thorough account of a multimillion - dollar swindle in the bankruptcy of the Allied Crude Vegetable Oil and Refining Corp. in New Jersey.

Three-Man Team

The prize for local investigative reporting was shared by a three-man team on the Philadelphia Bulletin — reporters James V. Magee, 50, Albert V. Gaudiosi, 40, and photographer Frederick A. Meyer, 43. They were cited for their expose of numbers racket operations with police collusion in South Philadelphia. It resulted in 18 dismissals and suspensions from the police department.

The international reporting prize was shared by two American correspondents who reported the war in South Viet Nam and the overthrow of the Diem regime—Malcolm W. Browne, 32, of The Associated Press, and David Halberstam, 29, of the New York Times.

The Times has won 29 prizes and The AP 19 since the awards were established by the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post Dispatch, who died in 1911.

Editorial writing, including attacks on corruption, won a prize for Hazel Brandon Smith of the weekly Lexington (Miss.) Advertiser. The award cited "steadfast adherence to her editorial duty in the face of great pressure and opposition."

UPI Man Honored

Merriman Smith, 51, White House correspondent for United Press International, won the prize for national reporting for his "outstanding coverage of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

The awards are made by Columbia University's board of trustees, upon the recommendations of a 14-member advisory board.

For the first time since the awards started in 1917, a special Pulitzer citation was given this year to a group of newspapers—the Gannett Newspapers, which has 15 dailies—for special coverage of success stories on "the road to integration."

The series, using reportorial, photographic and editorial resources of the Gannett papers, plus its news bureaus in Washington; Albany, N.Y., and Trenton, N.J., stressed case histories of people and communities that are solving problems of integrated housing, employment and education.

The work was acclaimed by the Pulitzer board as a "distinguished example of the use of a newspaper group's resources to complement the work of its individual newspapers."

Paul F. Conrad, 39, won the award for newspaper cartooning for his year's output with the Denver Post, without singling out an individual work. He recently moved to the Los Angeles Times.

Other Awards

The journalism winners received $1,000 each, except Browne and Halberstam who shared one award, and Magee, Gaudiosi and Meyer, who also shared one award.

Award winners in the field of letters, each of whom received $500, were:

HISTORY — Sumner Chilton Powell, 40, for his "Puritan Village: The Formation of a New England Town." He spent 10 years in a search of original source material in Sudbury and Marlboro, Mass., and in the English villages from which the founders of the New England towns emigrated.

BIOGRAPHY — Walter Jackson Bate, 46, for "John Keats." He is chairman of the English Department at Harvard University.

GENERAL NON-FICTION — Richard Hofstadter, 48, professor of American history of Columbia, for "Anti-Intellectualism in American Life." He won the 1956 Pulitzer Prize in history for "The Age of Reform," a study of populism and progressivism.

POETRY—Louis Simpson, 41, a native of Jamaica, for "At the End of the Open Road." He is an assistant professor of English at the University of California at Berkeley, once worked as a copyboy for the New York Herald Tribune.

Recognition Is Asked by Javits On U. S. Culture

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is "the only major power in the world that has not given national governmental recognition to development of its cultural resources," says Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Javits, a New York Republican, called Monday night for House approval of legislation that could provide this recognition. A bill, which has been passed by the Senate and reported favorably from a subcommittee of the House Committee on Labor and Education, would establish an Advisory Council on Arts and a National Arts Foundation.

The foundation would have a $5-million appropriation the first year and $10 million annually thereafter.

Javits' comments were made in a speech at a dinner honoring Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music for 40 years. He will retire next month.

Reilly of Town of Ulster later. It is alleged Stegen took the 1961 Ford car owned by Winton Morrision, 106 Main Street, New Paltz, April 30.

He'd Do It Same Way Again

Truman Rated High as U. S. President by Historians

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry S. Truman, as brisk and cocky as when he left the White House in 1953, will be 80 Friday and if over the years he has sounded self-satisfied, and still does, it's no wonder.

He doesn't have to worry about his place in history. It will be high up.

In 1952, not long before Truman turned over the presidency to Dwight D. Eisenhower, the American historian, Henry Steele Commager, said in 50 years historians would regard Truman's administration as one of unparalleled successes."

Ten years later the New York Times reported a survey of 75 American historians showed they listed Truman among the near-great presidents. They may plant him among the great in the years to come, by Commager's reckoning.

The Lists

They named the great ones this way: Lincoln, Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Wilson, Jefferson. This was their near-great list: Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt, Polk, Truman, John Adams, Cleveland.

Just before he retired, Truman, in interviews with newsmen who had covered his White House years, was asked: If he had it to do all over again, would he change anything?

No, he said, and added: "If a president makes decisions that are right, and for the welfare of the people, it does not make any difference what is said about him while he is alive. The presidents who have done things, who were not afraid to act, have been the most abused."

Wouldn't Change Anything

Now, 12 years later, a newsman asked the same question, got the same answer: "I would change nothing." Figuring he did his utmost and willing to be judged on that, he is adjusted to the thought of death.

He put it this way: "I know that when I am carried out feet first it can be said of me: "He did his damndest."

No president in history ever had dumped on him a load more terrible than the one inherited when he stepped into the White House April 12, 1945: war to be finished in Europe and the Pacific; a country to be reconverted to peace, and, still undreamed of then, a cold war to be fought.

Except that he had been a hard-working senator, he was an unknown quantity when he became president. He was overwhelmed. He said he felt the moon and stars had fallen on him. "Pray for me," he said.

Had the Iron

But what he had was iron and the ability to make decisions. What he needed was good advice. He sought it. His first test: deciding to end the war with Japan by dropping atomic bombs on its cities.

By the fall of 1945 the cold war was taking shape. So was his thinking about it. In a speech on Oct. 27, 1945, he announced the United States would keep the secret of the atomic bomb, to be safe and preserve peace, and he called for a large armed force. Things piled up on him but he handled them all like iron.

In early 1946 he forced Stalin to pull his troops out of Iran. Early in 1947 he took America, once and for all, out of its ancient tradition of peacetime isolation.

Greece, Turkey Saved

With Greece overrun by Communist guerrillas and Turkey pressured by the Soviet Union, he proclaimed the Truman Doctrine: American help for nations struggling to survive. Greece and Turkey were saved.

The same year he launched the Marshall Plan of aid to shattered countries. Western Europe was put back on its feet, the rest of the non-Red world was helped. Since then the aid bill has reached $100 billion.

In 1948 and 1949, with the airlift he broke Stalin's Berlin blockade. In 1950 he decided to fight the Korean war. He was abused, denounced and tormented by people like Sen. Joseph McCarthy who never got off his back.

Set Foreign Policy

But the foreign policy he laid down in those years—as early as 1947—has been followed ever since by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson with variations. The main point of it was: stop communism in its tracks.

What was the most tremendous decision of his presidency? He said it was not dropping the bombs on Japan but going into Korea.

He was asked once what was the high point of his White House years. He laughed and said it was his election to a full four-year term in 1948.

Chester Battling for 5 Months

No End in Sight to Racial Rifts in Penn's Oldest City

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — For five months Negroes in this old industrial city have demonstrated in the streets, protesting that their children attend segregated and unequal schools.

Dozens have been hurt, many heads bloodied, hundreds more jailed.

The end is not in sight.

"Chester is the Birmingham of the North," says James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

"When they block the streets, when they are disorderly, when they riot instead of march, they are breaking the law," says Mayor James T. Gorbey, a 43-year-old lawyer who took office in the midst of the turmoil.

"The law is the same for everybody, and will be administered for everybody," he says.

Penn's Oldest City

Chester, chartered in 1701 by William Penn, is the oldest city in Pennsylvania. It has 63,000 residents, including 27,000 Negroes.

It is 15 miles south of Philadelphia, and a few miles north of the Mason-Dixon line.

Demonstrators in Chester also are demanding better jobs and more jobs, better housing and more housing. But it's the noisy, fist-swinging, rock-throwing battle to integrate all the schools—a civil rights issue that faces many other Northern cities—that has filled the jails.

This is the question: "Is a neighborhood school a segregated school?"

Demand End of Schools

Negroes say de facto segregation is segregation by design; that it means inferior, unequal education. They demand an immediate end to all-Negro schools—four of the 16 here.

The school board insists it operates an integrated system. It says any segregation is unintentional, and results because children of one race live in the same neighborhood and go to the same school.

Frances P. Donahoo, president of the school board, which has one Negro member, says, "To talk about de facto segregation is not to talk about segregation, but about a condition over which we have no control."

She insists that the Negro leadership really wants busing, which cannot be done without the consent of parents — and white parents are staunchly opposed.

Must Come From Board

Stanley Branche, 30-year-old chairman of the Committee for Freedom Now, says he isn't advocating busing, the transfer of pupils to create a racial balance in all schools.

"But we want the school board to do something and do it now," he adds.

What does he suggest?

"Nothing." Branche replies calmly. "The program must come from the board. We'll sit down with them. We'll talk with them. I met three times with them, but they won't budge. They just won't budge."

Charles Long, superintendent of schools, says, "We definitely are integrated. Every school in our system has Negro children."

"Token, token, token," shouts Branche. "What are 10 or 20 or 30 out of 500 or more. That's not equal."

Quotes Figures

Long acknowledges that four schools are all - Negro and a fifth has 10 whites among 1,000 pupils. The schools have 11,150 pupils, of whom 6,725 are Negro.

Philip Savage, tri-state secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, sometimes has worked with Branche, sometimes ignored him—and sometimes been ignored. He is considered more moderate but, like Branche, was arrested for demonstrating.

Savage looks favorably to efforts of the State Human Relations Commission, or the courts, to settle the dispute.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Actor Peter Lawford hasn't paid his bill for $6,762.42, says the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Defendants named are Lawford, Chrislaw Productions Inc., and five John Does. The suit was filed in Santa Monica Superior Court Monday.

Drifter May Be TriedforBrooklyn Murder Case First

NEW YORK (AP) — George Whitmore Jr., 19, has been arraigned in Manhattan for the brutal slaying of career girls Janice Wylie and Emily Hoffert—but he still may be tried for a Brooklyn murder first.

Whitmore, a Negro who quit school after the eighth grade and has been drifting since, was arraigned Monday before Criminal Court Judge Frederick L. Strong on a homicide charge. He was ordered held without bond pending a hearing Friday.

He was taken back to Brooklyn, where he has been held without bail on a homicide charge in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Minnie Demonds, 46, last month.

Best Fiction This Spring From Foreign Authors

The following release from Ann E. Prentice, director of the Kingston City Library, states that the best fiction of the spring of 1964 has come from foreign authors. They have presented for the enjoyment of the reader a wide variety of well written thought-provoking tales.

Kingsley Amis, the angry young man of post-war English letters has written an angry novel about American society, One Fat Englishman.

Walker, another English writer, has written a tale of high humor and high adventure set in Scottish highlands — Winter of Madness.

Carolyn Glyn, the granddaughter of noted authoress Elinor Glyn, has documented the life and high life of the English school girls in her first novel, Don't Knock the Corners Off. It has been highly acclaimed by critics in both the United States and England.

Nicholas Monsarrat, adventure writer, places his latest novel, A Fair Day's Work, in the setting of the modern merchant marine fleet.

Two French authors are represented in the library's collection of new books. Romaine Gary, Goncourt Prize winner, has written a series of short stories, Hissing Tales, which tell of the strange and horrible ways in which man victimizes his fellow man.

Georges Simeon, writer of mystery stories, has followed a man through illness and self evaluation in Bells of Bicetre with the same care that he uses in solving a crime.

For those who enjoyed Irving Stone's Agony and the Ecstasy, Mr. Weiss has written a novel about the life of August Rodin, the famed French sculptor of The Thinker, and many other figures of note. Naked Came I tells, in the form of a novel, the story of Rodin's life and his work.

The library is open daily from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. and on Saturdays from 1 to 5 p. m. for all professional services, book selection and browsing.

Collect $10,501 InUnderpayments For County's 318

ALBANY—More than $265,000 was collected in minimum wage underpayments in the first three months of 1964 by the State Labor Department.

State Industrial Commissioner M. P. Catherwood said today that $265,726 was received from 1,963 establishments, involving 6,308 employes.

In Ulster County, a total of $10,501, was collected from 10 establishments for 318 workers involved, according to Assistant Industrial Commissioner Edward J. Ray.

The Labor Department's Division of Labor Standards, the agency responsible for enforcement of the State's minimum wage regulations, makes regular visits to establishments throughout New York State. Where an employee is found to be receiving less than the minimum wage required by law, the difference is computed as an underpayment. The Department has the authority to collect the underpayement from the employer and turns it over to the worker.

Flames Peril Mobile Docks After Crash

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — An outbound freighter collided with an oil barge in Mobile harbor early today and the barge burst into flames. The Mobile waterfront was under critical threat for hours.

A spokesman at the Pure Oil Co. terminal at the state docks said the barge contained 735,000 gallons of high test gasoline.

The bow and forward hold of the 447-foot ore carrier Prospector also caught fire. That blaze was extinguished in about an hour.

The barge was beached by a Coast Guard cutter but the fire continued for hours.

The Coast Guard said no injuries were reported.

The barge burst into flames that leaped as high as 100 feet at times and lighted up the mobile water front near the downtown business section.

The collision tore a gash about 40 feet long and 8 to 10 feet wide in the bow of the prospector, which flies the Liberian flag.

The vessel was able to reach a berth at the docks under its own power. City firemen extinguished the fire in the bow and hold.

The Prospector had completed unloading a cargo early today.

Probe Considers Bribes, Reprisals In Liquor Fight

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A legislative committee is trying to determine whether direct or indirect bribe offers or threats of political reprisals arose in the battle over Gov. Rockefeller's liquor-reform program.

The committee chairman said Monday his group would study lobbying activity to determine "whether there were any improper or undesirable attempts to influence the Legislature."

Sen. John J. Marchi, R-Staten Island, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, said he had no direct information of any improper practice but "there were allegations."

The liquor - reform program was voted down in the closing hours of the 1964 Legislature's regular session but gained approval in a modified form last month at a special session called by Rockefeller.

The Republican governor had incensed lawmakers at the regular session by suggesting in a sharply worded message that they were yielding under pressure from liquor lobbyists.

Asked about charges of bribery, Marchi said he had heard "some loose talk but nothing I would care to dignify" without further investigation.

Marchi said his committee also was concerned about alleged "threats of reprisals or threats to reward or punish depending on the position a person takes on legislation."

Marchi said pressure had come from both sides. In response to a question, however, he said, "I honestly don't know of any" pressure from Rockefeller's office."

DR Junta Seeks To Quell Disorder

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic's exbattled civilian junta sought today to quell a spreading strike and mounting disorder with troop action, a court order and radio appeals. Jose Salvador Velazquez president of the Dominican Court of Appeals, ordered striking taxi and bus drivers to return to work within 48 hours. The newspaper Prensa Liore said the transit services would be "militarized" if the strikers did not comply.

Helmeted troops with bayonets patroled the capital's streets after three days of rioting in which two persons have been killed and dozens injured.

Donald Reid Cabral, president of the ruling triumvirate, said in a radio-television address that 548 persons had been arrested and property damage was estimated at $100,000.

Reid Cabral said some politicians "in and out of the country" are seeking to take advantage of the situation by supporting "anarchic" aims of the strikers. The junta leader cast blame on Cuba's Fidel Castro regime when he said Havana radio has announced some acts of agitation "several hours in advance."

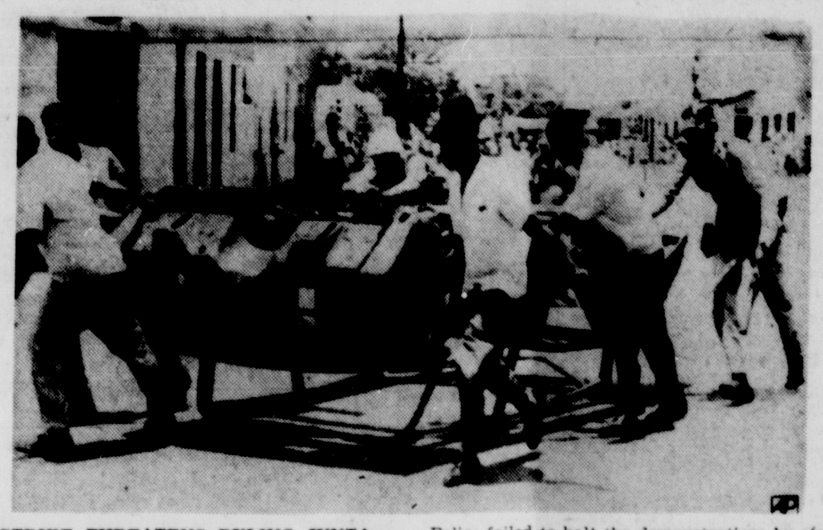
University students declared solidarity with the striking transport workers, and dock workers walked off the job in support of the drivers' four-day-old strike.

Still Refuse to Work

NEW YORK (AP)—White union plumbers refused to work again today at a $25 million city project where the contractor has hired four nonunion men—three Puerto Ricans and a Negro.

It was the fourth day of the strike. The white plumbers say they are refusing to work with nonunion men. The City Commission on Human Rights says it's a case of racial discrimination.

About 20 white members of Local 2, Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, showed up today at the job site, the New York City Terminal Market project in The Bronx.



STRIKE THREATENS RULING JUNTA—Policeman wearing gas mask and holding a riot gun helps others pull an auto frame off street in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, during demonstration in strike of taxi and bus drivers. Police failed to halt the demonstrations by strikers that pose a threat to the ruling junta that ousted President Juan Bosch seven months ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Veterans Should Use Their Policy Number

Delay or possible error in the handling of their GI insurance accounts by the Veterans Administration is risked each month by hundreds of veterans who fail to use their GI insurance policy number to identify themselves, announced Frank J. Kilcullen Jr., manager of the Albany Regional Office.

With over five million veterans holding GI policies and with thousands of cases of identical or similar names, the individual number assigned to each policy is the only way of assuring speedy, positive identification.

Veterans writing the Veterans Administration regarding their GI insurance are urged to use their policy number including the prefix letter H, K, V, RH, RS or W to identify immediately their own account so that the Veterans Administration can quickly take the action they desire.

In the event that the veteran has mislaid his policy number, he should furnish his service serial number and his date of birth to enable the VA to identify his account Kilcullen stated.

The two anniversaries opened with the Cardinal saying Mass Monday in St. Patrick's Cathedral and closed with a dinner attended by 4,000 persons in four halls of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The hotel said it was the largest dinner ever held there. Gov. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner were among those attending.

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—Vermont entered its 12th day without rain Tuesday as state and local authorities continued to worry about the growing fire danger.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Burlington said no rain was in sight for Tuesday or Wednesday.

Army Accepting Young Women for Physical Therapy

Captain Barbara A. Davis, Army Medical Specialist Corps counselor for the First U. S. Army Recruiting District, has announced that applications are still being accepted for the Army's 12-month physical therapy course.

Conducted by the Army to provide care for soldier patients and their families, the course is open to all women scheduled for graduation this year, provided they have a good background in science.

Selected applicants will receive approximately $270 monthly, plus board and books, while training at the Medical Field Service School, San Antonio, Tex. They will be obligated to the Army for one year following completion of the course.

The course is approved by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association and the American Physical Therapy Association. Graduates will be qualified to pursue the same field in civilian life, should they choose to leave the service at the end of the two years. The school is scheduled to begin in September, preceded by a four week Officers' Orientation, beginning on 10 August.

SFC Edward Malenski, Central Post Office, Kingston, may be contacted for further information.

Data Processing Course Set for Central Schools

It was announced today by Henry Hopper, director of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services that the board will institute a new vocational course in the field of data processing and computer programming to begin in September.

Building Underway

For the past three years the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services has been operating a data processing center for the purpose of maintaining school records for the county's central schools. Because of the success of this center, and the need for trained workers in the field of data processing, plans are underway for the establishment of a vocational program to train high school students in the operation and programming of this type of equipment.

Construction of a building to house equipment and classrooms for the course has already been started adjacent to the existing vocational school in New Paltz which offers courses in cosmetology and auto mechanics. Like these two programs, the data processing, machine operation and computer programming program will be a two-year course with students attending three hours each school day.

The first year course will deal with the operation and wiring of unit record equipment. Students will have actual experience operating the kinds of machines which are presently being used in the processing center, and learning the wide variety of functions these machines can perform. This course will be offered to both 11th and 12th year high school students, and may either be terminal or lead to one or two second year courses.

Interest Is Keen

Those students wishing more experience with data processing equipment at actual installations will be enrolled in a Vocational Industrial Cooperative program during their second year, which will offer them the opportunity to spend part of each school day working at one of the data processing centers in the area, in addition to continuing their regular academic classes.

Other students will study computer operation and programming during the second year. In this course, students will learn how to "communicate" with computers using a symbolic "language" especially created for this purpose. This will also be open to a few seniors who, although they have not taken the first year course, have the interest and ability for admission.

Interest in the program has been so high that it will be impossible to accomodate all those wishing to enroll. The first year course is scheduled to begin this September and the second year courses in September 1965.

Deep in our hearts he's with us yet
We loved him too dearly to ever forget.

WIFE and FAMILY

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of my dear husband, Charles Hungerford, whom God called home May 5, 1963.

When a husband breathes his last farewell,
The shock means more than tongue can tell;
The world seems quite another place,
Without the smile on his face;
And while he lies in peaceful sleep,
His memory I shall always keep.

KENTUCKY FORK, W. VA. (AP)—The day begins at 8:30 a.m. at Kentuck Fork School with 10 minutes of exercise for the 14 pupils, most of whom walked a mile or more to get there.

Before the day is finished, the schoolmaster, P. J. Williamson, will attempt to dole out to five grades a smattering of reading, writing, arithmetic, history, geography, civics, science—and on Fridays, art. This year, he has no pupils in the first, fourth or seventh grades.

The one-room school is vanishing, but in West Virginia it remains an important part of the educational system. This is particularly true in predominantly rural Lincoln County, where half the county's 54 schools are one-room schools.

Kentuck Fork is one of the 27 all-purpose classrooms in Lincoln County, and one of 381 remaining in West Virgina.

Williamson explains to his students the presence of a reporter and then begins classes.

This day was signficant, because the enrollment had jumped from 12 to 14 with the arrival in Kentuck Fork of a new family. Six families are now represented in the school.

The first order of business is to determine the mathmetical abilities of the new students, Kathy and Kate Turley.

Williamson calls them to his desk to question them.

At recess, the pupils clear a table of books and papers and get out a ball and jacks for a game. A few go outside on the "playground," and play on a rock formation.

The toilets are outside privies. The "drinking fountain" is a bucket and dipper. Water is carried from the well of a nearby house.

"They tried to drill a well here once, but the water wasn't fit to drink," Williamson explained.

A shake of a bell brings the students together again.

Williamson has been a teacher 42 years. He retires at the end of this term.

He's taught at larger schools and has been a principal. Why did he spend his last year at Kentuck Fork?

One reason is that he lives nearby. For another, no one else seemed to want the job.

When the present, white-painted, cinder block structure was built, 30 children were enrolled.

The drop to 14 in eight years has been brought about by a migration of Kentuck Fork families to industrial cities in the North.

The families remaining tend small farms, perhaps work in a coal mine.

Children who continue their education after the eighth grade will have to walk three miles to a paved road to get the school bus.

AWOL Private Gets 4-6 Years For Auto Theft

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An AWOL Army private, described by federal officials as "on his way to being a superior confidence man," has been sentenced to 4-6 years in prison for automobile theft.

John F. Brooks, 21, of Lancaster, N.H., drew the sentence Monday from Judge James T. Foley of U.S. District Court, who said, "probation would be too risky."

Foley said parole investigators had reported that Brooks had tried to pass a worthless $50,000 check in Canada as a down payment on purchase of a restaurant and had tried to pass a $10,000 check toward payment for a $97,000 yacht.

Brooks was arrested in Montreal on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile. Federal authorities said he was an Army private, absent without leave from Ft. Benning, Ga.

It's Tradition

FEATHERED SERPENTS, WATERMELON, AND CANVAS WORTH $100 PER INCH!

Mexicans have surrounded themselves with vital modern art. The works of the Mexican masters and the flourishing newer schools fill their galleries, decorate the walls of their fine buildings, and bring high prices in the world market.

Little wonder, for this art inherits the best of two traditions.

From Western Europe, out of the Renaissance by way of the Spain that gave us Velasquez and Goya, it has a great heritage . . . one that survives in its original form in Mexico's churches.

And from the ancient frescoes and sculpture of the Maya, Toltec and Aztec comes a massive simplicity, and traditional themes like the god-king Quetzelcoatl, the "feathered serpent."

Rufino Tamayo, for instance—one of the great Mexican moderns—has based paintings now in many of the world's great museums, on simple variations of the watermelon theme.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

Two Are Ordered To Grand Jury In Police Court

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman ordered two Kingston men held for grand jury action today when they waived preliminary action on separate felony charges.

They were George Joe, 46, of 11 Meadow Street, who was charged with third-degree burglary, and John E. Murray, 29, of 208 Broadway, charged with second-degree assault.

Joe was arrested last night by Patrolmen Charles Diers, Louis Keator and Gerald Tierney after he allegedly entered a vacant house on Broadway.

Murray was arrested by Patrolmen Otto Short and Oscar Gray on a warrant preferred by his wife, Annie Mae. Both Murray and Joe were committed to the County Jail.

Driver Fined $50

In other court cases:

Jack Taylor, 62, of the YMCA, paid a $50 fine when he admitted a charge of driving while his ability was impaired. Judge Saccoman also suspended his driver's license. Taylor was arrested last April 4 by Patrolmen Kenneth Radel and Albert P. Johnson.

Jurgen E. Weber, 29, of the Iron Forge Inn, Bellvale, and Wayne Cusher, 21, of 720 Broadway, paid fines of $15 each when they admitted speeding charges.

A charge of speeding at 60 miles an hour on Andrew Street against Michael J. Gallagher Jr., 18, of East Chester Street Extension, was adjourned to Saturday. Norman Goldstein, 22, of 1453 Walton Avenue, Bronx, failed to appear to answer a speeding charge.

Big Names

owed a GOP primary race between Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen and two minor candidates. Goldwater, leading the GOP delegate race with 209 of the 655 needed for the presidential nomination, was rated a cinch to pick up Indiana's 32 national convention votes.

Democratic and Republican leaders forecast record half-million voter turnouts for each primary. Welsh supporters prepared to challenge known Republicans who tried to vote in the Democratic primary. Under Indiana law, primary voters are required to pledge support to the party in the general election.

Wallace wound up his campaign, in which he faced jeering pickets and hecklers but also drew applause, with an appeal Monday to the Indianapolis Service Club. He repeated his belief that "if I get any significant vote we're going to knock the eye teeth out of the liberals in both parties."

In a news conference, Welsh accused Wallace of "begging for a crossover vote (from Republicans)" and said the Alabaman "solicits support even from the John Birch Society." Welsh declined to predict the primary results.

No Prediction

In Indiana four years ago, two little-known candidates — also entered today — drew some 20 per cent of the vote against the late John F. Kennedy.

The civil rights issue also hung over the Taft-Brown contest in Ohio. Some Ohio politicians reportedly felt white voters would give a strong protest vote to Brown, a veteran state office-holder whose backers include many supporters of Goldwater for president.

Sen. Young, who celebrated his 75th birthday Monday, remained confident he would be renominated. If he scores an upset, Glenn, who is recovering slowly from the injury suffered in a bathroom fall, would have until Aug. 14 to withdraw.

Ohio Republicans also vote on an unopposed 58-member convention delegation. Pledged on the first ballot to the party's favorite son, Gov. James A. Rhodes, it was heavily weighted with Goldwater supporters.

In Florida, the mayors of Jacksonville and Miami, and four present or past state legislators were competing for the Democratic nod to succeed retiring Gov. Farris Bryant, a Democrat who can't succeed himself. Democratic Sen. Spessard L. Holland, seeking a fourth term, had primary opposition from Brailey Odham, a self-styled Kennedy - Johnson supporter.

If no Democratic gubernatorial candidate receives a majority, the two high men will meet in a May 26 runoff. Three Republicans seek the GOP designation for governor. Republican voters are also choosing between two pro-Goldwater slates of national convention delegates.

First for Wilkinson

The Oklahoma contest featured the first bid for elective office by former University of Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson, running for the GOP senatorial nomination against former State Chairman Forrest Beal and Thomas J. Harris, staunch supporter of a right-to-work proposal also being voted on.

Among the Democrats, incumbent J. Howard Edmondson, seeking the remainder of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr's term, was in a tough fight with State Sen. Fred Harris and former Gov. Raymond Gary. All three oppose the right-to-work measure.

Alabama Democrats decide whether the slate of electors to be listed in November in the Democratic column will be pledged to the party's presidential nominee. Wallace backs an unpledged state.

Budget-Trustee Vote Wednesday In OCS District

Onteora Central Schools District voters will decide on a $2,696,435 budget and elect three thrustees at the annual district meeting Wednesday.

The gross budget is $426,199 higher than last year's figures. The net amount to be raised by taxation is $1,768,763, up $308,804 over 1963-64.

Three candidates for the Board of Education are unopposed. Trustee Herbert Epstein of Phoenicia is unopposed for a three-year tearm, as are Dr. Sherman Masten of West Hurley and Richard O. Langham of Woodstock for five-year terms.

A fourth candidate, James Hogan of West Hurley, has withdrawn from the race against Dr. Masten.

The voting will be from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. at the schools in Boiceville, West Hurley and Woodstock and the Shandaken town hall.

Voters will also determine the fate of one resolution which would make school buildings available for political meetings.

Outline Philosophies

Although the election of the three trustees is automatic, all three outlined their educational philosophy at the Candidates Night.

Dr. Masten, who is Dean of the Ulster County Community College, said his philosophy embraces a curriculum which would take every student as far as he is able to go and believes in providing sound education for young people is one of the prime responsibilities. He supported recent bond issue for additional construction on the secondary level.

In answer to a question, Dr. Masten suggested that the Glenford section, while not geographically centered, might be nearer the population center of the disapproach to the various activities of the Board of Education such as for transportation, budget, curriculum and personnel.

Trustee Epstein assured voters that when the bond issue for secondary construction is re-submitted he will re-examine the proposal in detail with an eye to any modification which may seem to be justified. He would like to see greater independent reporting of board meetings and school activities.

Langham said he favored a committee system on the board and would scrutinize closely non-educational items in the budget. He strongly urges greater participation by the citizens in school affairs, and recommends more attendance at board meetings fuller discussion of bond issues and budgets before submission in final form.

Paul E. Ottoson New Commander For Legion Post

Jack Chalmers was elected post adjutant and John Grote was re-elected finance officer. Robert Nussbaum was designated chaplain and Schuyler Schultz was named a trustee.

The Legion post will participate in the annual Memorial Day parade in Woodstock, which is expected to have three bands in the line of march.

Bennett Banner Is Acclaimed For Excellency

Jessie Wolf, student editor, and Mrs. Emma Argulewicz, faculty advisor of the Bennett Banner, the school newspaper of the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Boiceville, have recently been informed by E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, that their school's paper has been awarded state and national honors in the school press project sponsored by his association.

The December issue of the Banner featuring articles on health education, health careers, and tuberculosis prevention was submitted to the County TB and Health Association for their consideration. It was one of three newspapers, and the only elementary school publication, to be selected to represent Ulster County in the state competition.

The state judges noted that the series of interviews with school health officials including Dr. Norman Burg, MD, school doctor, Mrs. Mary Caughey, speech therapist, Mr. Henry Lampl, school psychologist, Mrs. Ruth Bark, RN, school nurse and Miss Sara Kettell, dental hygienist were "especially good." They selected the Bennett Banner as the "best entry" in the state competition.

Awards on May 14

The panel of national judges representing the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National Tuberculosis Association selected the Banner as one of the national honor certificate winners.

Mrs. Argulewicz and Jessie Wolf have been invited to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County T. B. and Health Association where they will be presented with the award certificates. The dinner meeting will be held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, on Thursday, May 14 at 7 p. m.

Other members of the Bennett Bannerstaff include Daniel Estes, assistant editor; Elizabeth Carlson, news chief; Ellen Schwarz, special features chief; Keith Keator, science news chief; Michael Bernard, book reviews chief; Patty Schallert, chief of circulation; Laura Nuchow, chief of publicity; Eddie Kahil, sports editor.

The Bennett Banner was founded in September 1962 under Mrs. Argulewicz's direction. It is published by-monthly by and for the students of the Bennett Elementary School.

Po'keepsie City Manager Resigns, Keeps BPW Post

Kenneth Pearce, Poughkeepsie city manager, resigned his position at Monday night's meeting of the Common Council and appointed himself head of the Board of Public Works to succeed the late Harold R. Dean, who died last year.

The resignation was unexpected but was accepted by unanimous consent of the seven Democrats and one Republican on the Council.

Pearce, who was appointed city manager when John J. Desmond resigned, said his health did not permit him to handle the dual job of city manager and head of the Public Works Dept.

The city manager agreed to remain on the job until the Common Council can hire a replacement. The post pays $15,000 a year while the Board of Public Works head receives $12,000 a year.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Construction accidents at the Aswan dam project have taken 227 lives, including six Russians, the newspaper Al Akhbar reported.

Ulster Lists 2,300

More than 4,300 On Petition for Bush Nomination

More than 4,300 signatures were listed on designating petitions filed recently with the Secretary of State for GOP incumbent Sen. E. Ogden Bush of DeLancey.

The figure includes more than 2,300 signers from Ulster County, as compared with an approximate figure of 250 on the petition of his opponent, Lloyd A. Newcombe, Catskill businessman.

SEN. E. OGDEN BUSH

Sen. Bush said today he appreciated the support these figures showed and would serve his constituents to the utmost, if nominated, to warrant this confidence in his continued representation of their interests in Albany.

Sen. Bush's total represented signatures from every county in the district. The 34th Senatorial District includes Ulster, Greene, Delaware and Sullivan Counties.

The senator said that the figures further show that the "Party Bosses" referred to by his opponent are not trying to dump the "Old Man," as stated in his opponent's publicity releases.

Newcombe announced last week that more than 2,000 signatures were on his nominating petition.

The petitions are required for a place on the ballot for the Republican primary contests on June 2.

It was learned today that Senator Bush has accepted an invitation to attend the annual spring dance of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, to be held Saturady evening, at Ang-Els Restaurant, East Chester Street By-Pass.

This is an annual event of the Club and many county officials are expected to attend.

Among these will be Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Jesse McHugh, vice chairman of Ulster County Republican Committee; Assistant Distrtict Attorney Joseph Torraca, County Treasurer Fred DuBois, Corner Arthur Chipp, Bernhardt Kramer, representative of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, and Edward W. Snyder, executive secretary to Assemblyman Wilson.

President Anthony Cicoria and Chairman Jack Smith have announced that Supervisor Alexander Banyo is to be master of ceremonies. Music will be furnished by the Tuxedo Four. There will also be entertainment during the evening and a Buffet supper.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, signaled he will ignore them in his contract negotiations beginning in June with the Big Three automakers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Johnson called the wage-price guideposts sensible and fair and added: "They are in the public interest and while I cannot — and will not — force anyone to follow them, I can call them to your attention and ask for your cooperation."

Key to Debentures Is Soundess of Issues

Q) "Sometime ago you wrote about debentures, but you didn't comment on their soundness. Also what is meant by 'subordinated' debentures and 'unsubordinated' debentures?" M. K.

A) Looking back, I think you're entirely right—and I will gladly elaborate.

A debenture is simply a note issue put out by a corporation. It has no security beyond the promise of the company to pay interest and principal when due. Its soundness rests entirely on the solvency and credit standing of the issuing company and the strength of the interest coverage on its funded debt.

A subordinated debenture is subordinate—so far as payment of interest and principal are concerned—to certain senior indebtedness which may also be unsecured. An unsubordinated debenture ranks equally with other unsecured issues but may be subject to mortgage debt if that exists.

However, I would forget these distinctions and look solely at the strength and standing of the borrower, and the number of times debenture interest is earned.

Q) "Can you please comment on the recent poor performance of Standard Oil of California, which I have been accumulating for years as a backlog of a conservative list that otherwise includes such stocks as Telephone, General Electric, Crown Zellerbach, Southern California Edison, etc.?" F. F.

A) You appear to have an excellent list of stocks—including Standard, Oil of California, although it admittedly has not shown as good technical action this year as some of its competitors.

The reason is that this company's earnings in 1963 showed a gain of only 2.6 per cent over the previous year, which compares with an increase of 13.3 per cent for Texaco and 20.7 per cent for Jersey Standard.

I believe the main cause of California Standard's poorer showing was its heavy dependence on marketing in California, where competition has been intense in many areas. The company is strengthening its position in the Mid-West and East, and overseas marketing through Caltex is expanding.

I advise you to hold your shares.

Army Will Test Seniors in May

SPC Edward Malenski, Army Recruiter for Ulster County, announced that the Albany Recruiting Main Station will be open Saturday, May 9 and May 23 for the purpose of testing seniors both male and female.

All schools are reserved on a first come, first qualified basis. Although there is no obligation to enlist, applicants must first qualify both physically and aptitude wise, to reserve the school of their choice.

It has been noted other parts of the United States have a much earlier graduation and the popular and highly desirable technical schools are reserved by them. To meet this challenge and enable seniors to get their fair share of the Modern Army Technical Schools, the Saturday processing dates were established.

Interested seniors planning Army enlistment this summer should contact SFC Malenski at the Central Post Office, Kingston.

The survey as usual will sample consumers' views of recent economic trends in the nation and their plans to purchase—attitudes which have given the surveys great predictive values.

Addresses for the interviews are selected scientifically to present a cross-section of metropolitan, suburban and rural areas. Results of the interviews, never identified with any person or address, are coded, combined and published in a statistical report for the country as a whole. The results have proven helpful to government officials, businessmen, economists and educators who seek better understanding of the conditions and ideas existing in the nation today.

drivers. The shootings were blamed on Americans.

There have been no arrests.

The second driver was shot with a pistol on a Saigon street shortly after midnight.

A Vietnamese policeman and a civilian claimed they saw the shooting and that an English-speaking man, probably an American, was involved.

U.S. sources said that following the second killing, the drivers' union met and decided to launch a massive "drive on" around the American Embassy.

Increased police patrols were moved into the area.

Calls for Safety Pins

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Education Association wants its 7,200 members to wear safety pins on their lapels or blouses until the end of the next legislative session in 1965.

Executive Secretary Elmer S. Crowley said Monday the pins symbolize inadequacy of public school financing in Idaho. "School financing is figuratively pinned together, not cut out of whole cloth," he said.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Outer Limits" is an early evening show apparently designed to scare deliciously an audience that is too old for Godzilla but too unsophisticated for "Twilight Zone."

There obviously is a big audience for this nonsense — monsters from outer space and mad scientists with time machines—because ABC has renewed it for another season.

Monday night's tale was typical of the silly series. It started with two frightened girls serving a poisoned cocktail to a handsome blackmailer standing for some unexplained reason, in swimming trunks in a lake in the middle of a dark forest. Then one of those Hollywood studio storms started as the girls fled through the woods to an eerie house where they found a grim blind man—played by, of all people, Sir Cedric Hardwicke—and a strange young man who had invented a machine that could "tilt time."

Well, sir, that poisoned fellow kept popping up, alive and dead, for most of an hour as the machine kept shuffling the past and the present. And all the time the braver of the girls kept running in the forest with a shovel trying to bury him.

This sort of stuff was grade D movie fodder before World War II. Maybe ABC needs a time tilting machine of its own.

The odds—for the next seven days of television only — are just about even that any evening network program is a rerun of a program seen earlier this season—or in a movie house long ago. There will be 42 repeats; 45 new shows.

"The Danny Kaye Show" will be replaced in early July by a variety-type show starring Rudy Vallee and featuring young performers. "The Garry Moore Show" will disappear — forever —at the end of June and re-runs of hour-long specials from other seasons will be substituted.

NBC, whose summer schedule contains not a single new entertainment program, will replace "That Was the Week That Was" in July with a series of variety shows shown originally to Canadian television viewers, to be called "On Parade."

Won't Review Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to review a decision that negro pupils have the right to entire school systems operated on a nonracial basis, including the assignment of teachers, principals, supervisory and supporting personnel.

The decision was given by a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La. It was appealed to the Supreme Court by the Board of Public Instruction of Duval County, Fla., of which Jacksonville is the county seat.

About 200 Attend Scout Council's Recognition Night

Nearly 200 Scouters and their wives, representing all six districts of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, attended the 1964 Council Scouters Recognition Dinner last week at Saugerties High School.

Preceding the dinner the Scouters and their ladies enjoyed a colorful series of exhibits. The activities of Cub Scouting were portrayed in a display prepared by Pack 36, Saugerties. Troop 32 of Saugerties featured an exhibit on Boy Scouting, and Explorer Post 12, Kingston, displayed program materials highlighting their phase of the Scouting program.

The Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow, provided a colored filmstrip presentation which depicted various outdoor activities conducted by the lodge.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. George Wood, pastor of Flatbush Reformed Church. Council President Clifford A. Henze of Hurley served as toastmaster.

An impressive patriotic opening ceremony was narrated by Herbert Shein, program director of radio station WGHQ.

A brief message of welcome was given by Robert DeLozier, district chairman and member of the council executive board.

The man-miles trophy, awarded annually to the district whose scouters traveled the highest aggregate of man-miles to attend the dinner, was presented to Clement Angstrom, chairman of the Kingston District by Henze.

A ceremony recognizing the valuable service to boyhood and community life given by the volunteer scout leaders in Ulster and Greene Counties was conducted by Dinner Committee Chairman Raymond Quackenbush of Saugerties.

Special recognition certificates were given to those Scouters whose service in the Scouting movement exceeded 30 years. Scouters recognized included: the Rev. Harry Christiana and Gordon Craig Jr., Port Ewen; George B. Matthews and Lester E. Decker, Kingston; and George Woodworth, East Jewett.

Scout Executive Alex Macdonald of Hurley spoke briefly on the council's accomplishments during the past year, and the intangible dividends which come to those who serve boyhood through the program of Scouting.

Veteran Scouter Robert Tremper of Ulster Park was the recipient of the Wood Badge, the highest national leadership training award. In charge of the Wood Badge presentation ceremony was Council Commissioner Kenneth Magyar of Saugerties, who was a previous recipient of this national training award.

The main address of the evening was given by Harry Rigby Jr., well-known Hudson Valley historian, who spoke on the subject, "Our American Heritage." Rigby recently accepted the chairmanship of the council's "Strengthen Our American Hetritage Program," which will be promoted throughout the nation this summer in cooperation with Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

Highlighting the program was the presentation of two Silver Beaver awards. These awards are presented annually to Scouters who, over a period of years, have rendered distinguished service to youth in the Council area. The Silver Beaver Award is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a scouter by a local Council. The Rip Van Winkle Council is authorized by the National Council to make two such awards annually.

This traditional feature was conducted by Silver Beaver Committee Chairman Johan Aalto of Gardiner. Assisting Aalto as members of the Silver Beaver Committee were Carlson, Saugerties; Anthony Zinnanti, Catskill; Elwood Hitchcock, East Jewett; Sherwood Lasher and Tremper, Kingston; and Henze, Hurley.

Scouter recipients of the 1964 Silver Beaver Awards were Harry Hoffman, Saugerties, and Richard Waltman, Kingston.

Waltman, a veteran Scouter, has over the years filled a number of key Scouting posts in the Kingston District, including those af assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, explorer advisor, advisor to the Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow, and neighborhood commissioner. Currently Waltman is serving as Commissioner of Kingston District. He has also been selected to serve as a member of the Region 2 sectional staff at the 6th National Jamboree to be held in July at Valley Forge, Pa.

Hoffman, another veteran Scouter, has held a number of positions on a council, district and unit level. Before moving to the Saugerties area Hoffman served in Bucks County, where he was an Assistant Scoutmaster, district organization and Extension chairman, explorer advisor and assistant district commissioner.

In the Saugerties District Hoffman has served as district vice chairman, chairman, and chairman of the district organization and Extension Committee. He has also actively served on the council executive board for several years. In addition Hoffman has served two terms on the Saugerties Board of Education. Unable to attend the recognition ceremony due to illness, Hoffman's Silver Beaver Award was accepted by his father, who is a previous recipient of the Silver Beaver Award in the Bucks County Council area.

South Must Be Wary of East

BY OSWALD JACOBY

I am not going to show the East-West hands today because it is up to you to find the proper line of play at three no-trump against a seven of spades opening.

Of course, in the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, North and South had to reach three no-trump with South as declarer as a preliminary to collecting their par. Then South had to play the hand correctly.

Actually there is very little to the play if you remember to use the code word "Arch."

You Analyze the lead as the fourth best of a suit headed by ace-queen-ten and you confirm this when East plays low and your nine spot wins the trick.

Your Review of the bidding just tells you that East hasn't much of anything and your Count of winners and losers shows that you will surely make your contract if you can just gather in four heart tricks.

How do you get those four heart tricks? You go after the suit. Is there any danger? Yes! If East gets the lead he can shoot a spade through you and it will cost you four spade tricks.

East is not likely to hold the queen of hearts, but he may. Therefore, you play him for that card. You enter dummy with a club and lead the jack of hearts. If East holds the queen, you will make all the heart tricks. If West holds the queen, you will lose one heart trick but your contract will not be in any jeopardy.

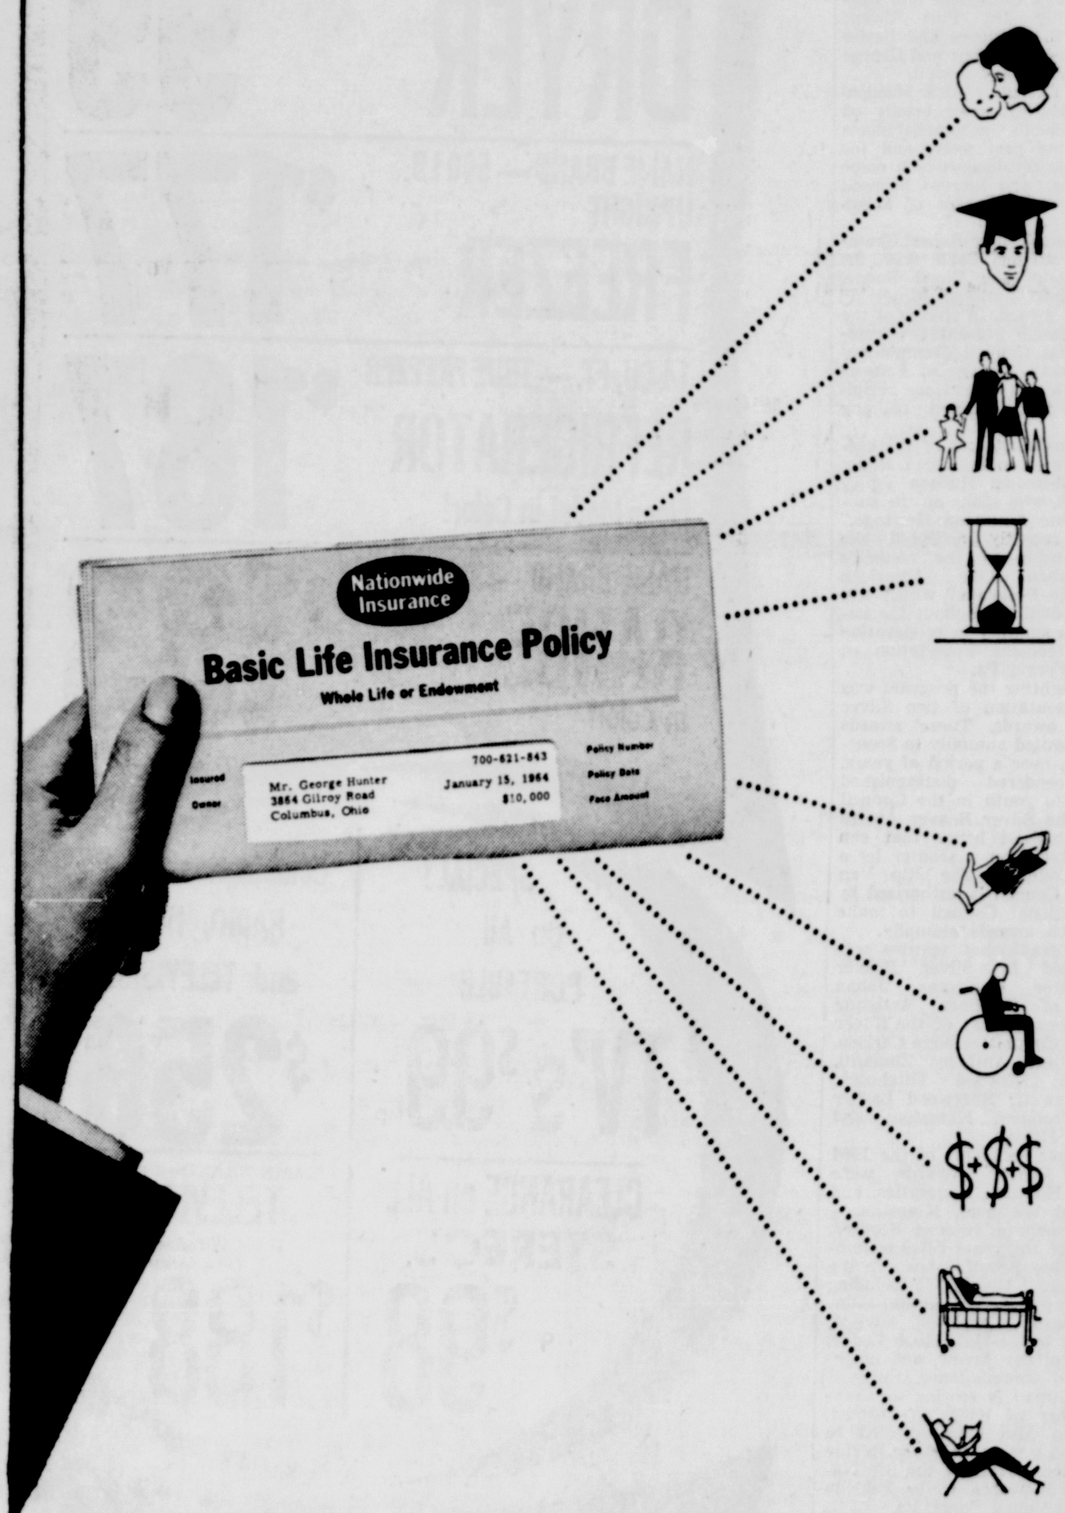
New idea in life insurance! Nationwide's "Adjustable Plan" lets one policy do the work of four

You buy one policy, then add or subtract other kinds of protection as often as your needs change. It is the most flexible plan ever.

Include any of these "Benefits" in one Nationwide policy. Add or subtract them as your needs change.



These 4 "Benefits" required separate policies until now

Wife and Children Benefit: Provides insurance for wife and each child. All children born after the "Benefit" starts are insured automatically after 15 days at no extra cost. This "Benefit" also guarantees your children can get more life insurance of their own when they reach age 22—regardless of their health at the time.

College Savings Benefit: Provides money to pay for your children's college education. You pay as much as 15 percent less for this plan than for all other college endowment-type plans. Nationwide guarantees the money you pay in will earn substantial interest. NOTE: The sooner you start, the lower your payments.

Family Security Benefit: Low-cost, extra insurance for father. It provides a large amount of protection for wife and children while children are young. Then it decreases in face value as children grow older. It is called decreasing term insurance. Can be carried by father for a term of 10, 15, 20 years, or to his age 65.

"Level Term" Benefit: Good to have to protect family against large debt. It is term insurance. It runs for a specific term—10 or 15 years. It does not build up cash value. It is pure insurance. That's why it costs less than insurance that builds up cash value. Level term pays full face amount if you die anytime within term.

These 5 "Benefits" can also be added to your one policy

"Dividend Term" Benefit: Insurance that is completely paid for by the dividends from your basic policy. Good to have if you borrow money from your policy—makes sure your wife will receive full amount of policy if you die before repaying money you borrowed.

Guaranteed Insurability Benefit: Lets you buy more insurance—as much as $60,000 more—as you get older regardless of health. You'd be surprised how many men find it difficult and costly to get more insurance as they grow older because their health changes.

Accidental Death Benefit: Can provide as much as two and three times the face amount of your basic life insurance policy if death is due to an accident. A "must" if you travel a lot. Nationwide now offers this "Benefit" to age 70 instead of just age 65.

Waiver of Premium Benefit: Self-completing "Benefit." If you become totally and permanently disabled and can't work, Nationwide will make all your premium payments for you. This "Benefit" lets you keep your full insurance protection no matter what happens.

Retirement Benefit: Guarantees your right to buy retirement income anytime in the future at today's low prices. Can save you quite a bit. Cost of retirement insurance is steadily going up as people live longer, but your low premium will always stay the same.

Until today, if you had a life insurance policy on yourself, you had to buy a new policy to insure your wife. Another for your mortgage. And so on. Complicated. And you paid extra to have the new policies written.

Today, Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan" ends all this. It lets you custom-tailor a single policy to fit your needs, and change it as your needs change. Simple. And it gets rid of those extra costs. Here's how it works:

LET'S SAY you already have a policy on yourself, and you now want to insure your wife and new baby.

Until now, you had to buy a brand-new policy to insure them both.

There were drawbacks to this. You had to pay extra to cover the paper work involved in writing a new policy. You also had to take more insurance on yourself.

Eliminates paying extra costs

Now with Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan," you can insure your wife and child without buying a brand-new policy and without buying more insurance on yourself.

You select Nationwide's "Wife and Children Benefit" and add it to your basic Nationwide policy. It's as simple as that.

Add or subtract 9 "Benefits"

You can do the same thing with four different "Benefits" that used to require buying separate policies—the top four described at the left. Besides that, you can add the five described below at the left. Nine "Benefits" in all.

With these nine "Benefits," you can custom-tailor a single policy to fit your needs. Add the "Benefits" as you need them. Subtract them as your needs change.

If you'd like to learn more about this amazingly flexible plan, call your local Nationwide representative today. He can lend you a hand with all your insurance needs—life, health, home and auto. He's listed in the Yellow Pages.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR NATIONWIDE POLICYHOLDERS

If you now own a basic Nationwide Life Insurance policy (Whole Life or Endowment), and you bought it since 1948, you can go back and revise it with any of these nine "Benefits."

Carnival Marksman Going On Show With Garry Moore

By CHARLES M. McCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

"'I've Got a Secret' — I can shoot you with 200 rounds of ammunition and you'll never feel a thing. In fact, you might even feel and look better than ever."

Now what kind of a statement is that?

Ask Paul La Cross, a rugged, slender gunslinging ace who is going to prove just that next week on television. After he leaves Kingston.

The handsome La Cross, who is general agent for the Continental Shows playing this week at Route 9W north and Neighborhood Road under sponsorship of the Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, is scheduled to appear Monday, May 11 on the "I've Got a Secret" show featuring Garry Moore.

His secret of course is out — "shoot out," that is. He's going to draw a charicature of Garry on an aluminum sheet by firing 200 rounds of ammo in two minutes or less, using four Winchester rifles alternately.

A Real Star

And "draw" he can. Publicity flyers on La Cross say he's the "World's Fastest, Fanciest Gunslinger, Knife and Tomahawk Thrower," and you'd better believe it. He's been a feature or star attraction on nationwide TV shows, sport shows, fairs, rodeos, circuses, wild west shows, military bases, shopping centers, theaters and night clubs throughout the U. S. and in foreign countries. And he has "doubled" for authenitic shooting and knife throwing scenes in numerous movies.

Obviously a graduate of the "they said it couldn't be done" school, La Cross looks very little like a soft-spoken Vermonter with a wife and grown daughter. A quick study of his grey, wavy hair, sharp end even eyes and firm jaw makes one look rather for the star on the left pocket of his shirt. He looks like he just stepped out of the west after a showdown at high noon in OK Corrall where he either consigned a couple hundred injuns to the happy hunting ground or set up a week's work for the gravediggers at Boot Hill — you know—a sort of Wyatt Earp and Jim Bowie packed into one.

La Cross' unusual occupation department includes "human" targets; his wife and daughter, Paula, and any volunteer with nerves of steel, and he hasn't lost a customer yet. His act includes a safe portable gallery and he does all his shooting with legitimate live ammo.

Three at a Time

To say his act is diversified is to say his shooting is somewhat rapid. He can handle three revolvers and shoot in opposite directions simultaneously; split playing cards—edgeways pardner—with a rifle and upside down at that; fire through the hole in a 78 RPM playing record; light a match with a revolver at 25 feet; shoot without a gunsight; hit a target by squeezing the trigger with his teeth, and shoot the tobacco out a cigarette from one end to the other, without cutting the paper. That alone is enough to make one give up smoking.

La Cross has developed a .45 caliber "indoor bullet" that is accurate up to 25 feet but loses all velocity and disintegrates within 30 feet. The shell has show appeal with a loud "45" report and plenty of smoke, and enables the trickster to do super-speed draws, accurate and high aerial shooting without the use of any bullet backstop.

"Uncanny" is a frequently used word to describe such feats with gun or blade. Decide for yourself on the latter two.

Knives, Tomahawks

La Cross throws 16-inch stainless steel knives and tomahawks from up to 30 feet. He throws two knives simultaneously, tossing six times, his assistant winding up etched in 12 knives. He outlines his assistant's body with flaming knives while in a complete blackout. His assistant is placed in a curtain which completely conceals her body and the knife board. La Cross then proceeds to throw 12 knives through the curtain, outlining both sides of her body.

If you need further proof, ask the lightning-quick handyman to zip a round through a half-inch hole in a washer thrown into the air or to splatter an aspirin tablet also in space.

And if you're anxious to play "showdown" with him, keep in mind that his record timed draw accuracy is seven one-hundredths of a second using single action Colt 45s. An he can outline both sides of his daughter's body while she is spinning approximately 120 RPM on a mounted disc.

Yes, Gare', he's got a secret.

TOP GUNSLINGER—Displaying latest thing in etchings is Paul La Cross, reputedly world' "fastest, fanciest gunslinger, knife and tomahawk thrower." He's holding drawing of Garry Moore etched by firing 200 rounds of live ammunition on an aluminum sheet in two minutes or less, using four Winchester rifles alternately. La Cross, who is general agent for the Continental Shows playing through Saturday for benefit of Ulster Hose No. 5 near Lake Katrine, will reveal his secret to host Moore on "I've Got a Secret" show next Monday. Below sharpshooter are similar "drawings" of Abe Lincoln and big chief All-Shot-Up. (Freeman photo)

Cabbie, Sunning Self, Apparent Drowning Case

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A 50-year-old taxi driver, sunning himself on rocks along the bank of the Genesee River, slipped from the rocks and apparently drowned Monday, police said.

The body of Daniel P. Healy, of Rochester, was recovered 100 feet from where he disappeared, police reported.

Police said a companion, Helen Land, 52, of Rochester, told them she and Healy were sitting on rocks along the river in Genesee Valley Park when Healy suddenly slipped, feet first, into the water.

She told police she tried to pull him from the river, found he was too heavy and went for help. When she returned, Healy had disappeared, she told police.

The medical examiner's office withheld a death certificate, pending investigation.

One of 5 Mine Victims

Gitmo Sailor Lost Life on Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the five American sailors killed last Saturday in a mine field explosion on the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, was 19 years old that day.

He was Richard Garrett of Oceanside, N.Y., who enlisted in the Navy soon after he turned 17.

All Five on Liberty

And Mrs. Charles C. Knight whose son, Steven, was another victim of the fatal blast, said sadly: "He was a normal boy who just liked to live."

All five seamen were on liberty from the Boxer, an amphibious assault vessel.

Steven, who would have been 20 years old in August, had been in the Navy since September last year. He was a native of Providence, R.I., but had lived with his parents, three brothers and one sister in Cranston, R.I., for 10 years.

Another victim, Arthur H. Orr, 21, is survived by his widow, Wanda, also 21, and their 2-year-old son, Reggie. Both live in Greenville, S.C. with Mrs. Orr's parents.

Orr, whose parents live in Hendersonville, N.C., would have completed his four-year enlistment in late July. He had been home on leave a week ago.

Henry J. Pazdan Jr., 19, also killed, lived in Trenton, N.J.

Looked Forward to Discharge

Before his ship sailed for Guantanamo Bay, Henry told his parents in a telephone conversation he looked forward to being discharged early next year.

A fourth victim, David N. Pyle, 19, lived with his parents in Crofton, Ky.

Forrest Pyle, 60, the youth's father who has a 117-acre tobacco farm, said: "He called us last Monday night and told us he was leaving (for Guantanamo) the next day.

"He wanted to talk to me but I was plowing and didn't get to talk to him. I told my wife when he called that I didn't feel like he would ever come back."

Pyle had been in the Navy 27 months. Mrs. Pyle said he was engaged to Linda Willis of Morehead City, N.C.

Young Pyle also leaves three sisters and a brother.

Garrett's family—his mother, stepfather and four young half-sisters—knew he was heading for Guantanamo Bay. Until they got word of his death they had not known he had arrived there.

The Navy said the sailors wandered into the mine field apparently while headed in darkness for a swim. The five shipmates "strayed into the well-marked area," the Navy said.

Fuss Over 80th Birthday Slows Work for Truman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman isn't getting much done on his history projects this week—too many people making a fuss over his 80th birthday coming up Friday.

Today he had 333 congratulatory telegrams and letters to read. They came from President Johnson, Herbert Hoover, Dwight D. Eisenhower, senators, congressmen, ambassadors, chiefs of state abroad.

Wednesday about 250 old friends will honor him at a luncheon in Kansas City, just as they have every year since he left the White House.

Friday he'll be in Washington for his usual birthday luncheon with friends from the investigating committee he headed while in the Senate.

Dear Abby . . .

On the Birds!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: "Knows My Birds" doesn't know much. The male of the species is handsomely bedecked with colorful plumage in order to lure the female during the mating season. The female is drab and plain so she'll not attract too much attention, thereby diverting her from her maternal responsibilities. It is just the opposite with the human animal, however. The female does the strutting, preening, chasing and ultimately the capturing. Although Nature originally made her plain and drab, she soon learned the tricks of padding, girdling, painting and trapping like no other animal on earth. But no amount of trickery could alter the biological laws. And the female must continue to endure the pregnancies and bear the young. Ho ho ho!

• • • •

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Several weeks ago, a bird-watcher said in effect that the females were prettier than the males, but that they were useless. And you let him get away with it. Having given him one barrel about who laid the eggs, you should have let him have the other barrel and asked him if he had ever seen a pair of ring-necked pheasants, or wood cocks, or Kentucky cardinals, or ruby-throated hummingbirds, or indigo buntings. The males are marvelously colorful. The females are not. Nature colored the females protectively, to help perpetuate the species. Of course, male and female doves, chickadees, bluejays and many others are similarly marked. But I can think of no bird hereabouts among which the female is more attractive than the male.

DEAR ABBY: No, no, no! You are wrong, wrong, wrong! The female of the feathered family is NOT more beautiful! The peacock is the gorgeous one. The peahen fades in with the background. The male cardinal is brilliant red, while the female is brownish with only slight tinges of red. The reason: The male must divert attention of a predator away from the nest, so the female can stay on the eggs, unnoticed. Now as for the female being more vocal: That is the prevailing manifestation of all females.

Really, Abby, you write a wonderful column, and when you wish, you can make strong men quail (hah!), but you deserve 60 lashes with an ostrich plume. It won't hurt, but you'll be tickled to death.

Final Settlement Made in Deaths Of Six Infants

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—The court books are closed in the tragic salt-sugar mixup that brought death to six babies at Binghamton General Hospital two years ago.

The State Supreme Court recently made the final awards of $7,000 each to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bealo and Mr. and Mrs. hospital kitchen at the time of Robert Walker of Binghamton.

Parents of four other babies who died received $7,000 settlements earlier this year.

The money is to be paid by the hospital and Crotty Brothers Eastern Shores Inc., which had the hospital's food service contract.

Salt and sugar had been stored in identical cans in the the mixup. Salt was accidentally poured into the babies' formulas. Five infants died before the illness was diagnosed as salt poisoning, and one died afterwards.

The hospital now has a new food management firm. Formulas are in individually packaged feedings and each is tested before being fed to a baby.

Extra Day Gets Credit for 12,000 More Feb. Births

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's extra February day has been credited by the Public Health Service for an increase of about 12,000 in the number of babies born in February as compared with February 1963.

An estimated 326,000 live babies were born in February this year, the service said, compared with 314,000 in the 1963 month.

"The excess over the same month of last year was largely due to the extra day in February of 1964, a Leap Year," the service said.

"The rate of childbearing continued the decline that has prevailed for over two years. In February, the crude birth rate was 21.6 live births per 1,000 population, and the general fertility rate was 107.8 births per 1,000 women aged 15-44 years; both rates, unaffected by the varying number of days in the month, were about one per cent below those of February 1963.

The service also pointed out that the extra February day this year was a Saturday, "the most popular day of the week for performance of marriages." There were 121,000 marriages during February, about 16,000 more than a year earlier.

The marriage rate was 8.0 per 1,000 population, nearly 10 per cent higher than the 7.3 rate in the 1963 month, continuing an upward trend which began more than a year ago.

The number of deaths decreased by 13,000, despite the extra day this year, and the February death rate was 9.8 per 1,000 population, down from 11.2 in February 1963.

Agree on Boom, But Not on Type

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Officials agree that an ice boom at the head of the Niagara River to check the flow of heavy Lake Erie ice is necessary, but disagree on the type of boom to use.

A member of the International Joint Commission proposed Monday that a partial boom be constructed. Others at the hearing held by the commission favored a shore-to-shore boom.

Dr. Rene DuPuis of Montreal, a commission member, said:

"For sake of safety, let's put in a partial boom. . .then some ice could flow around it."

A hydraulic engineer said that a shore-to-shore boom would submerge under heavy ice loads, allowing some of the ice to flow into the river, relieving the possibility of heavy ice pressure build-ups behind the boom.

Representatives of Niagara Falls and Buffalo gave qualified support to the shore-to-shore ice boom proposal.

Aid for Post Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Post Office was offered temporary financial aid by a San Francisco city official Monday.

Informed that the downtown Rincon Annex post office branch would no longer be open until midnight weekdays, supervisor George Moscone suggested that the city pay for staffing the post office at nights for a month—or until the federal government straightens out its financial problems.

Court's Refusal Not Affecting New York Greatly

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Cases pending in New York State apparently will be affected only slightly, if at all, by the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to consider overturning a decision that school district boundaries need not be changed to force integration.

"I think we will have to settle this principle piece by piece, John P. Jehu, head of the State Education Department's Law Division, said Monday.

"All that refusal means," Jehu said, "is that four judges did not think it raised a question they wanted to consider at this time."

Jehu also said that none of the cases pending in New York was truly similar to the Gary, Ind., case the court declined to consider.

The high court's action left intact a lower court decision that there was no justification for Negro arguments that the Gary school board had a duty to "recast or realign school districts or areas for the purpose of mixing or blanding Negroes and whites in a particular school."

Now in the New York courts is a case in which Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the state education commissioner, ordered pairing of schools in the Malverne-Lakeview District on Long Island and assignment of pupils by grade, rather than place of residence.

Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court has overruled Allen's order on the ground that the state law barring segregation also bars such action to force integration. An appeal from Bookstein's decision is scheduled for argument at the current term of the Appellate Division.

Park Patrolmen Will Use Motor Scooters

NEW YORK (AP) — The police department will use motor scooters this summer as a means of combatting crime in parks.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said Monday that 25 scooters would be tested in Manhattan's Central Park and Prospect Park, Brooklyn, during the 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift.

Arm said scooters can move much faster than a foot patrolman or mounted policeman and can get into areas not accessible to cars.

Concession to Indians

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—An Indian custom is responsible for the Oklahoma Wildlife Conservation Commission bending a law.

Richard Gibson, spokesman for the Shawnee Indian tribe, explained to commission members Monday that it was the custom of tribesmen to hunt 100 squirrels during a tribal ceremony near Little Axe, south of here, when trees leaf and the first full moon of the season appears.

The problem was that all this takes place before squirrel hunting season opens May 15. The commission consented to the hunt.

London Beefs Up Aden's Defenses

LONDON (AP) — Britain ordered more troops to Aden today in preparation for stronger action to defend its base guarding British oil investments in the Middle East.

Defense sources said 600 men of the Lancashire Fusiliers plus a tactical headquarters from Northern Ireland would be airlifted immediately to the big port and base at the southwest tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

They will bring British strength in Aden to about 3,000 men, backed by jets of Royal Air Force.

Their immediate task informed sources said, would be a punitive expedition against tribesmen fighting a guerrilla war against the British-protected South Arabian Federation, which joins the Aden crown colony with the 14 sheikhdoms of the former Aden protectorate stretching along the south coast of the peninsula.

The long-term objective is to convince the guerrillas, Yemen's republican regime and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic that Britain will not be driven out of its Aden base. The base is considered essential to the protection of Western oil interests in the peninsula as well as a staging post on the Commonwealth defense line to the Far East.

Saugerties Board Names James Gage As Village Clerk

James V. Gage of Clermont Street, Saugerties, a teller with Saugerties Savings Bank for the past three years, was appointed village clerk at the Monday night meeting of Saugerties Village Board.

Gage replaces Ernest R. Ackert, who was not reappointed at the April 6 organizational meeting of the board. Police Commissioner Robert Moser has been taking the minutes of the board meetings since that time. Gage will start in his new position on May 25.

A 1952 graduate of Saugerties High School, Gage served in the U. S. Navy from 1952 to 1955, attended Albany Business College from 1955 to 1956 and was employed as a bookkeeper by Styles Express Inc., Kingston from 1956 to 1961.

Police Commissioner Moser publicly commended Acting Sgt. Donald Sullivan for his apprehension of two U. S. Army deserters from Fort Eustis, Va., on April 14. Sullivan said the men acted suspicious and when picked up were in possession of a homemade blackjack, three knives and pornographic pictures. They were turned over to the custody of the Military Police from the Virginia base.

A delegation from Lighthouse Drive asked about the progress of the project to widen and repave that thoroughfare. They were advised that the village is negotiating for additional land along the road in order to proceed with the widening project. Difficulty in securing the land has been encountered, it was reported.

Fulbright, Home Discuss Cyprus Dispute Dangers

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Sen. J. W. Fulbright and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home discussed the intricacies and dangers of the Cyprus dispute today.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called at No. 10 Downing St. at the start of a Cyprus fact-finding mission for President Johnson. He also will visit Greece and Turkey but said he does not have time to go to Cyprus.

Britain, Greece and Turkey are the guarantors of the Cyprus constitution, which is threatened by the fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities. British forces have been trying to keep peace on the east Mediterranean island since the communal fighting broke out last Christmas and now are the largest contingent in the U.N. peace force there.

Fulbright on his arrival Monday night said he brought no new U.S. proposals but was touring to learn. He attended a briefing session at the U.S. Embassy before meeting Douglas-Home.

Court was recessed until 2 p. m. at which time sentence is scheduled to be pronounced in the Warren Dawson case. Dawson was found guilty of possession of a narcotic drug but disagreed on a second count of sale.

Centerville Vols Respond to House, Brush Fire Today

Centerville and Cedar Grove firemen of Centerville Fire Department responded to a house fire at High Woods and barely returned to station before another alarm called them to Quarryville to extinguish a brush fire near the Hanser Motel.

Both trucks of Centerville and Cedar Grove answered an alarm 8 a. m. today at High Woods on the Church Road where an unoccupied two-story frame dwelling was on fire.

The house is owned by Thomas Worthman of Saxton.

Assistant Chief Granville Scotty Myer reported considerable smoke and heat damage throughout the house, but the flames were contained to the kitchen and a small utility room on the main floor. Very little water damage was reported.

Chief Tobert Thein was in charge of the equipment at the scene. Myer said the fire apparently started in the kitchen. The cause was undetermined.

Shortly after their return to station, about 10:45, an alarm was relayed from Saugerties Police Department who reported a house fire on the Quarryville hill, Route 32.

Both Centerville trucks and one Cedar Grove pumper responded. When firemen arrived they discovered brush near the Hanser Motel was burning. The fire was extinguished with no damage to the buildings on the property, fire officials reported.

Mrs. Herbert Gertner of Kingston Elected President of Hadassah; Donor Day June 14

Mrs. Herbert Gertner, 61 Wilson Avenue, was elected president of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah at the April meeting held recently at Temple Emanuel.

Serving with Mrs. Gertner will be the Mmes. Sidney Halpern, Walter Suskind and Alvin Motzkin, vice presidents; Sidney Treinkman, treasurer; Manuel Lipton, financial secretary; Alfred Zamm, recording secretary; William Buchbinder, corresponding secretary; Irving Josephson, secretary to the board; and Stewart Ritchie, president's secretary. Mrs. George Starkman, nominations chairman, presented the slate. Installation of new Hadassah officers is set for June 1.

Mrs. Arthur Landesman presided over the meeting; Mrs. Gertner gave the invocation. Mrs. Alvin Motzkin reported on plans for "Eye Bank Day" May 20, when Hadassah members will solicit funds from the community for the fight against trachoma, a dread eye disease, as part of the organization's work for Hadassah Medical Organization. Additional workers are needed; those who can aid should contact Mrs. Motzkin.

Mrs. Alfred Horowitz reported on the successful HMO ad page, published in The Freeman April 25, while Mrs. Joseph Horowitz gave a report on the special HMO benefit, with a trip to Puerto Rico to be awarded May 6. The organization's thanks were given to the chairmen and their workers who were responsible for the two most successful projects.

Hadassah culminates its work for HMO with its "Donor Day" set June 14 at the Nevele. Reservations may be made with the Mmes. Alvin Motzkin, George Starkman or Arthur London.

Mrs. William Buchbinder, co-chairman with Mrs. Murray Weiss of the Jewish National Fund drive, asked workers to complete their lists immediately. Mrs. N. B. Gross, tourism chairman, told the members that three of the group, the Mmes. Oscar London, Ben Suskind and Sidney Wolff, were soon to tour Israel.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Leon Freedman of Nanuet, who will be installed next month as president of the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah. A member of the national Hadassah Medical Organization committee, she spoke on the life-giving work that HMO carries on in Israel and other countries. She reminded the members that in the 21-building medical center outside Jerusalem, "yau care for the sick in mind and body, bring new Sabras (native-born Israelis) into the world and carry on research for all Israel."

She noted that the hospital staff practices the most advanced eye surgery methods in the world as part of the fight against trachoma, a dread eye disease which leads to blindness. Hadassah medical teams had isolated the trachoma virus and almost curbed incidence of the disease; however vast waves of migration of Jews fleeing from Arab countries has brought back a resurgence. "An old man who can read a newspaper after many years of blindness, three sisters born with congenital eye disease who can now see light—that's what we have accomplished with money raised for HMO," Mrs. Freedman said.

The local chapter of Hadassah will add its efforts to the fight against trachoma with its annual "Eye Bank Day" drive set for Wednesday, May 20.

The speaker told her audience that when the Belgians, including doctors, fled the Congo, leaving the sick without care, the first plane arriving was one filled with Israeli nurses and doctors, who set up clinics, set native staff members to Israel for training, and stayed on until enough personnel were ready to take over all medical installations.

ANNUAL YWCA LUNCHEON—Discussing 40 years of progress at the annual meeting and anniversary luncheon of the Young Women's Christian Association are Miss Winifred Wygal, former national staff member and guest speaker; Miss Frances Maxwell, executive director and Mrs. Fred Burnett, luncheon chairman. Mrs. John Warren is chairman of the 40th anniversary committee. The event was held Saturday at the Fair Street Reformed Church. (Freeman photo)

YWCA Urged to Accept Challenge of Change By Anniversary Luncheon Speaker Saturday

"The YWCA believes in change and accepts the challenge to offer more opportunity for those who feel they are 'second class' citizens!" Miss Winnifred Wygal said Saturday afternoon, as she addressed the 100 members attending the 40th anniversary luncheon and annual meeting of the YWCA.

Miss Wygal, former national staff member, urged the local association to learn to take its place in a world where three-quarters of the people are not white skinned, and to keep the activities available for all who wish to step in the door, no matter what race or religion they might be.

The luncheon meeting held at the Fair Street Reformed Church, was presided over by the outgoing president, Mrs. William Wood, who introduced the staff, and thanked all of the board of directors members for their cooperation during the past year. Mrs. Edwin C. Coon gave the devotions, Mrs. Frank W. Thompson Sr. gave a brief resume of the beginnings of the local association 40 years ago.

Elected to a three-year term on the board at this meeting were Mrs. Fred Burnett, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. John Glennon, Miss Jean Harvey, Miss Louise Luther, Miss Mary Staples, Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge and Mrs. John Warren.

Elected to the nominating committee for a one year term were from the board, Mrs. Henry Millonig, Mrs. Herbert H. Reuner, and Miss Agnes Scott Smith, and from the membership, Mrs. Helen Gill, Miss Frances Osterhoudt, Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer, and Mrs. Marshall Winchell.

Mrs. Fred Port, assistant Y-Teen program director, announced the winners of the YWCA Week poster contest held recently are Late Mates, Lauri Lyke; fifth and sixth grades, Mary Lannen, first, and Kathy Hogan, second.

Miss Frances Maxwell, in her report to the association on the National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio in April, told of the needs and requests from the Y-Teens and of the deep and inspiring messages many of the Y-Teens gave which swayed the thinking of some of the adults on the recommendation from the National Board that the proposed change in holding National Conventions every three years be changed to every four years. Mrs. Harold Davis, the other delegate from the local association, who was unable to be present at the luncheon, sent a message read by Mrs. Donald Snell, in which she said one could not report in words what inspiration was gained by going to convention, but that through a very moving "witness" which some 2000 of the 2,375 delegates gave, in standing for a five-minute silence in the Cleveland Public Square, to express sympathy with those in the civil rights movement, one could sense the togetherness of all those attending.

Mrs. Eleanor Booth, retiring executive director, was presented with a corsage and engraved silver tray, from the clubs of the YWCA, in appreciation of her work during the past five years as the executive director, and wishing her many happy years in her new home in Maine.

Each member attending was given a souvenir booklet depicting the highlights of the past 40 years. The booklet was compiled by the 40th Anniversary Committee, with Miss Agnes Scott Smith as editor. Members not attending the luncheon will be sent a booklet in the mail.

Mrs. Fred Burnett and her committee made the luncheon arrangements and Mrs. John Warren, chairman of the 40th anniversary committee, was in charge of the program.

FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS ON OFFICE DESK

Q: Is it in good taste for a man to display pictures of his wife and children on his desk in a business office?

A: If the desk is one of several in a room, it is not the proper place for photographs of his wife and children, but if he is alone in his own office, it would be quite all right.

Relationship After Death

Q: My son died several years ago. He was married and had two daughters. I have always been very fond of my daughter-in-law and we have remained very close, even now that she has remarried. Her husband is exceedingly kind and attentive when I go to see them. Recently when I visited them, my daughter-in-law introduced me to a guest as "my mother-in-law." The guest informed my daughter-in-law that she was wrong to have introduced me in this way and said that I am no longer her mother-in-law and she no longer my daughter-in-law. What have you to say about this?

A: She is still your daughter-in-law and you are obviously still her mother-in-law in her affections. However, now that she has remarried, introducing you simply as her mother-in-law is very misleading and gives the impression that you are her second husband's mother. To avoid this confusion, she should introduce you as Mrs. John Smith, "my first husband's mother."

Paper for Wedding Invitations

Q: Will you please tell me if deckle-edged wedding invitations are in good taste?

A: For anything as formal as a wedding invitation, good taste dictates conventional paper with clean-cut edges.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Urge Red China Talks

TOKYO (AP)—The situation of world communism is grave, the North Vietnamese government said in calling on the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and China to patch up their split.

The North Vietnamese Reds suggested Sunday that Peking and the Kremlin resume the talks they broke off in Moscow last July and pledge to strive "for the unity of the Socialist camp and the international Communist movement."

Emergency Lights

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—While a fire engine generated power for lights in a hospital operating room, doctors performed surgery on a victim of the traffic accident which had knocked out the lights.

Firemen rushed to Malibu Emergency Hospital Sunday after a collision sent a car into a power pole, cutting off the hospital's electricity.

Probing Bomb Explosions at Educator's Home

BURNT HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Saratoga County sheriff's deputies are investigating bomb explosions that shattered a front window at the home of the assistant principal of Burnt Hills High School.

Sheriff Lee A. Scherer said Monday that three homemade bombs had been placed at the home of John Olsen, two of them on the sill of the window. The third was stuffed in a mailbox about 20 feet from the house.

The Olsen family was asleep when the explosions occurred early Sunday. No one was injured.

Why We Say--

ADVANCEMENT: This expression started as a joke in a New Orleans newspaper in 1855. It was used as a disparaging remark about a nearby town that was said to have only one horse to do all types of work. Oddly enough, today the lack of horses used for power in a town is considered an advancement.

Hornung Signs With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—It's official: The Golden Boy is back.

Quietly, without fanfare and in a very routine manner, the Green Bay Packers mailed out a short, prepared release today that Paul Hornung, their all-everything halfback, has signed for his seventh season in the National Football League.

Hornung, a three-time N... scoring leader, sat out all of last year under suspension by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for betting on games. His was the biggest name involved in the NFL scandals of a year ago.

Both he and Alex Karras, Detroit Lion defensive tackle also under suspension, were reinstated last month.

"I don't expect to have any trouble coming back insofar as physical condition is concerned," Hornung said. "The biggest trouble should be in regaining my timing. I'll be working out with Bart Starr (Green Bay quarterback) and with his help I should be able to regain it."

No figures were mentioned in the routine release—which included Hornung's name with those of three other backs—but estimates of Hornung's salary were in the $25,000-$30,000 range about what he was receiving

The 28-year-old back led the league in scoring in 1959, 1960 and 1961, then missed about half of the 1962 season because of military service. He was still able to help the Packers to their second straight NFL championship.

When he was suspended last season, the Packers slipped to second in the Western Division behind league champion Chicago.

Rios Pitches DUSO Verdict In Hilly City

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Some gritty pitching by Gene Rios, a dropped infield pop, a ribbed defense and a quick but effective relief job by Brian Bach combined to give Kingston a 4-1 DUSO victory at Newburgh yesterday and move the Maroon into second place in the circuit standings.

In the other league contest, Port Jervis walloped Middletown, 8-1, behind the pitching of Joe Nolan and remained unbeaten.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Port Jervis	2	0
Kingston	2	1
Newburgh	1	1
Middletown	1	2
Poughkeepsie	0	2

Rios, who lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to Port Jervis last week when he committed a balk, must have been wondering if his mates were ever going to score for him. He was locked in a scoreless duel with lefty Mickey Scott of the Goldies as the locals came to bat in the sixth.

With one out, Paul Gruner singled up the middle, only the third hit off Scott, who baffled the KHS batters with his slow stuff.

The Ball Is Dropped

After Rod DeVeau forced Gruner at second, Joe Amendola hit a pop between first and second. It looked like an easy out, which would have enabled Scott to escape the inning without a run. However, it was dropped and runners were on first and third.

That was the break the visitors needed. Mike Canning followed with his second hit to break the deadlock. Then Neil Bechtold and Bill Egan collected base hits. Egan was cut down at second but by this time four runs were in.

The Goldies, who kept pecking away at Rios all afternoon finally dented the scoring column in the sixth as catcher Kevin Shay walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a hit by Nick Galati.

Summon Bach

Newburgh threatened again in the seventh, when with two outs, Rios walked Dennis Banker and Shay singled. At this point, coach Al Gruner summoned Bach in from the bullpen. He fanned the dangerous Pete Petrillo to insure the verdict.

The defending champions had several opportunities to get at Rios but the sopohomore lefty rose to the occasion each time. His toughest moment came in the third when he lost his control and loaded the bases on walks.

Gene than ran the count to 3 and 2 on Petrillo, the cleanup hitter, before fanning him on a fast ball.

The home side had runners on base in every inning but the second and fifth. Rios was aided by a good defense. Shortstop Mike Canning was particularly impressive with some neat fielding gems. He saved a run in the fourth by picking up a ball which bounced off Rios' glove and threw the runner out at first on a bang-bang play. There was a runner on third at the time.

Kingston, with a 4-2 mark overall, will host Arlington Wednesday afternoon and Poughkeepsie in a DUSO game on Thursday.

Cassius to Europe On Political Jaunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, who prefers to be called Muhammad Ali, is preparing to leave for a six-weeks, 14-nation tour of Africa.

The undefeated boxing ruler said Monday night he will leave within a week by plane "to accept a series of invitations that have been sent to me from leaders in the nations of Africa."

POLICE AWARD TO DAVI: John Crespino, president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association presents Fred Davi, the V.F.W.'s Citizen of the Year a transistor radio in benalf of the association at the recent VFW awards dinner.

KBA Directors Propose Change in Membership

Kingston Bowling Association directors will vote on a proposed amendment which would scrap the present team membership plan to individual membership at the annual meeting, May 12.

Several other changes and options in the current by-laws will be voted on, in addition to the annual election of officers.

The new membership clause recommended by the executive committee would set up individual membership, with combined ABC and KBA dues set at $2 per individual, regardless of the number of leagues he bowls in.

Each individual bowler would make application for membership and pay his dues through his league or any one league, if he competes in more than one. Bowlers competing in more than one league would be issued receipts to establish their eligibility for all leagues.

Create New Post

The executive committee has also proposed the creation of an assistant secretary-treasurer and also set up definite areas of responsiblity for its vice presidents. Fore example, the first vice president is automatically tournament manager for the association tournament. The other proposed designations: second vice president, auditing chairman; third vice president, publicity; fourth vice president, awards chairman and fifth vice president, Rules committee.

The salaries of the secretary-trasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer would be set annually by the executive committee.

The section dealing with life members has also been clarified as follows: "Life Members in this association shall be entitled to vote at meetings of the Board of Directors. The conditions for Life Memberships are as follows: (a) an association member must have served on the executive committee for a minimum of five years, including one term as president or (b) an association member must have served on the executive committee for a minimum of ten years.

Nominees Listed

The slate of officers to be proposed at the May 12 meeting follows:

Colavito Hits Pair To Pace KC Triumph

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Orlando Pena can leave his bubble gum and crayons at home as long as Rocky Colavito keeps the horns tootin'.

The Kansas City hurler, who drew reprimands last week for his habit of blowing bubbles while pitching and marking his glove with crayons, beat the Los Angeles Angels 7-4 Monday night for the A's third straight victory.

Pena didn't have any of his playthings with him but he had Colavito and that was all he needed. The Rock crashed his seventh and eighth homers of the year, each time setting off the complicated system of lights and horns which greet each Athletic homer in Municipal Stadium.

The circuit shots gave Colavito the American League lead and kept the horns tooting overtime. The A's have belted eight homers in the last three games and 24 in their 12 home games.

Colavito's first homer, with the bases empty in the fifth, gave Kansas City a 3-2 edge. He also connected in the eighth with Jim Gentile aboard, and Bill Bryan followed with another home run for the A's.

Near the Yankees

The victory nudged the A's to within one-half game of owner Charles Finley's No. 1 targets, the New York Yankees, who, along with the Detroit Tigers, were idle.

In other American League games, Chicago overcame two Bob Allison homers and beat Minnesota 10-5; Leon Wagner clubbed a grand-slam homer as Cleveland defeated Boston 7-4 and Baltimore exploded for an eight-run inning on just four hits while walloping Washington 11-4.

The Angels bounced back to tie the A's after Colavito's first homer. But Nelson Mathews doubled with one out in the seventh and came home with the go-ahead run when Pena stroked a clutch single.

The eighth-inning homers by Colavito and Bryan iced Pena's third victory in five decisions.

Allison drove in all of Minnesota's runs with his fifth and sixth homers but the White Sox produced a nibbling attack to win it. Three infield hits, a walk, a wild pitch and clutch singles by Al Weis and pitcher Joel Horlen produced a six-run sixth that gave Chicago the lead.

Wagner snapped a 3-3 tie with his seventh-inning shot off rookie Bill Spanswick. The veteran outfielder also singled in another Indian run hiking his league-leading runs batted in total to 19.

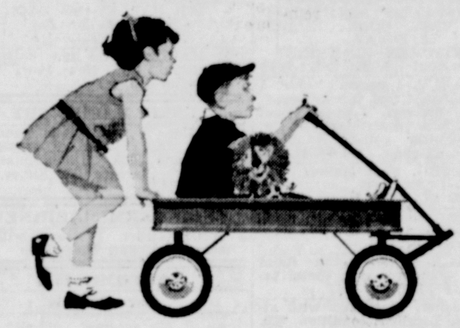
THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64



Some men never outgrow the need

for a wagon

A wagon has a way with men. Always has. Always will. Especially when it's a Dodge Wagon. Case in point: that Polara shown above. As rugged and handsome a carryall as you've ever laid hands on.

Inside—saddle-grained vinyl that resists cracking, scuffing, shrinking, stretching. Hand-fitted carpeting on the floor. A center armrest in front that snaps down solidly under your arm.

And there's room. Big, open room you can cram to the roof. Seating for six or nine passengers. And underhood—a choice of engines ranging from a frisky Six to an optional, ripsnortin' 426 cubic inch V8. It's a tough combination to beat.

Look 'em over at your Dodge Dealer's. The wagons that have a way with men—Dodge Wagons. Mansized. Man-powered. Eight versions to pick from. (And you might as well bring along your better half. Seems the gals prefer the big, strong, silent type, too.)

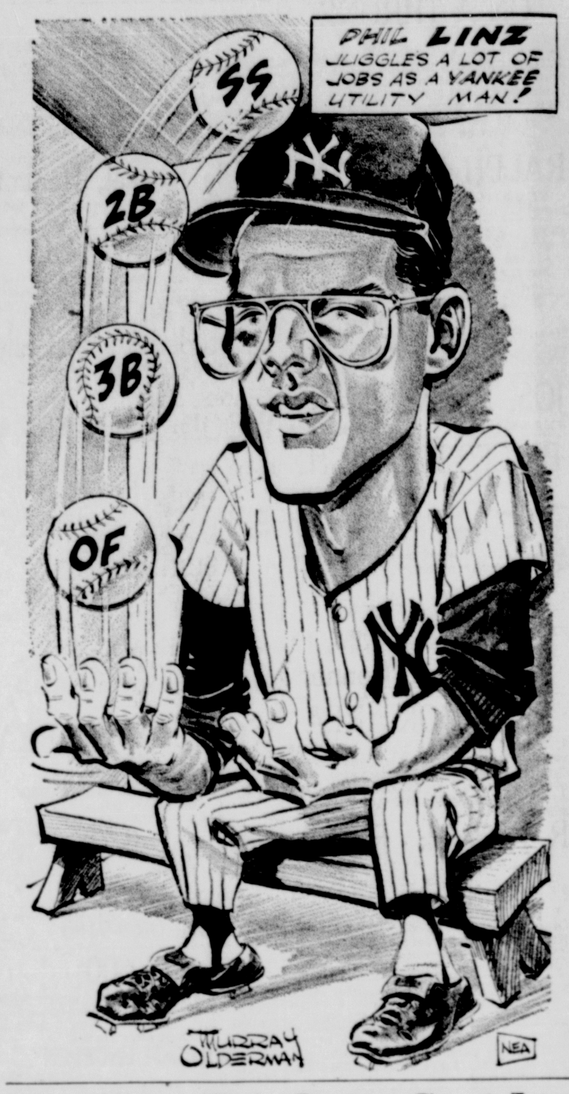
KEEPING BUSY



Koufax Back in Stride, Fans 13 in 2-1 Victory

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax threw 39 strikes. Bob Gibson threw two beanballs and one bat.

Koufax won. Gibson didn't.

Moral: Strikes are more effective — and less expensive.

Koufax, making his first start since injuring his arm April 22, pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-1, 10-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs Monday night, allowing only three hits and striking out 13 in an impressive return.

It was the 52nd time in his major league career that Koufax had struck out 10 or more in a game, leaving him only two 10-strikeout performances away from the record of 54 held by both Rube Waddell and Bob Feller.

Gibson, meanwhile, got involved in the first beanball incident of the season and drew an automatic $50 fine along with Philadelphia's Jack Baldschun. The St. Louis right-hander also left himself open for further action when he was ejected for throwing his bat toward the mound in the fourth inning.

Gibson threw two fast balls at the head of Phillies' pitcher Dennis Bennett in the third inning, apparently in retaliation for Bennett's decking the Cardinals' Julian Javier in the second inning. Gibson drew a warning from plate umpire Doug Harvey —and with it the automatic $50 fine.

Gibson Gets Thumb

Then, in the fourth, with Baldschun on the mound for the Phillies, Gibson was hit in the side by a pitch, and flipped his bat toward the mound. Baldschun immediately drew a warning and the automatic fine while Gibson drew a thumb from Harvey.

Gibson not only lost money—but a victory as well. When he left the Cardinals were leading 5-1 and won 9-2. Gibson, however did not qualify for the triumph because he didn't pitch the required five innings.

Who got the easy victory?

Lucky Roger Craig.

In other National League action, a fight broke out after Milwaukee had edged the New York Mets 2-1 behind Denny Lemaster's two-hit pitching, Willie Mays hit home run No. 10 in San Francisco's 3-2, 12-inning victory over Houston and Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 4-2.

Koufax had a one-hitter going until the eighth when Andre Rodgers tied the score 1-1 with a homer. The Dodgers won in the 10th when Dick Ellsworth, who allowed only eight hits, walked Dick Tracewski, hit Koufax on the foot with a pitch and then was touched for a single up the middle by Maury Wills.

Ken Boyer drove in four runs with a triple and two singles and Curt Flood, Carl Warwick and Tim McCarver collected homers in the Cardinals' victory over the Phillies. Warwick hit his homer, a two-run shot, on the first pitch after Gibson's bat-throwing incident, and Craig had little difficulty holding the 7-1 lead.

At Milwaukee, Lemaster gave up a leadoff homer to Charlie Smith in the first inning, then kept the Mets hitless until the ninth when Ron Hunt poked a one-out single. When Frank Thomas grounded out, H..t raced around third and tried to score on the play. He was doubled up at home, where catcher Ed Bailey held onto the throw despite being knocked down by Hunt.

Bailey started to go after Hunt, but was restrained. However, Rod Kanehl of the Mets, who wasn't in the game, came off the bench and got involved in two short battles. He was jumped on by Len Gabrielson, then tangled with Gene Oliver before the umpires restored order.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

NEW YORK (AP)—Will visibility improve the New York Mets?

Probably not, but the Mets are going to try. They will play their first night game in their new Shea Stadium Wednesday night against the Cincinnati Reds—who started the whole business of getting the baseball troops out of the hot sun, back in 1935.

And the Mets are going to have twice as much light, which is not a bad idea since they are back in the cellar again.

The lights in the new park will be turned on in ceremony just before the game starts. Chief button pusher will be Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., now assistant secretary of commerce, whose President father did the job May 24, 1935.

The Cincinnati park was lighted with eight towers containing 616 bulbs, for the 1935 inaugural. The lamps were about 1,500 watts each, for a total of about one million watts.

Shea Stadium has only two light towers. The other lights are hung on the rim of the roof. There are 1,600 bulbs—half of them mercury and half quartz, giving both brilliant and soft light—in the Shea Stadium system, and they provide about two million watts.

That may still not be enough to make the Mets look good.

Calder Trophy To Laperriere

MONTREAL (AP) — Jacques Laperriere, the young defenseman who helped the Montreal Canadiens to a surprise regular season title, today was named winner of the Calder Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's rookie-of-the-year.

Laperriere collected a total of 117 points in the voting by hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the circuit's six cities. The voting was done after the first half of the campaign, based on games through Dec. 31, and again after the close of the season.

Outlook Eases On Low Water Levels in Systems

TORONTO (AP)— Abnormally low water levels on the Great Lakes and upper St. Lawrence River system have been causing harassment to shipping and concern to waterside industry, but the situation appears to be easing.

Lakes Huron and Michigan have hit an all-time low. Levels on the lakes generally are described by one official as at a "once-in-a-life-time low."

Some larger vessels have been unable to load full cargo and navigate certain channels and ports. Pleasure boating has been hit by stranded docks and navigation obstructions in shallow water.

Fears were expressed for the jobs of up to 1,000 men at the shipyards at Collingwood, Ont. The water there was 3 feet below normal and launchings could become impossible.

With the Niagara River between Lakes Ontario and Erie at its lowest on record, an Ontario hydro spokesman said billions of kilowatt hours of electricity could be lost at the Niagara Falls plant. The St. Lawrence Seaway hydro installation near Cornwall is operating at two-thirds of normal.

An encouraging word has come from the U.S. lakes survey at Detroit, however. It forecasts rises of between one and nine inches for this month.

Ulster Kiwanis Pushes Sale of Circus Tickets

Discussion about the 18th annual presentation of the Von Brothers (formerly Hunt Brothers) Three Ring Circus, under sponsorship of the Ulster Kiwanis Club, marked a meeting of the club's board of directors Monday night in Ang-El's Restaurant.

The circus will play in Kingston on July 6.

Orvil E. Norman, chairman of the event, told club directors that, "Our organization is bringing the world's second largest motorized circus here to enable the children of our community to enjoy a traditionally wholesome form of unique entertainment. Profits derived from sponsoring the circus will go towards our scholarship fund."

Norman said, "Our fund will benefit the greatest from the sale of advance tickets by our members. We receive up to 50 per cent of the proceeds from these tickets. In addition," he said, "patrons purchasing tickets in advance of the circus day will save waiting in line. We are certain that the people of Ulster County will back us 100 per cent in our organization's project."

Hailed as "bigger and better than ever," the 1964 circus edition will again feature scores of imported and domestic circus acts, the traditional pageant spectacles, a steel arena of jungle-bred lions, liberty horses, trapeze chimpanzees, llamas, camels and animal-land fantasies climaxed by the world renowned Von Brothers elephant ballet.

Capitol News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CUBA-RADAR: The Soviets have removed from Cuba a sophisticated new radar system that probably would have increased the effectiveness of Fidel Castro's antiaircraft missiles, U.S. sources said Monday night.

The radar system, which sources said had not been seen anywhere else but in Cuba, was reported withdrawn two or three months ago.

PERIPATETIC: More than 2,000 years ago in Athens, the philosopher Aristotle lectured his pupils on morals, art and politics while walking in his garden, thus founding the peripatetic school.

Now President Johnson comes along to found the peripatetic press conference, leading White House newsmen through his garden while discussing politics, poverty, golf, family and dogs.

A seven-lap conference Monday left some of the score of reporters perspiring and a bit winded but Johnson in full stride.

The costars of the show were Him and Her whose yelps were reported around the world last week when the President lifted the two beagles by their ears.

The two dogs were being walked on a chain and Johnson called them over.

Him rolled over to have his belly scratched. Johnson obliged then lifted both dogs by the ears again while the cameramen took pictures. Someone noted that Him had not yelped and the President replied with a grin:

"He doesn't yelp unless an AP photographer gets too close to him."

U.S.-HUNGARY: The United States and Hungary have agreed to start quiet negotiations aimed at improving relations, authoritative sources reported Monday.

Leaders Confer On Amendments To Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Senate leaders of both parties arranged to confer with Justice Department officials today in an effort to agree on amendments to the House-passed civil rights bill.

"We are going to take a look at the whole package of amendments and see where we can strike an area of agreement," Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said.

With the Senate starting the 48th day of its civil rights debate, Dirksen said the time had come to find out "where we stand."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader and floor manager of the bill, said he was looking for an agreement that would make it possible to get the two-thirds majority necessary to choke off a filibuster by Southern opponents of the bill.

As of now proponents of the bill concede they are short of the required votes—67 if all 100 senators vote.

Work for Reliefers

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A work program for qualified adults who are receiving relief payments from the Binghamton Welfare Department was approved unanimously Monday night by the 13-member City Council.

Under the program, adults on relief could be required — if physically able—to do work for the city, county or state, provided the work already was not being done by government employers.

New Policy on Civil Rights

Methodist Conference Urges Integration at Local Level

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Methodist Church, after spirited debate, has adopted a sweeping policy on civil rights designed to persuade Methodists to abolish racial segregation in their churches and in communities in general.

Delegates to a worldwide General Conference of the Methodist Church approved the policy by a show of hands Monday night.

The policy is embodied in a report by the Committee on Christian Social Concerns. It is now church policy but is not church law.

This means that the policy cannot be enforced by such measures as expulsion or censure.

Highlights of Policy

Some of the highlights of the policy are:

—Pastors and church officials are to open their churches to persons of all races.

—Methodist bodies, organizations and individual Methodists are to use their influence to secure fair employment practices and non-segregated services in the corporations in which they hold investments.

—Equal rights should be provided for voting, law enforcement, education, employment, housing, and public accommodations.

—Elimination of racial segregation, including de facto segregation, in all public and Methodist schools.

The term "civil disobedience" was omitted from a substitute paragraph before the report came to a vote before about 900 delegates.

Substitute Paragraph

The substitute paragraph read in part:

"In some instances, where legal recourse is unavailable or inadequate for redress of grievances from laws or their appplication that, on their face, are unjust or immoral, the Christian conscience will obey God rather than man."

The chairman of the commission which drafted the report, Harold A. Bosley of New York City, told the conference that the substitute portion was not a weaker version.

"We do not intend to give a single inch in endorsing the principle of civil disobedience."

The adoption of the policy came as the conference entered its second week in Pittsburgh. The conference, which meets very four years, is the supreme policy-making body in the church.

Fall From Bed Fatal

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A 2½ month-old girl died at Binghamton General Hospital Monday night as the result of injuries suffered in a fall from a bed a few hours earlier.

The infant, Pamela Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hill, died of a fractured skull, according to Broome County Coroner Vincent M. Maddi.

Moscoso Resigns From AFP Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teodoro Moscoso, a one-time bright star in the Kennedy administration as key man in the Alliance for Progress but shunted to a lesser task by President Johnson, has turned in his resignation.

Johnson disclosed Moscoso's resignation as U.S. representative on the Alliance's Inter-American Committee with a statement Monday which said Moscoso's counsel will be sorely missed by "all who have worked with him in this vast cooperative undertaking."

Moscoso, a Puerto Rican, is resigning to accept an appointment by Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico as a member of a federal commission to study Puerto Rico's future political status, Johnson said.

No motor vehicles are allowed inside the walls of the city of Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.
